STARMOUNT REALTY BOOSTS 'Y' DRIVE

FUND GROWS—The YMCA-YWCA Development Fund grew by an amount of $2500 this past week when Alan Ortlip of the Starmount Realty Co. presented a check to C. Carlton Hartley, former chairman of the fund drive. Ortlip's firm is at present developing the new Lincoln Village South. They recently built Brookside Park at Reynoldsburg, and Scioto Village on S. High-st. A new YMCA building for the Hilltop, South Side and East Side and a new YWCA residence hall will be erected as a result of gifts of this type from public spirited business firms and individuals. Other contributions are still being sought.

Communities Set Down Plans For Exciting Fourth Of July

Queen Judging, Talent Show Precede 9 p.m. Fireworks

Up to 10,000 local residents are expected to jampack West High School's Magley Stadium Saturday evening to watch a star-spangled, four-part Fourth of July celebration sponsored for the community by the Hilltop Lions Club.

Here's the time-table of events as announced by general chairman Robert Bethel:

6 p.m.—Stadium gates open.

6:30 p.m.—a panel of qualified judges will select the "Queen of the Hilltop" from a field of three semi-finalists. The queen will reign at the coming Hilltop Bean Dinner.

7 p.m.—Candidates of four local service organizations—the West Franklin Kiwanis Club, the Hilltop Y's Men's Club, the Hilltop Lions Club, and the Hilltop Kiwanis Club—will be given five minutes each to present a "victory parade," campaign speech or any farcical presentation they might wish to assist their candidate in the "King of the Hilltop" contest.

The winning candidate will be crowned with appropriate ceremonies the first night of the Hilltop Bean Dinner and will reign throughout that community celebration.

7:30 p.m. — A 10-act amateur talent show with winners selected by audience reaction as interpreted by the beauty queen judges and the master of ceremonies. First place winner will receive 25 silver dollars; second place 15 silver dollars, and third place 10 silver dollars.

9 p.m. — Fireworks begin Rockets of all sizes and shapes, gigantic ground pieces, pinwheels and several "surprise" pyrotechnics are on the "menu" that will be offered by the Columbus Display Fireworks Co.

Disc Jockey Assisting

Bill Mertz, former radio disc jockey and new WTVN announcer, will act as the master of ceremonies and promises to keep the program "spinning along." "If there's a pause, I've always got plenty of platters to keep the show moving," he promised.

Bethel said that police patrol cars and personnel would be in the neighborhood shortly after 6 p.m. to handle the traffic to and from the stadium

Prettiest Pony Tails Are Sought

Now is the time . . . for all little aspirants to the title of Pony Tail Princess to think about getting their crowning glories in top-notch shape for the day of judging!

Pony tail contest, sponsored by the Hilltop Record and Rural-Urban News each year, and judged at the Hilltop Bean Dinner, has become a summer-time institution.

Silver dollar prizes are awarded owners of the prettiest pony tails.

Any little girl in the Hilltop Record or Rural-Urban News circulation area, 12 years old or under, may enter by calling the newspapers' office, BR. 4-1155 and registering with Betty Daft.

Five silver dollars will be awarded the first place winner, two silver dollars, second place and one shining cartwheel, the third place winner in each of three age groups.

Age classifications are: one through four, five through eight and nine through 12 years.

The contest will be judged Tuesday afternoon, July 20, at the Bean Dinner.

Georgian Hts. Fun Begins Before Noon

July Fourth doin's at Georgian Heights will begin in a big way at 11 a.m. when Mary Jo Dixon, 898 Georgian-dr, is crowned queen and will lead a parade.

Decorated vehicles, Little Leaguers in their natty uniforms, and perhaps a float or two, will wind through the streets.

From noon until 1 p.m., families will open their picnic baskets at the end of Sexton-dr, near the Sullivant Avenue airfield. Soft drinks will be available.

Following the picnic the queen will select the winners of 10 Westinghouse products. Tickets can be obtained from any member of the Board of Trustees or by calling Robert Roush, BR. 4-0524.

At 2 p.m. a number of games and contests will begin. There will also be horseshoes, softball and badminton.

Sullivant Gardens Residents Promised Rollicking Fourth

A 1 p.m. parade will kick off a busy July 4 program for Sullivant Garden residents.

Prizes will be awarded for the best decorated bicycle, tricycle, wagon, float, baby buggy and costume. A short program will follow.

Sheriff Stacy Hall will speak and the Rev. James Gilbert of the Sullivant Gardens Church of Christ will offer a prayer. Games and contests for everyone and a five-cent cake walk are also scheduled.

Sullivant Gardens ball team will host a contest at 2:30 p.m. and the community's best horseshoe players will be decided. Preliminaries are being held this week.

Judge Robert M. Draper and Harry Drake, coordinator of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority, are assisting a resident committee in planning the day. Scout groups will assist Mrs. Juanita Sims of the recreation center in directing the games. Prizes are being donated by the West Side Kiwanis club and Sullivant Gardens church.

BE ALIVE ON THE FIFTH

Capt. Wade Knight of the city police traffic division, speaking at West Side Kiwanis Club this past Wednesday pointed out that in the one hour while that meeting was going on there had been six people killed in traffic in this country.

On the eve of the Fourth of July holiday it is well that we all repeat this "Traffic Prayer," and pray that we are alive on the Fifth:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father we humbly beseech Thee to look down upon us and guide us safely on the highways of today. Instill in us Thy spirit of love and consideration for our fellow man, so that our action may follow Thy light and with Thy help, we may lessen the loss of life by accident. We seek Thy infinite understanding and mercy.

Amen

Notes and Nubbins: John Adams was responsible for the use of fireworks on the Fourth of July. He advocated sounding off in a big way about our freedom . . . It's real nice to be back on the home front after traveling 9000 miles through the west and we hope to have a series of stories about our trip in this paper soon . . . It's a small world when we run into our almost next door neighbors, the Paul Luggers and Art and Lela Davis, out in the Painted Desert and again at Grand Canyon . . . And ditto when we saw the Hawthorne family at Yellowstone Park . . . A national trade magazine, The Boy's Outfitter, in the June issue reproduced a half page ad from the Hilltop Record and West Side News used by Seiller's back last fall on the occasion of school opening, pointing out that it was a dandy promotion, with which we agree . . . Howard Merriman can take a bow for the previous item . . . Harry Esick, West Side Kiwanis prexy, is considering the installation of a lot of full length mirrors and more telephones in his home after seeing how they do things down in Texas.

Westgate Paving Work Underway

Westgate-av from Wicklow-rd to Palmetto-st was closed off early this week as city crews began paving operations.

It will be the first permanent paving of the length. Some widening is involved and a sidewalk is to go in at Westgate school property. Completion date of the contract is Aug. 31, a city clerk said.

GOODING HEADQUARTERS UNDERWAY

Amusement Firm To Double Capacity At Valleyview Site

Pleasure is a big business item these days, and the Gooding Amusement Co. is facing the challenge.

Late this fall the widely known Columbus firm will double its space and working force when it moves into a 10-acre area at 3178-3260 Valleyview-dr. Now under construction are three buildings—a large brick-faced office building, a spacious air-conditioned factory and a 750 by 100-foot storage shed.

Gooding operations have grown to mammoth proportions. "Right now, the company has 100 complicated amusement rides on 12 circuits touring the country," said Floyd Gooding, president and general manager. "We employ 500 people in the summer, and they travel as far south as Georgia. We also service the rides at Columbus Zoo Park."

Company Scattered Now

Gooding said the move to bigger quarters had to come about. "We have our things scattered about the city and there is no more room," he said. Present offices are at 1300 Norton-av. Many of the company's 150 semi-trailer trucks "winter" at the State Fairgrounds.

"We keep a minimum of 50 men busy all the time with maintenance work," Gooding continued, "and from February to May that force is doubled. The manager said his company manufactures only the smaller 'kiddie" rides, but spends most of its effort in piece-by-piece safety maintenance of the bigger "thrill rides."

"Our reputation rests on our safety record, in fact, we are known to have the lowest insurance rates in the industry because of it," he said proudly.

Gooding, as a young man served his apprenticeship in the maintenance shops and knows that the morale of each workman is important. Because of that he's air conditioning all his new machine shops, and carpenter and painting rooms.

The contractor is the F. and Y. Construction Co.

During his 33 years at Central, he has been advisor to the Chess Club and golf team coach. In 1937, the state championship was awarded his team, which included Jack Kidwell, now manager of Beacon Lights Golf

The familiar quotation is repeated in this week's issue of the newspapers by 16 real estate companies who point out in a special promotion page the advantages of living in the western part of Columbus and Franklin County.

West Hi Music On Dance Card

West High Dance Band will dish out the tunes for the dance for Hilltop teenagers this Friday (8:30 to 11:15 p.m.) at Westgate Park shelterhouse.

It will be the third dance in summer series sponsored by the Hilltop Community Youth Council. Admission is 50 and 75 cents. There will be entertainment at the intermission.

Chaperones will be West High Band Parents and Hilltop 'Y' staffers.

REGAL BEAUTIES—One of the three finalists chosen Thursday night from a field of about 20 entries, will be crowned Queen of the Hilltop July Fourth, and the other two will serve as her court. Selection will be made during the community Fourth of July celebration at West High's Magly Field. The three are, from left, Judie Lowe, Judi Robison and CeCe Dooley. Queen of the Hilltop will receive a trophy and will preside during Bean Dinner events. All three will receive $25 savings bonds.

Queen-Hopefuls Now Number Three

A Queen of the Hilltop will be chosen from the three finalists for the crown at the community's Fourth of July celebration, Saturday at Magly Field Selection will be made early in the program.

In addition, the four candidates for King of the Hilltop will be permitted to make "stump appearances" in their campaign for election to the mythical throne.

The original field of about 20 queen-hopefuls was narrowed to three in elimination judging held at West High last Thursday. Finalists are Judie Lowe, Judi Robison and CeCe Dooley.

One will be named queen by a panel of judges and the remaining two will serve as her court. The girls will make radio and TV appearances to publicize the Hilltop Bean Dinner July 21 and 22.

The four king-candidates, nominated and supported by their service clubs, will campaign in their own behalf during the early part of the program.

Other standings are: Jim Henery, Hilltop Kiwanian, with 1,591; Jim Goudy, West Franklin Kiwanian, 1,124 and P. A. Jackson, Y'sMen, 456.

Voters, by supporting their favorite candidate, have also contributed to the Hilltop YMCA building fund. The $49.64 deposited as votes, will be given to the "Y", as will all funds collected in this manner.

Ballot jars are provided at 24 locations in the area. Voters may help elect their favorite by depositing money in the jar labeled with his name.

Money will be collected and votes counted each week until the contest's conclusion, July 18. Honor, title and trophy will be awarded the winner during the evening of July 21, at the Bean Dinner.

Charles Campbell, Hilltop Business Association secretary, reminds voters: "Folding money counts up faster than pennies."

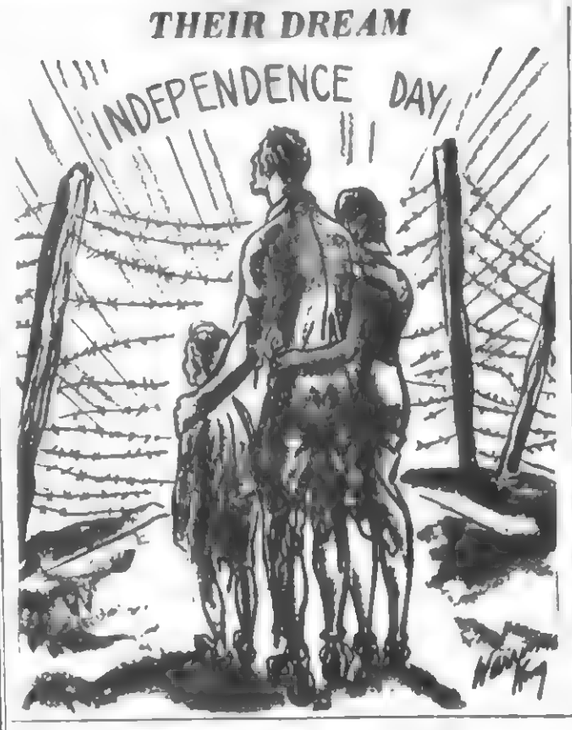
STAY SAFE ON JULY FOURTH

Independence Day and all its festivities are just ahead and now is the time to think about the dangers of fireworks.

According to the law, "fireworks" is defined as any combustible or explosive compound, or any substance or combination of substances, or article or device prepared for the purpose of causing a visible effect, an audible effect, or ascension into the air by combustion, explosion, deflagration, or detonation.



No person within the state shall manufacture, have, keep, store, discharge, ignite, explode, sell, offer for sale, give, or deliver any "fireworks" to any person.

But children can still have their fun with toy cap shooting devices in which paper caps containing not more than twenty-five hundredths grains of explosive compound are used, and provided that those devices are made so as not to allow the hands to come in contact with the exploding caps.

Everyone can enjoy fireworks since permits are issued to organizations that hold public fireworks displays in many places throughout the area on the 4th of July.

Observe the law, and enjoy a safe and sane holiday.

THEIR DREAM

BIBLE COMMENT

Jesus' Humanity Told In New Testament Story

It is noteworthy that the Gospel of John, which proclaims the divine nature of Jesus of Nazareth as the Eternal Christ, the Word which was in the beginning with God, and which was God — doctrinal facts which it is hard for the human mind to comprehend — presents the human Jesus, the man among men, in incidents as vivid as and even more revealing than anything in the former three synoptic Gospels.

Perhaps the most striking incident in the human contacts of Jesus, is the long story of the meeting of Jesus with the Woman of Samaria.

The most significant point of the story in what Jesus said concerning true worship — words that unfortunately are all too much neglected in emphasis upon places:

"Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father. God is a Spirit: and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." That is a very high point of all that the New Testament contains.

But, the minor incidents of the story also are interesting and revealing in a very human way.

The Divine Man is revealed in all the wonderment of His life among men.

They give us true insight into the earthly life of Jesus.

Don't forget to call in that news item—BR. 4-1156.

TRAVELERS—"Paul" Paulson, right and George Angelo have completed plans for a three-months' visit to their homeland in Castoria, Greece. The two will leave July 10.

Hilltopper To Visit His Native Greece

Naum "Paul" Paulson, 121 S. Terrace-av, a familiar figure on the Hilltop for the past 24 years, will leave July 10 on the first leg of a "sentimental journey home" to his birthplace in Castoria, Greece.

Accompanied by his good friend, George Angelo, also a native of Castoria, he will fly to New York to board a plane for Zurich, and then change to one bound for Athens.

They will return on Oct. 22.

Paulson, an employe of the Biltmore Restaurant for nearly a quarter of a century, was 18 when he arrived in America 47 years ago. An uncle, living in Missouri, arranged for his entry into the country.

Feeding Second Generation

As "right-hand man" to Biltmore's owner George Phillips, and manager of Phillips' Broad Hague Restaurant, Paul speaks proudly of "seating children of the folks I lifted into high chairs 24 years ago."

The trip is planned as a complete surprise for Paul's brother, Christo, still living in Castoria. Christo, six years younger than Paul, was only a boy when Paul left for America.

George Angelo, Paul's companion on the trip, and lifelong friend, was also born in Castoria. He came to America four years after Paul. He works at the High-Fulton Restaurant and lives at 141 E. Town-st.

Angelo's mother, now 80, is living in Yugoslavia, and the two plan to visit her while abroad.

Castoria is located on a large lake filled with fish and "all the fish I can eat, fresh each day," is one of the things Paul is anticipating.

He also adds, only half-jokingly, "I may even find a wife there."

Engineer Defines Broad-st Detour

A 30-day detour route at W. Broad-st and Sandusky-st, caused by expressway construction, has been the cause of some confusion for motorists.

John L. Gallagher, traffic engineer, explains the temporary route: Southbound motorists from the Spring-Sandusky interchange go south on Sandusky to River-st, west on River to Souder-av, south on Souder to Scott-st, east on Scott to Davis-av and south on Davis to Broad-st.

Northbound motorists go north on Grubb-st from Broad-st to Scott-st, then west on Scott to Sandusky-st.

Les Wilson Wins $500 From Kroger

Good fortune has again struck Leslie Wilson, 2077 Palmetto-st, 1959 National Distributive Education Student of the Year.

The recent West High graduate will receive a special Kroger Foundation cash award of $500 within the next few days. Young Wilson had applied for the company's Ohio grant. After he won the national title in May he became eligible for Kroger's national prize, instead.

Money won by Wilson now totals $1550. As top DE student he qualified for $1000 from the National Sales Executives Clubs. Then came the Sears Foundation prize of $50 as top DE student in Ohio.

Leslie's tuition to Ohio State University next year has been assured, too. The university granted his request for a waiver of $200 in first-year tuitions. The amount is renewable if high grades are maintained.

Dozens Audition for Show

Kay Smith, widely-known talent impressario and West Side resident, said that she had interviewed or auditioned more than three dozen acts for the talent show.

"We want to be certain that only the top talent appears," she declared. "It may be as late as Saturday afternoon before the bill is completed."

Concessions under the stand will be operated by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hilltop Lions Club and will offer ice cream, hot dogs, pop corn, pop and candy. Lions Slo-Pitch softball team will sell cold drinks in the stands.

Posters In Buses, Subways Concern Former Hilltopper

Harold B. Mers

Harold B. Mers, a Hilltop son who had a flair for journalism, has found his niche in New York's vast public relations realm.

He is the newly appointed president of the National Association of Transportation Advertising.

A son of the late Marvin Mers, he lived at 497 Wrexham-av until about 10 years ago. His widowed mother, Ethel, now lives with a daughter in Troy. An uncle, Charles T. Mers, lives at 218 Elden-av.

News of Mers' appointment was spotted by Paul Wichterman, 500 N. Powell-av, in a recent issue of Printers' Ink, weekly journal of the advertising and marketing industry. While a student at Ohio State around 1947, young Mers was a parttime writer for the Hilltop Record, then edited by Wichterman. He was also a graduate of West High School.

The magazine related that Mers is the first paid president hired to revitalize NATA. He is spearheading a research program on bus posters, with an eye to promoting greater creativity in the medium. NATA members handle about three fourths of the transit ad volume in the country, Printers' Ink wrote.

In the intervening years he has worked with various news services, and has done research and promotions for several New York publishing and advertising firms.

Concerning his new work he was quoted: "It's a long way from the Broadway director I intended to be when I hit New York."

The Russells', of 388 Letchworth-av, are planning to move to Florida's west coast early next year. They will leave a son and two grandchildren, who live near Chicago.

Letters To The Editor

Mr. Kennedy Salutes West Alums Of '34

To the Editor:

"Perhaps some of the West High class of 1934 could be interested in the enclosed lines. I couldn't help writing them after their reunion banquet last night (June 13)." (Ed. note: C. S. Kennedy, 4338 Bright-rd, Dublin, retired two years ago [illegible] teaching drafting 36 years in Columbus schools. He joined the West faculty in 1925.)

THE CLASS OF 1934
On Their 25th Reunion
June 13, 1959

You were wonderful last night,
Students of early West;
Remember, we turned you adrift at the crest
Of the economic flood of the [illegible]
In the midst of uncertain mists, to say the most,—
And you charted a safe course to the coast.

Now, with a quarter century gone —
Still the wonderful smile of youth
Lingers there on your lips
Ready to break to a happy laugh
Like the blooming of tulips;
In your hearts the most joyous songs,
A steadfast faith in each other
Forgotten are the wrongs.

Did you see the sparkle in the eyes of the girls?
Bright as the moonlight air!
Couldn't you feel the courage in the hearts of the men?
It will always be there
Aye—'tis America in the making.
The making of America great.

Oh! The years were long and the going rough,
The depression days particularly tough.
But aren't you glad you're in U.S.A.
And live out here Columbus way?
Isn't it wonderful to be on the Hilltop?
Just to know your a grad of old West High
With the class of Thirty-four?
Just Wonderful!

SNUG SHELTER — Don Weber, Route 1, Galloway, displays the apex with which he sets up his truck tent. He collaborated on the invention with a friend, Richard Beck, 586 Westphall-rd, Whitehall, who actually built it.

Dale Hollow Exciting —Except For Fishing

Don Weber, Route 1, Galloway, reports that everything was fine down at Dale Hollow Lake for the past two weeks but the fishing. The Webers just returned from a vacation at the famous Tennessee lake, where they camped in a remote area along a scenic sandy beach.

With the Webers were the Francis Bakers, W. Jefferson, and the Lewis Traube, 481 Wrexham-av.

Nationally known for its smallmouth bass and walleye fishing, Dale Hollow just hasn't lived up to its reputation this spring. While the area campers were there they heard of just one walleye, a 17-pounder, being caught on the lake. Only a few bass were caught, and these were small.

About the only action, according to Weber, was from crappies and white bass. Don caught crappies using a spinner, and others in the party took them with live bait. The white bass, called strippers down there, were being caught in the same manner.

"The biggest fish I saw," said Don, "was a pet bass at one of the boat docks. He lived around the minnow tanks right out in the lake, and could always be observed there. The people have named him Jimmy, and reported that he had been caught several times. Since he is tagged, fishermen always return him to the lake. Jimmy looked like he would weigh about five pounds."

Try New Camping Rig

One of the exciting features of the trip for Weber, his wife, Ginny, and daughter, Pam, was the trial of their new camping rig built on a Goliath truck. A bed, complete with mattress, comes out of the truck like a bureau drawer. This leaves the entire truck bed as living area. Sleeping area and living space are, of course, under canvas.

When in transit, the top of the tent acts as a protective cover for gear loaded on the truck bed. When a campsite is reached, the "tent" is set up in a matter of minutes. One of the TVA officials at Dale Hollow told the Webers that it was one of the snappiest camping rigs he had ever seen — and he'd seen plenty.

"This first trip was a trial run," says Don Weber, "and we found a couple of things we want to change. There are some additions we want to make, too. But on the whole we were very well pleased. The first night there our rig was put to a severe test in a hard rainstorm, but we were high and dry the whole time."

Even though fishing was a bit disappointing, the campers had a wonderful trip. The three camps were set up on a narrow spit of land that jutted out in the water. They were in a wilderness section, and no other campers were encountered. Water and other supplies were obtained at boat docks. The nearest town was five miles away. Practically the whole area surrounding the large lake is available to campers. The land is owned by the U. S. Army Engineers, and much of it is really wild.

When fish weren't biting, time was spent in boating and swimming. It is only a nine-hour trip from here, and the Webers are looking forward to the day they can return in their "camping truck."

SAUSAGES FOR SUMMER

Are you looking for quick and easy foods for meals during the holiday weekend? More than 100 different sausage meats are available to offer good flavor and food value to summer meals. These relatively inexpensive "buy a pound—serve a pound" meats may be served hot or cold, alone or combined with other foods.

What is Sausage Meat? — While sausage is usually thought of a fresh ground pork, any meat that has been ground or chopped is called sausage. Beef, pork, and veal usually are used. Thinner carcasses, trimmings, and edible by-products are used. The meat used for most varieties is given a light cure, ground or chopped, and mixed with different spices for flavor.

A binder of corn flour, potato flour, rice flour, crackers, or dry skim milk is used to hold the sausage together, improve texture, and absorb water. Sausage made under government inspection can have up to 3.5 percent binder.

Chipped ice is also added to most sausage to prevent "heating." The limits on this under government inspection is three percent for uncooked sausage, and up to 10 percent for cooked [redacted].

After it is made the sausage is stuffed into natural or artificial casings. The natural casing is eaten, while the artificial kind is peeled off after processing.

Kinds Available — fresh, cooked and dry sausages are the three major types available.

Fresh sausages made of uncured meat have not been cooked when purchased. They usually are not smoked. Keep this kind as any fresh meat—covered in the refrigerator. Pork sausage and hamburger are the most popular of this kind. These need to be cooked before eating.

Cooked sausages are made of lightly cured meat, are cooked, and usually are smoked. The frankfurter and bologna are the most popular of these. These can be cooked, or eaten as purchased.

Dry sausages are mostly made of cured beef and pork. Most are cooked, some are smoked, and all are dried to some extent. Thus, their keeping quality is excellent. Salami, cervelat, thuringer are examples of this kind.

The three best guides to quality are:
- the Federal Inspection Stamp
- the label
- the brand name.

The Federal Inspection Stamp shows the sausage has been made of wholesome food under sanitary conditions. The label gives a list of ingredients (in the order of pre-dominance), the name and address of the manufacturer, and weight of the package. The brand name is important because manufacturers try to maintain consistent quality.

Did You Know — that more than 12 percent of all the meat produced is sausage? In a 1955 Food Consumption Survey, about half of the meat used was in a processed form — hamburger, [redacted] frankfurters, [redacted] meats, etc. And farm families ate almost as much of these kinds of meat as city families did.

YMCA 'Little Nines' Swarm Valleyview Ball Diamonds

Last week the Hilltop YMCA Little "9" baseball leagues played a full slate of games. All boys who attended preliminary sessions were assigned to teams. Games this year are being played on the Hilltop "Y" diamond on Valleyview-dr.

The Dodgers edged the Braves 5-4. They were forced to shut off a last inning rally and Don Young went the distance on the hill for the victory.

The Pirates edged the Phillies 2-1 as both teams were limited to three hits. Bill Holt turned back a last inning rally in which the Phillies threatened to tie.

The last game in the league for boys eight to 10 went eight innings before the winner was decided. The Cubs triumphed 4 to 3 over the Giants as Joe Wilson slammed a triple to score a runner for the final tally. George Puchovich was the winning pitcher in relief and also collected two hits to pace his time.

Leach Hurls No-Hitter

In one of the best pitched games ever held in the Little "9" the Yankees edged the White Sox 1-0 as Bob Leach hurled a no-run, no-hit game. Darrel Rohrer lost a heart breaker as he allowed the only hit of the game, a double by Skip Sanfor. The Yankees scored the only run in the third inning as they capitalized on one of two White Sox errors. Leach ended the game strong as he struck out the last six man he faced.

The league test for boys 11 to 13 showed the Indians edging the Tigers 2-0. Roger Nelson went the distance to defeat Dan Donaldson, the Tiger hurler. Donaldson collected two of his teams three hits.

The Orioles edged the Senators 3 to 2. The Senators took a 2-0 lead in the first two innings, but the Orioles scored three runs in the fifth inning as Dick Smith tripled with the bases loaded. Mike Uldricks cinched the victory while Jim Hughes was tabbed with the loss.

YMCA Slo-Pitch Sluggers Active At Westgate Park

Hilltop Y's popular Slo-Pitch leagues for men are in full swing, with four and five games under their belts. The Church league plays on Tuesday evenings and the Club loop on Wednesdays at Westgate Park.

As of June 29 the Club league was led by the Westgate VFW with a perfect 4-0. Following in order were Hilltop Lion 4-1, Northway VFW 3-1, Columbia Heights Methodist 2-2, Hilltop Y's Men 1-3, Westminster Presbyterian, 1-4, and Lincoln Village Baptist, 0-5.

Last week's results found Hilltop "Y" over Lincoln Village Baptist in a "low-scoring squeaker," 17-16; Westgate VFW nipping Hilltop Lions 5-3; and Columbia Hts. Methodist over Westminister 11-7. Northway VFW had a bye.

As of the same date the Church league is being paced by West Park Methodist with an unblemished 5-0 mark; followed by Hillcrest Baptist 4-1, Westgate EUB 3-2, Glenwood Methodist 2-3, Hoge Memorial 2-3, Westgate Methodist 1-4 and Burgess EUB 1-5.

The latter loop's results last week showed West Park over Westgate EUB 11-9, Westgate Meth. over Glenwood Meth. 7-5 and Hillcrest Baptist over Burgess EUB 10-9. Hoge had the bye.

Tonight (Wed.) in the Club loop Lincoln Village Baptist meets Northway VFW, Columbia Hts. Meth. takes on Westway VFW, and Westminister tackles Hilltop Y's Men. Hilltop Lions have the bye. Next Wed. evening finds the following encounters on the docket; Columbia Hts. vs Hilltop Lions, Westminister vs Northway VFW, Hilltop Y's Men vs Westway VFW and Lincoln Village with a bye.

This week's games in both loops mark the end of the first round. Second round starts next week.

Next Tuesday eve's agenda for the Church division finds West Park vs Westgate Meth., Westgate EUB vs Burgess EUB, Hoge Memorial vs Glenwood Meth. and Hillcrest Baptist with the bye.

Ruths Still Trying

The Hilltop Kiwanis Babe Ruth squad kept their record "clean" last Saturday as they lost again - - to the Northwest Mounties (from Upper Arlington), 7-4.

With the Hilltop lad's first string receiver Dick Williamson on the road for three weeks, they suddenly found themselves weakened by inexperience at the catching slot. They were guilty of four pass balls and permitted the Mounties to pilfer 10 bases. Tom Wuertz suffered his third setback of the campaign (Mike Porter has the other loss).

The Mounties are coached by the highly respected and very popular Dale Rose. A former West High coach and now in business tho still a noted area football, basketball and baseball official, Rose is a favorite sports figure. He is the 1959-60 president of the Central Ohio Basketball Officials Association.

The Hilltoppers meet Franklin Heights, there, Saturday, the Fourth, at 1:30 p.m.

Hilltop YMCA and Westgate Park are cooperating to revive a program for boys 12-14-15, that was active here on the Hilltop until two years ago. It is the Little-Bigger baseball league that plays every Thursday afternoon (around 3) at both Westgate Park diamonds. All interested boys should sign up with Bert Kerte at the 'Y' or Bob Wilcox at the Westgate playground. The first games will be Thursday, July 9.

Fredendall Shows Well

Columbus chapter of DeMolay took undisputed leadership in their league last Sunday with a 13-11 thriller over Olympia chapter from Grandview.

Columbus was paced by right fielder Ed Fredendall who had 3-4 including a double and two RBIs including the winning run. He is currently batting .800. Also chipping in both offensively and defensively was centerfielder Dave Ewing with six put outs and 3-3 at the plate. They play Newark Moundbuilders next Sunday afternoon at Westgate Park.

Playing in the Thursday eve church league, they didn't fare as well last week, losing to West Park, 10-5. This Thursday at Westgate they tackle unbeaten Hoge Memorial, and an upset here by the DeMolay could conceivably throw them into a three-way tie for first . . . IF . . .

The Camp Chase Legion nine finally came through last Wednesday evening as they dumped Capital City, 13-8. First sacker Mike Cantlon paced the attack as he has suddenly started to pound the ball. He had 4-4 including 2 doubles and a triple.

Sunday they reverted to their old ways, i.e. bobbles and general sloppy fielding. Columbus Post No. 2 took their measure 10-3 as Chase's hurlers in particular had a hard time getting the ball across the plate. They were guilty of three hit batsmen, allowed seven walks while their backing was guilty of four errors.

In Columbus' big sixth inning when they scored seven times, Chase gave up three walks, two hit batsmen and three errors. As coach Bill Haire put it, "It wasn't so much their hitting that hurt us, but we just walked 'em around."

The only bright spot for Chase was Cantlon's triple in the third that drove in two runs. He was nipped at home trying to stretch it. He also drove deep to their centerfielder who took the ball standing at the base of the stadium at Magly Field.

Defensively the bright spot was the pitching of 15-year-old Bill Hunter, recently of Hilltonia Junior High. Relegated to the bench warming so far this season, he was called in in their big sixth and not only put the fire out, but pitched scoreless ball, allowing only one hit, the rest of the way.

They play Smith-Barratt No. 249 this Wednesday (tonight) at West in a traditional game (249 consists mainly of Central players so should be a game of interest to all Westsiders). Chase then travels to Bexley next Sunday.

This week we are extending coverage to the Smith-Barratt Post 249 American Legion team coached by Paul Lewis and containing Central High players for the most part. Their record in the Legion Gold League is 3-3.

They took two on the chin last week after being previously unbeaten. On Wednesday, Southway measured them 4-1 and on Sunday Capital City nipped them in an old fashioned slugfest, 11-10. For the losers, Sunday, shortstop Ed Pertee had a 4-6 day at the plate. They play Camp Chase at West tonight and have a bye next Sunday. In dropping the pair, they outhit both.

Hartley Newspapers Join Select Audit Body

Circulation Will Be Verified By National Auditing Group

Hartley Newspapers have joined with other community weekly newspapers throughout the United States in subscribing to an audit to be made by the Newspaper Division of the Verified Audit Circulation Company (VAC), it was announced today by C. Carlton Hartley, publisher.

The audit of the circulation of community newspapers by VAC, as Verified Audit Circulation Company is known, is a great step forward because for the first time advertisers will have audited circulation figures put on a standard form by a nationally recognized circulation auditing firm.

"We feel that in time VAC's audits will bring us the same recognition that ABC has brought to the wholly paid publishing field," said Hartley.

VAC members will issue an audit report on VAC forms once a year. At least once per year VAC, without warning, will send in a team of skilled circulation auditors to observe distribution from newsprint rolls to delivered newspapers and make a scientifically controlled field audit with the people in the area served. VAC will then issue a newspaper audit report for that year, and will permit the VAC symbol to be used by subscribing newspapers only after the audit report is released.

Operation of VAC's controlled circulation division is directed by four Boards of Governors: National, (Western) Regional (Middle Atlantic) Regional and New England Regional. Each board consists of four members who are representatives of controlled circulation newspapers, three are representatives of regional advertisers and three are representatives of advertising agencies.

National Board of Governor members include: Alfred S. Gusin, Director of Advertising, Karastan Rug Mills, New York.

Robert C. Wayne, Sales Manager, Jensen Industries, Los Angeles, Calif.

C. Stuart Siebert, Jr., Vice President, Keyes and Eckhardt, Inc., Illinois.

Fred Olsen, Media Director, Hixson and Jorgensen Adv., California.

William Stouffer, Co-Publisher, American Laundry Digest, Ill.

Paul Amundsen, Editor, World Ports and The Mariner, Washington, D. C.

Frank Howatt, Publisher, Western Grower and Shipper, California.

Representing regional advertisers: Leonard Jick, Advertising Manager, Thrifty Drugs; R. L. Kokkelenberg, Advertising Manager of Sears, Roebuck and Company, Donald Conrey of Thriftimart-Fitzsimmons.

Newspaper representatives on the Board: Gerald Deal, Deal Publications, Chairman; Oran T. Aas, News Herald and Bulletin News Publications; Maurice Markham, Van Nuys News; C. Deane Funk, West Los Angeles Independent, Westwood Hills Press and The Roberts News.

VAC is operated by The John B. Knight Company, a marketing research organization since 1937. VAC has been in existence for seven years in the business paper field, and two years in the community weekly newspaper field.

Witnesses Vote Opposition To Argentine Ban

Columbus West congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses was told Friday night (June 26) that Witnesses in Argentina have been denied their constitutional rights of free assembly and worship.

A vote of protest was taken and plans discussed to petition the Argentine Republic to correct the restrictions laid on the religious group's activities.

Daniel C. Held, the congregation's presiding minister, said that in spite of "many liberal advancements" made in the Argentine since dictator Peron's ouster, a few non-Catholic religious groups that were declared illegal by Peron have yet to be recognized by the new president, Arturo Frondizi.

According to Held, four appeals for recognition have been denied by the two remaining.

The West unit is constructing a new Kingdom Hall at 501 Josephine-av and holds five evening meetings a week, on Sundays, Tuesday and Thursdays. A dedication of the building is anticipated this fall.

We also appreciate your cooperation with the work of our committee, Summer Jobs for Teen-agers, in that you carry articles helpful to the young people and also to make your readers aware of these types of needs.

Pet Shows, Doll Parades, Playday Spark Activity At West Area Playgrounds

Throngs of youngsters are found at local playgrounds as city-supervised programs entered the third week. Following are highlights submitted by the various areas:

At 2 p.m. Thursday, July 2, Glenwood Recreation Center, 1025 W. Broad-st, will be host to 13 other Hilltop and West Side playgrounds at annual "Playday." An afternoon of competitive games is planned.

At Westgate . . .

Activity is at full speed at Westgate Park playground. Every Monday, Mary Gillen will teach beginning and intermediate bowling at Old Trail lanes from 1 to 3 p.m. Cost is 30 cents a game and shoes will be furnished free. The registrants, age 9 to 15, must furnish their own transportation.

In cooperation with the Y, a boys' 13-14-15 year old hardball league will play each Thursday afternoon at Westgate. To sign up see Bob Wilcox at the park, or Bert Kertz at the "Y". Play begins July 9.

The park is also seeking boys and girls to compete in the South Sectional Track and Field Meet, July 8. Boys 15 and under are also needed for the park's softball team. They will practice Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 3:30. First game is Friday at Westgate at 6 p.m. against Kingswood. See Bob Wilcox or Phil Fulton.

The Teens Club is holding its first big event of the season, tonight (Wednesday), at Hall Ridge—a swimming party and picnic. All teeners (over 13) are eligible to go by signing at the park. The Pre-Teens meet every Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p.m. The Science Club meets every Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Four girls' softball teams have been organized under Miss Gillen. They opened their 1959 schedules this week against Burroughs and Holtes.

Westgate kids and personnel will go to Glenwood for annual Playday tomorrow (Thursday), from 12:30 to 8:30. Mr. Fulton will co-direct.

Winners in Westgate's Pet Show last Wednesday were: Cats—Dick Merrick, Lisa Merrick, Louie Grilli, Anette Clark, Christiana Stauch. Rodents — Marilyn Roth, Kristy Roth, Tim Murnane.

Birds—Linda Barnhart. Dogs — Sue Slane, Cathy Schnitzer, Elaine Rogan, Judy Reese, Dan Scheskey, Chuck Wright, Pat Fraser. Cold Blooded Animals —Sue Hoffman.

The park still needs Junior Jet baseballers, age 8 to 12. Boys can sign up anytime the area is open. This week both leagues are having exhibition games and start league warfare next week. There are now six major teams and six minors. Minors play at 1:30 and majors at 6. Watch the "Sports of Sorts" column for league results.

At Hauntz . . .

A doll contest is planned for Hauntz playgrounds, Columbian and Springmont-avs, Friday, July 3, at 3 p.m.

Judges will be Sue Hennick, Sue Poly, Carol Diedrich, Rachel Gallentine, Ruth Anne Martin, Paula Morrow, and Barbara Hart.

Three awards will be given in the following categories: Best all-around doll, prettiest, funniest, most original, best foreign, biggest, smallest, oldest, best groomed and cutest. Children of the Hilltop are invited.

Seven junior jet teams have been organized at Hauntz this summer. Games will be played Monday through Friday, 5 to 8:30 p.m.

Guys and Dolls Club, now meeting at Hauntz, every Monday, 6:30 p.m., is planning a swimming party and wiener roast at Indian Village Camp.

Manager of the junior girls softball team is Carol Diedrich, 390 Wrexham-av. Players are: Susan Schaefer, Sue Poly, Sue Hennick, Sandy Weisenbery, Paula Morrow, Cynthia Echols, Pam Courter, Sandy Rusicka, Rachel Gallentine, Connie Friend, Nancy Friend, Shirley Troutman, Karen Gibson, Karen Bishop, and Sheila Page. The girls won their first practice game, June 24, against Sullivant Gardens, 17 to 12.

A mixed volleyball team is now being organized by Bonnie Morrow and Ruth Martin. It will play every Tuesday, 6:30 p.m.

Playground supervisors this summer at Hauntz are Millie Green and John Stanley.

At Burroughs . .

There is something to keep everyone happy at John Burroughs' playground.

For the boys, baseball is dominant; 11 Junior Jet teams have been organized. Six are for boys 10 to 12; the rest for boys eight and nine. They start action next week.

The girls have shown a great interest in softball also. Practices are held three days a week. The Juniors (eight to 11) are managed by Janet Doycheff; the Intermediates (12 through 15) by Frankie Daily.

The children have been making potholders and lanyards and enjoy a daily sing. Three of the Burroughs entrants walked off with pet show prizes. All dog owners there were Kathy Clark, Gale and Carol Ward, and Steve Caito.

On Thursday, July 2, 20 boys and girls from John Burroughs will attend the "Playday" to be held at Glenwood. There is still time to sign up.

Wednesday evening has been designated Parents' Night. There will be activities such as horseshoes, volleyball, and softball. A large turnout of adults every week is desired.

At McKinley . . .

Eugen Bay and Karen Greenwood, supervisors, opened McKinley playground with one hundred members. From the 34 girls, Miss Greenwood has organized the following into a Junior (nine to 12 years.) softball team: Mary Blessing, Lorraine Brocksfield, Jennita Garnes, Agnes Harper Donna Jennings, Dinaan Littler, Sharon Miller, Marsha Payne, Rosemary Pierson, Linda Righter, Donna and Marie Simmerman, Mary Sue Strickler, and Nihki Valentino. These girls played their first game against Highland, Wednesday.

The group has also enjoyed arts and crafts, wading, softball, a pet show, and a play day. Assistants in these were Sharon Miller and Rosemary Pierson; crafts, Gary Woodford, gimp; Donna Simmerman and Linda Righter, wading pool; and Brent Pierson and Don Darst, general assistants.

Many of the boys and a few of the girls are starting physical fitness tests in time for a sectional track meet July 9.

All are looking forward to the Lantern Parade, the week of 13. McKinley's theme will be "Cinderella."

At Holton . . .

Holton Park has four softball teams, two for boys and two for girls, eight to 15 years of age. This week each Holton team has a game to look forward to. The schedule follows; against Highland, Tuesday at 2 p.m. (int. boys); vs. Sunshine, Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. (junior boys); vs. Highland, Monday at 6 p.m. (int. girls); vs. Westgate II, Tuesday at 6 p.m. (junior girls). All of Holton's games will be played at home this week.

KIDS ! ! ! Don't miss the Traveling Zoo. It will be at Holton on Wednesday, July 8, between 3 and 5 p.m.

Holton will take part in the annual play day at Glenwood Park, July 2.

Each afternoon Holton features a craft period. There are all types of sports and games during the day. All children are welcome.

Chicago Avenue

The first week of participation at Chicago Avenue playground showed a daily attendance of about 280 children.

During this time, two boys' and one girls' softball teams have been organized. Such activities as volleyball, painting, paddle tennis, and lanyard braiding have been the highlights.

The sectional pet show June 25 at Glenwood Center attracted two cats, one dog and a goldfish from the Chicago playground area.

The traveling Zoo visited the area June 29.

Day Camp is a special activity offered to all children, eight through 12. It is held at Indian Village on the north side. The children meet at Sullivant Gardens where a bus takes them to camp each day for a week from 9 a.m. to around 5 p.m. in the evening. Children take their lunches and a fee of $2.00 a week helps cover the cost. Anyone interested in Day Camp should contact one of the playground leaders.

At Sunshine . . .

A rock-and-roll dance will be held at Sunshine Recreation Center every Thursday from 7:30 to 10 p.m. with special disc jockeys, entertainment, and prizes.

There will be dancing under the stars on many evenings. All teen-agers in the Sunshine area are invited.

Sunshine Park opens at 12:30 with flag raising followed by an afternoon of arts and crafts, a wading pool, girls' softball and plenty of games and equipment. A weekly special event is featured. On July 13 is the annual Lantern Parade; track meet is July 20 and a drama festival is July 27.

At Dana . . .

Things are going smoothly at Dana playground. Pet show last Wednesday was a great success. Here are the winners: Mary Deal's Great Dane "Star" walked off with two blue ribbons; having top-rated dogs were: Jerry Humphrey, John Patterson, Donna Shank and Gary Chamberlain.

Best cats: Sue Kerting and Cheryl Trone. Gary West's two goldfish won the most unusual. Other prize winners were Bill Clark, Sally Miller, Karen Weikert, Kathy Wilson, Mary Cook, Steve Clemons, Harold Grady, Robin Lynch, Mike Clemons and Belinda Betk.

At the district pet show, "Star" won in the biggest category; Jerry Humphrey's "Fluffy" won 'Cutest,' and Karen Weikert's "Jimmy" was the 'best performer.'

A new attraction has been weight-lifting. Dana has a 200 pound set of weights, including a solid 100-pound dumbbell which no one can lift. But, Bob and Doc Simpson, Eddie Rowe and Bob Carrico are making progress in that direction. So watch out for the muscle men at Dana!

This Thursday, July 2, Dana youngsters will go to Glenwood's Playday.

Here's a correction for an unpardonable error' made last week. We should have said Bill Long, instead of Bill Chamberlain was one of our best checker players. (Bill Long told us it was unpardonable.)

At Highland . . .

Highland playground had a large attendance at its opening June 17.

The Oakley Avenue Baptist Church's Boy Scouts conducted the flag ceremonies. The Scouts were Jerry Clayton, Eddie Walker, Steven Rutledge, Jimmy Bradley and Lawrence Stewart.

Winners in games and contests were: Joan Denman, Helen Reynolds, Willie Smith, Alice Willis, Leon Frendl, Alice Fields and John O'Neal.

Jerry Clayton, Arthur Wilson, Kay Williams, Marsha Bryant, Jackie Biggers, Peter Conrad, Cheryl Bryant, Christine Wallace, Nicholas Mays, Kenny Butler, Richard Moore, Jim Bradley, Danny Dalton and Rita Whittaker.

The Traveling Zoo will visit Highland at 2 p.m. Wednesday, July 1. There are many activities every day. Leaders are Bernard Binns and Rosa Trigg.

At West Mound

On June 17 the West Mound School playground opened. This year the advisors are Judy Johnson and Chuck Meacham. The assistant supervisors are Connie Shulse, Connie Conrad, Ronnie McCalla, and Mike Skinner. Father Schmidt of St. Agnes School led the group in prayer during the flag raising ceremony.

The PTA furnished very nice prizes for the winners of contests. Winners were: Cathy Kaufman, Allen Trippet, Donnie Crites, Janice Hoist, Tina Barele, Paul Mohler, Roger Johnson, Kenneth Winslow, Jon Williams.

Patricia Russilli, Debbie Maggiore, Joy Lusader, David New, Charles Overcastle, Charlene Bocook, Patty Durbon, Susan Califf; bicycle parade: Ruth Knott, Gary Williams.

The teenagers sponsored a record hop June 19. Ronnie McCalla and Don Harness entertained.

Another hop will be held at West Mound School on July 3, 7 to 10 p.m. It will have a 4th of July theme and is open to everyone 13 and over. Music will be the top tunes of the day.

On June 29 a successful cookout was held at the playground. Others will be held every Tuesday at 6 p.m.

Fine softball equipment is available. The only thing lacking is enough girls for a team. If interested, see Connie Shulse, Connie Conrad, or Sharon Savage at West Mound School.

A talent show will be presented on 'Community Night,' July 7 at the school. Try-outs will be given soon. There will be singing, dancing and other entertainment by the boys and girls, plus a wiener roast.

The playground is open Monday through Friday from 12:30 to 8:30 for children six and over.

DEATH IS NO PICNIC

How many Americans will die as a result of auto accidents over the 4th of July?

Automobile Traffic Deaths are expected to hit 300 or more over the Fourth of July holiday period. An EXAGGERATION? HARDLY! In 1956, 131 persons died in traffic accidents, and in 1957 the toll was 419. With 40 million cars on the highways, many are POTENTIAL KILLERS. So let's obey traffic laws and prevent MURDER ON THE HIGHWAYS!!

DON'T–Let A Fifth Ruin Your FOURTH!!
DON'T–Ignore Traffic Signals and Highway Markers!
DON'T–Drive A Car Which Is Mechanically Unsafe!
DON'T–Take chances in Passing Other Cars!
DON'T–Push Your Car at Unsafe Speeds!
DON'T–Drive If Over Fatigued. If You Are Drowsy–Stop Driving

Library's Weekly Story Hour Saves Wear, Tear On Moms

By Galvy Gordon

Mothers of 137 Hilltop children enjoyed a rare "quiet hour" last Wednesday morning, June 24, before their offspring burst home for lunch wearing coolie hats complete with detachable pigtails.

The youngsters had just returned from the second summer story-craft hour for children of all ages at the Hilltop Branch Library. The sessions will be held at 10:30 a.m. each Wednesday through the end of August.

Story-teller-lady, Mrs. Mary Evelyn Lakin, has announced that each week will have a different country as its theme. More than 100 showed up for the first session two weeks ago on Alaska and many of the paper totem poles are still on display in the children's section of the library.

"But this past week was organized bedlam, if you know what I mean," Mrs. Lakin smilingly declared. "We had planned on maybe a hundred and really had to hustle to find the extra paste, paper and scissors. But the more, the merrier!"

Working with large groups and children of all ages is nothing new to Mrs. Lakin, veteran of story-craft hour at the branch for the past several years. She's well known, too, as a former star on WOSU's "Five and Ten" program and the "Miss Muffet Show."

A handful of mothers showed up last Wednesday to help in monitoring the group. Local Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls served as assistants in such duties as demonstrating steps in paper craft, passing out blunted scissors, and guarding the paste jar.

Adding atmosphere was some genuine Chinese writing on a large sheet of paper. (No one knew what it said, but it looked authentic," Mrs. Lakin admitted.)

With very little coaching, a group of the youngsters acted out "The Five Chinese Brothers." Then Mrs. Lakin told a story entitled "The Adventures of Ting-Ling."

By the time the story was over the mood was properly Oriental and work on the coolie hats began. Practically all the youngsters made pigtails or queques and some made long sweeping mustaches of paper. Crayons were fast on their way to becoming stubs as others drew faces and still others decorations on the hats.

And the best part about it all is that there are "bonus quiet hours" in store for vacation-harried mothers. Because almost every child left the library with an armload of books for hours of happy but silent pleasure in the wonderful world of books.

Two West High Teachers Taking European Holiday

Miss Edna Harrison

Miss Leona Glenn

A long-awaited summer holiday in Europe has become a reality for two West High [illegible].

Miss Leona Glenn and Miss Edna Harrison left from Columbus aboard a TWA flight to New York, and then boarded a Pan-American jet for arrival in France next morning.

The two will return Aug. 28, in time for school's opening.

Plans include traveling by car through France, Italy, Yugoslavia, Austria, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Holland and the British Isles.

A highlight of the trip for Miss Glenn will be a reunion visit with a nephew, John Hawthorne, in France.

A language teacher at West for 20 years, she will be assigned to the administration building next year, as a resource teacher in foreign languages.

Miss Harrison, a history teacher, expects to visit a number of historically interesting sites during her stay in Europe, as an aid to classroom work.

Hawaii Scene Of Summer Study Course

Palm covered islands, cool bathing beaches, and college [illegible].

These are the places where Miss Estell Paul, 2360 Glenmawr, Central High School journalism teacher, will spend six weeks of her vacation, forgetting the headaches of high school classes and late yearbook copy.

Miss Paul left Los Angeles Monday, June 22, to fly to Honolulu, Hawaii. Here she will attend morning classes on the sociology of the Hawaiian Islands. However, her schedule gives her ample time in the afternoons and evenings to make use of sun, sea, and luaus.

She will live in campus housing at the University of Hawaii at Honolulu, provided for more than 100 American teachers taking the course. Tours of the different islands will accompany the course to acquaint the teachers with every aspect of Hawaiian life.

Miss Paul will say farewell to the South Pacific before Aug. 8, board the steamship Luretania, and return to the United States, to be aided at teaching in the 17th state by new knowledge gained in the 50th state.

Politics Finally Claims Time-Honored Sales Tax Agency

The great game of politics has been going on in recent months and as a result the Hilltop Business Association is out of the sales tax stamp business since last week-end.

The whole game started when Joe Ferguson was a candidate for state treasurer. At that time he made a political promise to Lee Hennick, ex-internal revenue department employee, that if elected Hennick would be given the sales tax agency that had served the Hilltop and West Side for so many years.

For some months now officials of the HBA have known that the ax would probably fall. The whole thing was held up so long as there was a chance that the legislature might throw out the sales tax stamps as recommended by Governor DiSalle.

The change in the law, which no longer makes it necessary for auto dealers to attach sales tax stamps to titles, will make a considerable dent in the tax stamp business and the agency is not quite the plum it might have been.

The going will be rough on the new local deputy registrar too, in view of the fact that all the accounts having done business with the Hilltop Business Association have had their plates returned to them and are free to buy where they choose. A great majority have indicated they want no part of the Ferguson-Hennick deal and will buy their tax stamps from some other agency.

The sales tax agency conducted by the Hilltop Business Association for many years has made it possible for the association to finance a number of services in this community. C. H. Campbell, secretary of the association, has been deputy registrar.

Revenue from this source has also made it possible for that group to assist financially such organizations as the churches, schools, YMCA, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and others. The association is a non-profit group.

Prominent Democrats and Republicans alike pleaded with Ferguson not to disturb the local agency, but to no avail. So today Ferguson's popularity with the local business people is about as low as it could [illegible]

'Second Cars' Gaining

Surveys show the "second car" market is growing. Seventeen per cent of U.S. families now have two cars — a gain of 13% in just six years. This ad in last week's Hartley Newspapers brought many calls—and a buyer on the first one: '56 Chev—Bel Air clean, low mileage, extras, private owner. BR. 4-7489."

Plenty of Room in Wide Open West

I'd like to take you on a trip that extended over 9000 miles of the highways of the west. To tell about all the many spots we visited from May 20 to June 22 would perhaps take too much of your reading time, so I'll hop around and hit a few highlights.

First, a word of advice if you plan to take a similar trip sometime . . . and by all means you should . . . Leave here about the last of May or even earlier. You avoid the crowds and the extreme heat of the southwest.

Nowhere did we need a a reservation. Nowhere were we extremely warm . . . not even in Bakersfield, Calif.

Seldom did we see Ohio cars on the way out. As we turned east (about June 14) it seemed like every other car was from Ohio.

Not much of excitement, except anticipation of what is coming, enters the scene as you drive through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and on to St. Louis. Then today the west began to appear . . . Oklahoma.

A little out of the road jog over to Claremore, Okla., where we visited the Will Rogers Memorial. While our youngsters were not old enough to be well acquainted with the cowboy humorist it gave them a chance to pick up a bit of folksy history.

And what finer lesson could there be for a youngster then to stand before the large Will Rogers statue and read the inscription beneath it . . . "I've never met" A man I didn't like."

The next day brought an experience of tasting some real Texas barbecue. And you'll like it if you like it hot! . . . On to Albuquerque where you learn to spell the word . . . And on into the west where you see more and more of less and less.

Next day we had the opportunity to witness what happens when a spot of water is brought into the hot sands of the desert . . . it becomes a modern city . . . Grants, New [illegible]

Around noon today we pulled into a super market thinking we would buy some things for a picnic lunch. While parked there along side pulls up another Ohio car . . . from Columbus . . . The Paul Luggers and Art and Lela Davis. We had seen their names in the Will Rogers Memorial register two days before. Later that afternoon we met again at Painted Desert.

All this time, daughter, Patty, was observing, "I've wondered what we would do with all the people back home. Now I see there is plenty of space in the world."

And another bit of advice . . . if you go west, go the route that takes you over the desert, the Painted Desert and Petrified Forest first. Each scene seems to be something out of this world . . . until you see the next one.

On to the rim of Grand Canyon and by this time we were all believing that surely nothing could be more spectacular. Here we were told that the canyon was not created by the wearing by water, but rather

Dr. H. Grant Mason, a classmate of Dr. Weld at McCormick Theological Seminary will be guest speaker.

Rev. Fred Wollerman, one of six young men from Hoge who decided upon the ministry as a career during Dr. Weld's pastorate, will also participate in the program.

Also taking part in the recognition service will be church members A. B. Lewis, Mrs. Robert Zulauf and Harold Mielke.

Rev. Robert E. Clark, assistant pastor of Hoge, will lead the call to worship. W. Haydn Jones, 82 S. Sylvan-av, is chairman of the service.

Hoge congregation was meeting in its old building at 29 S. Eureka-av when Dr. Weld was assigned to the church July 9, 1939. Under his leadership, membership has grown, and a new church, valued at more than a half-million dollars, has been built at 2930 W. Broad-st.

Surviving are his wife, Julia; two sons, Walter J. II, and S. Brentnall Stephens; daughter Mrs. Ada J. Righter and two grandchildren.

Friends may call at Schoedinger Funeral Home, 229 E. State-st, Wednesday, 7 to 9 p.m. Burial will be at Green Lawn.

Sullivant Av. Airport Closed; Hollyhill Homes Takes Over

X AND OUT—One of the area's pioneer airfields—Sullivant Avenue Airport—is officially closed as the port's 3,330-foot strip is X-ed out by Bob Teagardner, 627 S. Burgess-av.

The 82-acre port has been transferred to a housing contractor. Pilots have been given to July 15 to remove all planes.

Traffic's Trackdown Leads To Crackdown

Efforts by Columbus police to erase traffic trouble areas through a selective enforcement program have met with remarkable success.

The program, started this year and intensified March 1, concentrates special investigators and policemen in areas of heavy traffic problems. The West area is one of six in the city to receive special attention.

The success of the program is charted in semi-monthly bulletins which indicate the per cent of Columbus traffic accidents and arrests which occur in each of the chosen precincts. The West Side and Hilltop comprise Precinct 2.

Capt. Wade Knight, Traffic Bureau chief, used bulletin statistics to illustrate his discussion of the new program before the West Side Kiwanis club late in June. He pointed out that extra police manpower at traffic trouble spots does decrease accidents. This conclusion is graphically illustrated in the bulletin summaries of our own area. When concentration of police manpower was heaviest, accidents were lowest; when extra manpower was reduced, accidents shot up again.

The second two weeks in March saw ten per cent of all city accidents and arrests reported in the West area. Police Chief George W. Scholer and his staff of investigators recommended increasing enforcement on drunk driving, reckless operation, and stop

Sports Car Winner Named

First prize of $100 in the recent sports car contest of Hartley Newspapers has been presented to Mrs. Eleanor Ruggles, 325 Virginia Lee-ct, on the near east side of Columbus.

Patrick Reardon, 3465 Jerome-ct, Grove City, was the second prize winner. The five $10 awards were won by Robert M. Embleton, 903 S. Hague-av; Lewis Goodwin, 184 Reinhard-av; John L. Hiles, 1453 Courtwright-rd; Thomas J. Swisher, 288 Circle-dr, Hilliard, and Thomas E. Miller, 1461 Burlington-av, Columbus.

Flyers Caught With Planes Down; Seek Other Pastures

With the transfer of the 82-acre Sullivant Avenue airport to a housing contractor, a number of local flyers have been caught with their planes down.

New Airport Planned In Brown Twp.

An airport community designed for flying families is being built in Brown Twp.

Backed by Columbus Air Park, Inc., the strip is under construction on a 100-acre tract along Amity-rd at Feder-rd.

Surrounding the airport area is 90-acres which will be subdivided for construction of homes for those with planes using the new strip's facilities.

Officials of the new port are encouraging only persons with private planes who would like to build on the land adjacent to the strip to use its facilities.

The runway will be ready for partial opening July 15, according to James Harris, secretary and spokesman for the firm. Located near the pro-

Still at the port with no place to go are more than 20 aircraft —six of them belonging to former manager, Gomer Jones, four are operated by nearby industry and the rest are privately owned pleasure craft.

Deed to the land was filed Tuesday afternoon of last week. The following morning three large white X's were painted along the 3,330-foot strip, officially closing one of the area's pioneer airfields. At the same time surveyors were marking off streets for a 400-house development.

Despite the X-ing of the airstrip a few ships have slipped in and out. "We've warned all pilots that they are doing so in violation of the law and that we are not liable for any accidents that may occur," Jones emphasized today. He said some owners have already found space at Port Columbus, University airstrip, a field at Galloway, and other places.

Meanwhile the planes that remain must look for greener pastures. Owners have been asked remove them by July 15 if possible, said Jones. Since the closing of the deal on June 30 no landing fees or rentals have been charged, he added. An office secretary is still on duty to

TO REIGN AT BEAN DINNER—Judi Robison was selected from a field of three finalists at the Hilltop Lions Fourth of July celebration Saturday evening to reign as queen of the coming Hilltop Bean Dinner. Here, Lion John E. Jones crowns the comely lass, who was selected for the royal honors by Mrs. Ivols Nonemaker, owner of Noni Charm and Modeling School, and Bill Mertz, popular local broadcaster, who served as master of ceremonies during the pre-fireworks program at West High School's Magly Stadium. Mrs. Nonemaker was so impressed by all three finalists that she presented each with a certificate entitling them to a course at her charm school.

BEAN DINNER NOTE:

There's More To It Than Filling The Tummy!

Anyone who has the idea that the Hilltop Bean Dinner is a repast at which beans are served free of charge is only partially correct.

It's true that dispensing several tons of beans is an important function of the Bean Dinner. But there's more—much, much more—according to Elmer Hegenberger, program chairman, whose committee has worked up an entertainment bill of fare that is designed to meet with the approval of persons of all ages.

Scheduled for Westgate Park on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 21 and 22, the affair, sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association, will get under way at 11 a.m. on the first day with a football clinic for youngsters. Coaches and players from nearby colleges and universities will illustrate fundamentals as well as tricks of the game.

• At 2 p.m. Tuesday, the ever-popular pony tail contest, sponsored by the Hilltop Record, will be held, and at 3:30 a trampoline exhibition will be given by a group from the Lockbourne Air Force Base. This will be followed by numerous games and contests for youngsters of all ages.

• First of "The Price Is Right" contests will be held at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon. Panelists, selected from the audience, will bid for merchandise, which will go to the "best" bidders. The game is similar to the television program of the same name.

• Beans—several tons of them—will be served from 5 to 7 p.m., followed by a boat race at 7:30 on Lake Harder between teams representing the West Franklin Kiwanis Club and the Hilltop Y's Men's Club.

• A water "fight" between two squads of city firemen is slated for 8 p.m. Each team will attempt to move a "captive" barrel across a designated marker on Lake Harder by using the pressure from directed streams of water. These contests usually result in well-drenched contestants, as well as some spectators who fail to heed the warning to keep their distance.

• Another trampoline exhibition will be held at 8:30 p.m., followed at 9:30 by the second "Price Is Right" contest. The final event of the evening will be a prize drawing, at which merchandise contributed by Hilltop merchants will be awarded.

Goodwill Booths Relocated Near Supermarket, 'Point'

Goodwill Industries announces the relocation of two of its collection booths serving the area.

The one at Central Point Shopping Center is now found at the northwest corner of Mound-st and Central-av, directly north of the Marathon filling station.

The other, at Big Bear Store, 2835 W. Broad-st, is being repainted and moved to where it can be more easily seen.

"We need the continued support of the public in our effort to gather enough useful discards to maintain our program of rehabilitation of handicapped persons," said Rev. George Morey Evans, executive director of Goodwill.

'Everbody's Battle To Keep Mosquitoes Away' - Goodloe

In an effort to prevent repetition of last summer's bumper crop of mosquitoes, Dr. Ollie M. Goodloe, city health commissioner, has urged a city-wide yard clean-up program to eliminate all possible breeding grounds.

"Tall grass and weeds sheltered by trees or fences, dense shrubs and hedges, piles of lumber or rubbish that contribute to dampness and darkness, as well as stagnant pools, ditches and ponds, all make potential breeding grounds for the pests," he said.

Dr. Goodloe explained that the annual health department insect control program already has begun (as of June 15), but the jeep-bourne "foggers" are confined to public property, alleyways, parks, playgrounds, picnic areas, city dumps, around packing houses, swampy areas, hospitals, institutions, along banks of streams and other places where insects breed.

"We're not empowered to invade private property," Dr. Goodloe said. "That's up to the occupant. He's only protecting himself and his family because the mosquito is not a migrant. Seldom does he travel as far as 100 yards in his lifetime."

"Clean up your yard and encourage your neighbors to do the same and we'll have few mosquitoes here this summer."

BECOME A PART OF THE COUNTY FAIR

With summer already well underway, youngsters and others who already know the thrill are looking forward to the approaching Ohio fair season.

The Annual Franklin County Fair will be held at the Hilliard fairgrounds Aug. 19th through the 22nd. Actually, the affair will get underway the night before the official opening with a western rodeo in front of the grandstand.

Its' no dark secret that the annual fair is anticipated eagerly by farm and city youths alike. And there is no reason why adults should lose their interest in the event.

Few people realize how easy it is to be a part of the fair by becoming a member of the Franklin County Agricultural Society.

Any resident of Franklin County 21 years-of-age or older may join by simply purchasing a three-dollar membership ticket.

Holding of the membership card not only gives the purchaser free admission to the grounds during the fair, but also the right to vote at the society's annual election. Balloting on seven director's posts will take place on the fairgrounds from 4 to 8 p.m. Friday of this year's fair.

Membership tickets will be on sale at the secretary's office during the fair or may be purchased in advance by contacting Findley DeWolfe, 302 Avery-rd, Hilliard, at TR. 6-7848.

Nurses Schools Give Opportunity To Area Women

A dignified profession in the time-honored field of nursing is now within the reach of many who once were denied the opportunity.

Practical Nurse School, 1414 S. High-st, accepting women from 18 to 50, has the endorsement of hospitals and physicians.

Operated by the Columbus Board of Education in cooperation with affiliating hospitals, the school accepts any woman who qualifies with its standards.

Columbus' tremendous hospital expansion program and the resulting demand for more and more trained nurses opens an unlimited field of opportunity for trained practical nurses.

Demand for their services by hospitals, clinics, and physicians is far ahead of the school's supply of graduates.

posed bypass for U. S. Rt. 40, the new strip is intended to absorb some of the planes dislocated by the closing of Sullivant Avenue Airport.

The port is not being built to handle big planes. The runway will be 3,400-ft. long and 30-ft. wide with a gravel and oil base. Fifteen hangers will be built on the site.

Two of the airport's officials have already made plans to live near the strip. President Leonard Colvin, Sr. is remodeling a home at 1088 Amity-rd while vice president Richard Colvin already resides at 1080 Amity-rd. Both Harris and vice president Leonard Colvin, Jr., intend to build near the port in the immediate future.

If you have a little mule blood in your system and like the idea of being perched out on the rim of eternity you may want to take the mule ride down into the canyon . . . but not for me.

From Grand Canyon, we drove to beautiful Bryce Canyon. It was early in the morning when we arrived and few people were around. Communing with nature was at its best here.

Here I was reminded of the story of the visit of the artist to this same spot. As he looked down, down, down, he remarked, "Surely this must be God's Rock Garden." Along side him was an old cow hand viewing the scene for the first time . . . "What a hell of a place to lose a cow," he exclaimed . . . So it's all in the point of view!

Let's Go Fishin

The face of one of the three Great Western store managers who returned Sunday, from a fishing trip in Canada is, mighty red—and not from sunburn, either. It seems he—a near "pro" fisherman—left his fishing license at a lodge 100 miles north of International Falls. Canadian fish and game officials were very sympathetic of his predicament, however, and "permitted" him to pay a $20 fine and leave a beautiful string of Walleyes with them before crossing the border to the U.S.A.

Traffic—

sign violations between 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. and between 11 p.m. and 3 a.m. Special attention was to be given to traffic on West Broad and W. mound-sts.

By the middle of May, West area accidents and arrests had dropped to eight per cent of the city total. Stop sign violations remained the major problem, especially between 3 and 8 p.m. This time, concentration was to be directed on W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av.

Early June showed the most remarkable decrease in West area traffic problems, with accidents down to five per cent of the city total. Arrests stood at 11 per cent. Encouraged by these results, the selective enforcement men decided to ease up in our area.

By the end of June, however, West area accidents had bounced back up to 9 per cent of the city total, with arrests at just six per cent. This showed clearly the difference that relaxing of extra enforcement could make. Stop sign violations crept back into the picture as the prime traffic villain, and W. Broad was again designated as the worst trouble spot. Extra manpower now is back on the job in our precinct, in the hope that the mid-July bulletin will once more show a decline in West area traffic accidents.

On March 25 this newspaper revealed that negotiations between Jones and the Ernest G. Fritsche Co. were in progress.

Jones, who has owned the Sullivant port since 1937, sought earnestly to sell it to the city for development as an auxiliary field. In 1955 he offered all 140 acres to the city for $300,000 but found no takers. Private financing of improvements were hard to come by for Jones. Lenders just weren't convinced that Sullivant Airport had a future. Jones believed it did.

The land was tantalizing to builders. Jones said he turned away offer after offer. He finally gave in to the Fritsche Co., a local firm now building at the pace of about 500 homes a year. Current construction is at Valleyview and in the East Side.

Since the local project, tagged Hollyhill, had won city planning and zoning approval, last week final FHA clearance was given. New homes will begin to rise in about a month.

Sale of the port does not signal the retirement of Gomer Jones as a business man here. He has retained all buildings and a 350-foot frontage along Sullivant-av. Shifting his office about, he has leased his former spot and a shed to the Nu-Way Farm Equipment Sales Co. Another office and the main hangar will be occupied in about a week by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. for use as a service truck headquarters for the West-

Jones denied that he has any other airport ventures in mind and said he may sell his own planes. He indicated he may build a shopping center on the frontage he has saved.

'Oldtime Bargain Days' Are Coming To Central Point

In appreciation of the seven years of fine patronage on the part of the West Side, Hilltop and suburban areas nearby, the merchants of the Central Point Shopping Center, W. Mound-st, at Harrisburg-pk, are staging a gala "Old Fashioned Bargain Days" on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

This event culminates weeks of preparation and special buying by all Central Point stores.

Sightseeing Trip Featured

The center is cloaked in bright pennants. To further the atmosphere of the "Good Old Days" eight authentic old rigs are deployed around the center. These include a prairie schooner, an ancient fire wagon, a tally-ho, a stage coach, Dr. Hartman's private closed carriage, an old milk wagon and a "surrey with a fringe on top."

One of the outstanding features will be free rides for the small fry in an old sight-seeing wagon, drawn by a beautiful span of Clydesdale horses. A 1908 Ford, now worth $10,000, will represent the "horseless carriage" era.

Sales people, falling into the spirit of the event, are dressing in "Gay Nineties" costumes. Derbies, handlebar mustaches and sunbonnets will be the order of the day everywhere.

Almost all store windows will have a display of antiques.

A "Keystone Cop" will undertake to handle traffic. Roaming among the crowd will be a "Mystery Man" in stove pipe hat, full beard and Prince Albert coat. To guess his identity will be the subject of an old fashioned "Wanted" police poster.

Many stores will have "sidewalk sales" a la the Fourth Street Market. It is expected that this fun and bargain-packed program will produce the largest crowds in the center's seven-year history.

Chicago Avenue

Last Thursday 18 children from Chicago attended Play Day at Glenwood. They took part in such events as the checker toss, foul shooting, playball bowling and other interesting events.

Vicky Valentino received the most points for the girls from Chicago playground and rated first place. Pat Schertzer erned second and Joy Fleming received third place for the girls. Boys' division winners were Herbert Young, first place; Ricky Orahood, second, and Gene White, third. All received certificates.

Softball games got under way last week with the senior boys losing their first to Sullivant Gardens. Players include Jerry Mollette, Ronnie Stewart, Ronnie Nolan, Robert Cormack, Leroy Parkinson, Dick Barnhart, Rodger Nolan, Keith Fleming, Bob Merodith, Bob Fleming, Danny Fleming, Kenneth Mollette, Steve Garner, Ike Merris, Roy Howard, Danny Mollette, Barney Bland and Jim Coleman.

The Chicago Junior Boys played McKinley and lost their first game. Their team consists of Harold Young, Mike Sparks, Billy Shaffer, David Bradford, Eugene White, Charles Young, Willie Waller, Fred Smith, Stanley Cook, Carl Reedy, Tommy Reedy, Art Stewart, Gary Donnell, Jerry Hughes, Donald Bondmant, Orville Legg and Bill Spencer.

This week the Intermediate Girls team will play its first game with Sunshine's girls. On the Chicago team are Bonnie Cochrun, Bernedeth Keller, Carolyn Cook, Vickie Valentino, Ruth Strickler, Joy Fleming, Jean Kelso, Rita Treadway, Rose Spaulding, Linda Taylor, Linda Griggs, Loretta Herron, Sally Cook, Cindy Fleming, Dawn Williams, Mary Cook, Wanda Morris, Henrietta Morris, Kay Edwards, Cheryl Wellman and Ruby Hatfield. The managers of the teams are George Zorich and Marge Wolpert.

At Dana . . .

Everyone at Dana is busy preparing for the big Lantern Parade next week at Westgate [illegible].

Anyone who has ever seen a Lantern Parade can tell you what a beautiful sight it is: hundreds of colorful, lighted lanterns built around a variety of themes, making beautiful reflections in the lake as they are carried by the proud youngsters who made them.

Prizes will be awarded to the playgrounds who have best chosen and executed their theme. Everyone is invited to the big west area event. Volunteers are needed to help transport the children and the lanterns from Dana.

A group of Dana youngsters will go to see "sleeping beauty" and may use it as a theme for the Lantern Parade.

Dana Junior Boys' softball team lost to Glenwood, 13-14. However, very good games were turned in by Terry Breckenridge, Wayne Redman and Steve Jones. Jack Nicholson and Bill Chamberlain, coaches, say the boys are shaping up and have high hopes.

At the Track Meet this Thursday, July 9, at South High, several youngsters from Dana will participate. Paulette McCann's ability at the standing broad jump almost equals her skill on the horizontal [illegible].

Since a set of weights was acquired at Dana the biceps are beginning to bulge. Bob Simpson and Eddie Rowe can lift 155 pounds, while Jack Nicholson can lift 120 and Doc Simpson 90.

The Playday at Glenwood was a big success and fun for all who went. Prize winning contestants from Dana were: first, Karen Weikert and Charles Ivory; second, Patsy Scruggs and Marvin Ivory; third, Nancy Baker and Doc Simpson.

John Burroughs

John Burroughs' intermediate softball team won its opening game last week by scoring a come-from-behind 5-4 win over Hunts Recreation Center.

A pinch-hit, two-out bases loaded double in the final frame decided the issue. Buddy Johnston was credited with the season's first four-bagger.

Next game is slated Friday at 1:30 p.m. at Kingswood.

Results of the John Burroughs' Junior Jet games: Indians bopped the Cardinals 8-1 and the Red Sox downed the Yankees, 6-5.

In the International League the Jets beat Rochester 5-4.

A co-rec volleyball team is being organized by Jimmy Ragland.

John Burroughs has a "zoo" theme for the Lantern Parade this year. Ideas and suggestions are welcomed.

At West Mound

This summer West Mound has a promising team for senior division softball. The boys under direction of Chuck Meacham, are Dan New, manager; Don Justus, captain; Larry Justus, Dave Justus, Bob Cartwright, Mike Skinner, Larry Lynbrook, Ernest Kemberling, Lewis Conky, Marshall Daugherty, Jack Cox, Harold Holsinger, David Conkel, John Hagwitt, Don Harness, Larry Hutchingson, Ronnie McCalla, Vallie Young, and Melvin Scott.

An advisory committee of mothers is being formed. They will help with transportation and in planning events. Any interested mothers, may contact Judy Johnson at West Mound.

There is a need for girls' softball team. Any girls who are interested may contact Connie Shulze, Connie Conard, or Sharon Savage.

Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 1 to 2 is craft time for children nine through 11. Tuesday and Thursday from 1 to 2 is craft time for those six through eight.

Games and sports at the playground include basketball, softball, volleyball, horseshoes and paddle-tennis. Field trips and hikes are being planned.

A "Hero of the Week" badge will be presented to the boy or girl who is the most deserving each week.

Plans are in the making for a doll show to be held at West Mound.

The cook-out is planned for next Tuesday!

At Westgate . . .

The Teen Club will have a bowling party Thursday evening. They will leave from the playground at 7:30 and go to the Hillcrest alleys. The bowling classes under Miss Mary Gillen on Monday at 1:30 p.m. have become so popular that she is lifting the age limits . . . they are now open to any age. Several mothers are enrolled along with the kids. The cost is 30 cents a game for the lesson with shoes free.

Intermediate boys' (13-15) softball team needs players and will practice most afternoons at 3:30. They will play Hauntz sometime this week.

The junior girls' squad 1 will meet Holton's No. 2 team at McKinley sometime this week. See Mr. Fulton and Miss Gillen respectively for exact times. Girls' intermediate team will take on Sunshine.

In cooperation with "Y", movies will be shown on the playground every Thursday evening, starting around 7:30-8 . . . depending on the darkness.

VISITOR TRIES BARBECUE

ASTONISHED GUEST—Yuji Igarashi, (foreground), manager of an Osaka, Japan laundry, digs in at a backyard barbecue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Agin, 214 S. Westgate Av. Igarashi visited the country as part of the program of international exchange of visitors, sponsored by the Y's Men's Clubs. He was taken on a tour of the notable sights of Columbus but was "astonished" by the U.S. custom of a backyard barbecue. Others shown are: left to right, Dewey Parris, and Don Reederer.

South Will Host Field Meet

The annual South Sectional Track and Field Meet, conducted by the Columbus Recreation Department, will be held at South High School Thursday, July 9.

Thirty-six events for boys and girls, 17 and under, will be held for playgrounds that are closer to South High than they are to Linden McKinley.

North Side playgrounds will compete at Linden McKinley High School July 23.

South sectional meet will begin at 1 p.m. for boys and girls, 13 years of age and under. The 14 through 17-year-olds will compete at 5:30 p.m.

At Glenwood . . .

Don Creed hit two home runs and pitched a two-hitter as he led Glenwood's Senior Boys' team to a 16 to 5 victory over Kingswood at Glenwood, Tuesday evening. Jim Carter, Richard Holman, and Kelly Richards also homered for the victorious nine.

Glenwood's Intermediate Boys' Softball team shellacked Sullivant Gardens 24 to 8 Wednesday on their diamond. It was the team's initial effort for the season and was played with only eight men, since three boys are on vacation. Jack Cobb led his team's 23-hit attack by collecting five big hits and scoring on each.

Glenwood is forming an athletic club to compete in this year's Junior Olympics. Any boy under 18 as of Aug. 15, 1959, is eligible to join Glenwood A.C. and should contact Lee Collins at the center.

Glenwood's Junior Boys' Softball team defeated Dana by the score of 19 to 15. The team was led by Virgil Starks, who garnered in six of his team's 18 hits.

Trophy Catches Seen In Fishing Derby

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

Recent entries in the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Derby include a whopping-big crappie, weighing one pound, 15 ounces, caught in the Scioto River by Charles Fisher, 121 Fernhill, New Rome. R. W. Recob, of Recob Supplies in West Jefferson, weighed the fish, and claims it the largest crappie he's seen in a lifetime of fishing in this area.

Others: Dan Orders, 1240 Michigan-av, 15-ounce crappie; Berlin Little, Jr., 1791 Kenworth-rd, 17-ounce crappie; Eddie Friend, 2483 Gardner-rd, Galloway, two pound, three-ounce smallmouth bass; Donald K. Blake, 1089 Piedmont-rd, two and one-fourth pound smallmouth; Allen Messer, 326 Buena Vista, three-pound smallmouth; Kenneth Clemmons, 2411 Velma-av, one and three-fourths pound smallmouth; John B. Zak, 3849 Eisenhower-rd, three-pound smallmouth.

Joe Pritchard, 1922 Republic-av, two-pound, three-ounce largemouth bass; Harry French, 701 Gates-st, two-pound, five-ounce largemouth; Warren Johnson, 224 N. Monree, six and one-half pound catfish; Jay Pots, Reese Station, six-pound catfish; William W. White, 346 Clark-ct, Groveport, 20-pound catfish; Thomas Rogers, 2076 E. Moreland, two-pound walleye; Herb Kroninger, Rt. 1, Sunbury, two and one-half pound walleye; William Herderick, Noe-Bixby-rd, Canal Winchester, 17-pound, 13-ounce carp.

John Devore, 363 S. Ohio-av, three-pound, nine-ounce walleye; Bill Fletcher, 3154 Watkins-rd, four-pound, one-ounce catfish; James Yates, 129 Thurman-av, nine and one-half pound carp (caught in Schiller Park Lake in the city of Columbus); and Don Partsch, 884 College-av, 14-ounce crappie.

Well, there you are. Anglers are reporting that fishing success has tapered off during the hot weather, but Fishing Derby entries keep rolling in. R. W. Recob, official weighmaster in West Jefferson, reports that he has seen several good smallmouth bass catches lately from Lake Erie. Soft craws fished around Middle Bass Island seem to be doing the trick.

Catfish At Madison

Madison Lake, a catfish hotspot last year, is again producing. Several dandies have been weighed at the boat dock there in recent weeks. Last Sunday a six-pounder was caught by William Jones, Rt. 4, London. The fish fell for a soft craw.

Hot weather brings on fishing doldrums. This time of year separates the men from the boys in the fishing department. But the serious angler will cover himself with insect dope, and continue to catch fish. He will often fish only in mornings and evenings, and once in a while at night.

As the Fishig Derby progresses, the race for the week's vacation in Canada and all the fishing tackle prizes will tighten. But right now the contest is wide open—the next fish you catch may bring home the bacon for you. Check over the list of prizes elsewhere on this page, and enter your fish in the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Derby!

Scouts Urged To Consider Colorado Jamboree In 1960

Boy Scouts and Explorers of this area should set their sights now on attending the 1960 Jubilee Jamboree at Colorado Springs for the "thrill of a lifetime," said Robert G. Meade of the Central Ohio District staff.

As part of Scouting's 50th-year celebration, 50,000 Scouts and their leaders will camp in Colorado from July 19 to 28, 1960. Travel will be in units, and by rail, with possible side trips by bus.

Total cost per person—man or boy — has been established by a local committee at $225, which covers all costs except personal equipment and uniforms. Money not used will be refunded.

Any troop or post may register one or more boys now by submitting an initial registration fee of $25 per head, with names of candidates, before Dec. 31, 1959. A monthly payment plan is available.

Any Scout 12 or older by Jan. 1, or any Explorer of three months is eligible.

For further details visit or call the Scout office at 1428 E. Broad-st, (Cl. 3-8512).

Examiners will be stationed throughout the county in July to assist persons having Ohio vendors' licenses in filing their semi-annual sales tax returns due July 31.

Returns must be mailed to the treasurer of state, postmarked not later than July 31, to avoid a $1 a day charge for delinquent filing.

Examiners are scheduled to be available at:

Hayes Drug Store, Reynoldsburg, Wednesday afternoon, July 29; Groveport Hardware, Groveport, Thursday afternoon, July 30; Broadway Restaurant, Grove City, Friday afternoon, July 31; Shade's Restaurant, Canal Winchester, Friday morning, July 31; Gahanna Drug Store, Gahanna, Wednesday morning, July 29; Williams Grill, Westerville, Thursday morning, July 30.

Examiners are also available at the First District Post Office, 240 Parsons-av, and the Central Office, 68 E. Gay-st, daily, from 8 a.m. until 5.

Vendors seeking assistance are required to present all records necessary to substantiate the figures to be reported such as a copy of their returns for the previous period, a record of gross and exempt sales and a record of taxable sales of 41 cents or over for the period Jan. 1 to June 30, 1959.

It is no longer required to have sales returns sworn to before a notary public or a representative of the Department of Taxation.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits — cantaloupe, peaches, lemons, raspberries, watermelon

Vegetables — green beans, cabbage, summer squash, cucumbers

Other Foods — fryers, turkey, sausage meats, eggs, cottage cheese

SUMMER FRUITS ARE HERE

It's summertime — the time when fruit counters are piled high with a wide variety of long-awaited fresh fruits. Too, many of these fresh delicacies have a brief season in Ohio; then another year passes before we see them again. It's a good idea to take advantage of the good supply and eat our fill, and consider preserving them for future use.

July brings raspberries, blackberries, boysenberries, loganberries, blueberries, and lots of cherries. Have you made a gooseberry pie lately? Try one using the new variety—the berries are huge and not so tart. From distant areas come apricots, nectarines and mangoes. Cantaloupe, Thompson seedless grapes, Santa Rosa plums, limes and lemons reach their peak of production during July. Watermelons are plentiful.

Cherry pie lovers note that the sour cherry harvest gets under way this week in North Central Ohio—the principal commercial area in the state. It's time to engage your supply for freezing and canning. Good quality is indicated by bright, fresh appearance, plumpness, and good color.

Raspberries — another short season crop, should be enjoyed now. Prices continue at somewhat luxury levels, but remember that there is little waste in a quart of raspberries.

Peaches — You've probably noticed the abundance of peaches — white and yellow, Freestone and Cling at reasonable prices. Their flavor is exceptionally good this year for early peaches. Producers say the nation's peach crop will be a bumper one again this year.

Transparent apples, for sauce and pies, are in most markets. Quality is variable but should improve with an increase in supply. When the Transparents finish, you can look forward to good supplies of other summer apples this year as Duchess, Wealthy and Lodi.

VEGETABLES

Vegetables from local farms are increasing in supply each week. The first iced locally-grown sweet corn appeared on the market last week. The field-grown tomato season has started. Supplies are expected to increase rapidly in the next few weeks. Quality is variable due to recent weather conditions. Also, you can expect good greenhouse tomatoes throughout July. Local supplies of cabbage, green beans and cucumbers are abundant.

Egg prices are moving up slowly but eggs are still a protein bargain. How long will this great bargain last? Not too long, according to the folks who feed chickens. Feeders say they simply can't afford to keep so many chickens to lay so many eggs to keep prices this low. By the end of August egg prices will probably be about 10c a dozen higher than they are now . . . and from there prices are likely to go on a fairly normal level again. So, if you like a bargain . . . it's at the egg counter now.

Newlyweds Leave Lockbourne Chapel Beneath Traditional Arch Of Sabers

LT. AND MRS. JAMES E. BARFIELD

A Columbus woman who became the bride of an Air Force lieutenant at Lockbourne Air Force Base here recently used her own military strategy to give a modern-day, space age twist to an ancient military custom.

A request for an honor guard of officers from Lockbourne to form the traditional arch of sabres—generally considered a vestige of days long past when the bridegroom had to take elaborate precautions to protect his bride—turned out to be a clever bit of reverse military strategy by the bride, Miss Georgia L. Kearney, and a complete surprise to the bridegroom, Lt. James E. Barfield.

Seldom, if ever, has the presence of an honor guard at a formal military wedding been a surprise to the military groom, who, traditionally, makes such arrangements.

Miss Kearney, however, was faced with the problem that her fiance was busy becoming a second lieutenant at Harlingen AFB, Texas, and wouldn't arrive at Columbus in time to make necessary arrangements for the honor guard.

Her first call of inquiry reached Lt. Col. Robert D. Elliott, director of administrative services. The question of a military wedding was one for the base chaplain, and soon after Miss Kearney talked to Chaplain (Maj) Norris T. Morton, arrangements for the wedding ceremony June 28 at the base chapel were made.

The request for the honor guard—with sabres Lockbourne didn't have — brought a return call to Elliott, who asked Lt. Jack F. Tolochko, personnel officer, to find eight junior officers who could be available for the honor guard.

Elliott also called upon Col. Charles P. Holstein, professor of air science at Ohio State University to see if the university would loan eight of its ROTC sabres for the occasion. Lockbourne's Air Police filled the request for white gloves for the honor guard.

Chaplain Morton performed the candlelight, double-ring ceremony, and its was only when the couple was leaving the chapel that the bridegroom first saw the honor guard. His surprise was evidenced by a somewhat unmilitary, "What's all this?"

It was at the wedding reception at the Officers' Club later that the bride and bridegroom were formally introduced to sabre-bearers Lts. Robert M. Brown, Eugene E. Dyer, Robert M. Chubbuck, John M. Gilreath, Randolph J. Brozek, Allan R. Cohen, Roger W. Bowden and Robert L. Frederick.

Mrs. Barfield formerly resided at 173 S. Harris-av. Lt. Barfield received his commission June 18, five days prior to the wedding.

Miss Martha Merriman Is Bride Of Ensign James Cushman Saturday

Vases of pink summer flowers, woodwardia trees and ferns decorated Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church Saturday, July 4, for the wedding of Miss Martha Ellen Merriman and Ensign James Butler Cushman.

Dr. A. J. Wold read the marriage service at 7:30 p.m.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips Merriman, 44 S. Sylvan-av. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Cushman of Atlanta, Ga., formerly of Newark.

The former Miss Merriman chose a gown of Swiss-embroidered organdy for her marriage. The skirt, fashioned of tiers of ruffles, extended into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a seed pearl tiara and she carried a puff ball arrangement of stephanotis, pink demure roses and French illusion.

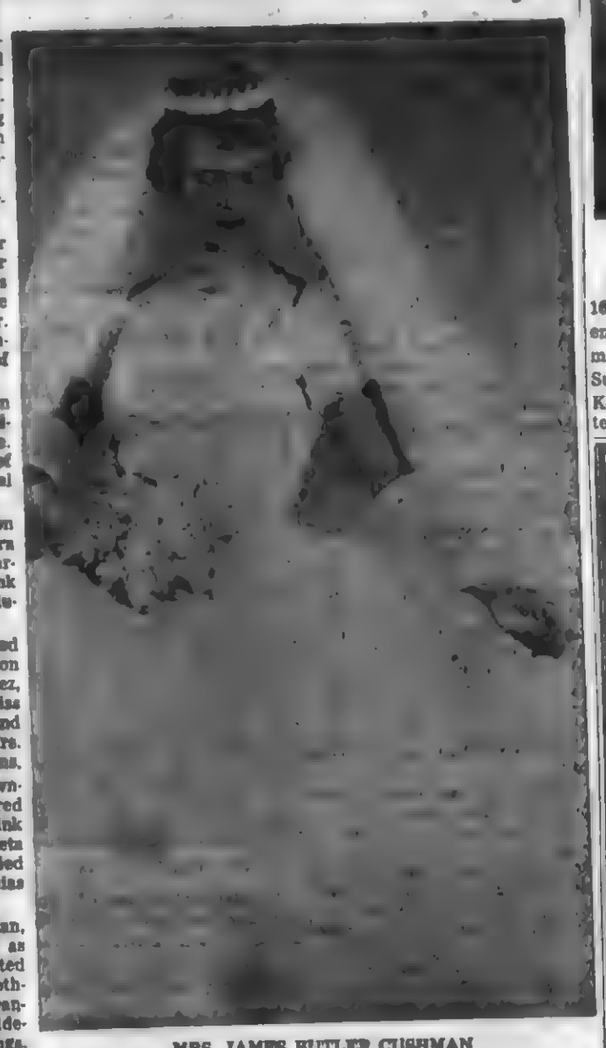
Miss Martha Atkinson served as maid of honor, Miss Sharon Pontius, Miss Delores Gomez, Miss Peg Marshall, and Miss Judy Huft were bridesmaids and Mrs. John Poth, Jr., and Mrs. Charles A. Doser, bridesmatrons.

They were identically gowned in frocks of embroidered white starched sheer over pink taffeta, accented by obi taffeta bows and sashes. Each carried a bouquet of pink glamellias and ivy foliage.

Mr. Howard O. Merriman, brother of the bride, served as bestman and guests were seated by Mr. Jeffrey Cushman, brother of the bridegroom; Mr. Daniel Butler, cousin of the bridegroom; Mr. Charles Rawlings, Mr. Barry Kent, Mr. William Joseph and Mr. David Oder.

Mrs. Merriman chose for her daughter's wedding, a gown of blue Chantilly lace and organza. The bridegroom's mother wore white Chantilly lace over blue taffeta.

Each pinned a corsage of pink champagne roses and purple hybrid delphinium to her purse.



Hostesses at the reception held at the church following the ceremony were Mrs. Howard O. Merriman, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Dianne Merriman and Miss Dorothy Jane Micha, cousins of the bride; Mrs. Allen Jackson, Mrs. Dyone Basye, Mrs. Paul Bucy, Miss Cosmina Pagura, Miss Judith Linebaugh and Miss Mary Ellen Smith.

Senior hostesses were Mrs. Lou Saunders, Mrs. Herbert Deems and Mrs. Jack Galloway.

The new Mrs. Cushman was graduated from Miami University where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta, and taught at Binns School last year. She will teach in North Kingston next year.

Her husband was also graduated from Miami University and was a member of Beta Theta Pi. He is assistant legal officer aboard the USS Tarawa USN.

Following a wedding trip in the east, the couple will reside at North Kingston, R.I.

TWO FOOTPOWER MODEL—Takes but little effort to keep this old-time lawn swing in motion—just a slight push of the foot. Paul Hoefler, woodworking hobbyist, and his wife demonstrate the latest one to come from his shop.

Old Lawn Swings Won't Die If Paul Hoefler Keeps Busy!

Old fashioned lawn swings are the forgotten tranquilizers of yesteryear, believes Paul Hoefler, 243 N. Oakley-av.

In grandma's time, the cares of the day would vanish like a bubble after a half hour of leisurely swinging, Hoefler pointed out. After all, husband and wife had to face each other in the contraptions—and what better environment for talking away one's troubles? The country needs more of the old swings, Hoefler thinks. And, he's doing his part to keep them from becoming extinct.

A diemaker at the Ternstedt plant since 1946, Hoefler enjoys making lawn furniture as a hobby in his home workshop.

He got interested in the old swings and sent away for a pattern. He's working on his ninth one now. It's a special one — earmarked to be given away at the next St. Aloysius Parish Festival, Aug. 5. The Oakley-av craftsman gave away a similar one at last year's event. As a committee of one, he has tickets printed up and sells them for his church. Last year his sales netted the church $65. He hopes to triple it this time.

"And I thought I was a good driver..."

A really good driver never takes anything for granted! Every driver should expect the unexpected and be prepared to react fast. Quick thinking in a pinch is a lifesaver. So don't take anything for granted. Overconfidence can dull the sharpest reflexes. Many of the 37,000 people killed on our highways last year might still be alive if good drivers never relied on chance. Drive as though your life depended on it—it does!

Junior Jets Learn Hardball Under Good City Supervision

Junior Jet Leagues are swinging into full scale action all over town on about 28 of the city's 60-odd playgrounds these days. We thought that some of you parents, especially those brand new to the program, might like some facts on it.

Until this summer the locals were called Little Jet Leagues. The name was changed to Junior Jet out of a conflict with the national Little League organization, with which Columbus is not affiliated.

The league is for boys between eight and 12. However most of the playgrounds have recently broken this group into two brackets—the Minors for ages eight and nine (usually playing afternoons) and the Majors for ages 10, 11, 12 and (usually playing evenings.)

This is a baseball or 'hardball' league and more than likely the first taste of real organized baseball for most of the boys at that age. The ball used however is slightly smaller than a normal baseball. They use the regulation Little League bats, sizes 29-32. (Incidentally, the boys may use their own bats, but if you're going to buy one for your son, make sure that it plainly says Little League on it.)

Overlooking that your tax dollar pays the bill anyway, this is an inexpensive league for your sons. There are no expensive uniforms or expensive equipment to purchase. T-shirts are donated by local service groups and given to the boys. The one item is necessary—the players own ball glove. Ball caps are advisable, as are tennis shoes or rubber spiked baseball shoes—but no metal spikes.

Bats, balls and the entire catching garb are furnished by the Recreation Dept. Umpires are provided by adults, fathers, and sometimes older boys at the afternoon contests. The same groups are used to manage and coach the teams, with the hope that there will be at least two adults for every squad, especially in the Majors. Fathers are a great source of support, but any man with and urge to coach, and having a fair knowledge of the sport, is welcome.

Headgear is provided and must be worn both at bat and on the basepath.

Now let's take a look at some of the rules especially those few that differ from regular baseball:

1) 60 feet between bases; 2) 44 feet between home plate and front of pitcher's slab, (46 feet for older groups); 3) the catcher does not have to catch the third strike, the batter is automatically out; 4) runners are allowed only one base when an overthrow occurs in a attempt to pick off a player and the ball goes foul.

5) a regulation game is six innings, but a called game is legal after four, and in some cases three and a half.

However, darkness often overrules all.

6) every player in a scheduled game (with the exception of local area rules here governing non-playing in games for non-attendance at practices without a valid excuse) must play a least two full innings—a fine feature which stands for learning, experience and fun, rather than 'win at all cost'.

7) if batter does not hit the ball, a base runner can not score unless a play is made on any base runner; 8) the official Little League rule book is used; 9) base runners may not leave their bases until the ball has been delivered and has reached the plate. This is one of the greatest differences and the hardest for boys to adjust to after viewing regulation baseball.

a) when base runner leaves base too soon and ball is not hit, the runner is permitted to continue, but if played upon and he is out, the out stands. If he is safe on the play (or no play made), he must return to base, backing up all other runners.

b) if a runner leaves too soon and the ball is hit, he must return to his original or the unoccupied base nearest the one he left. The violation of one runner effects all.

The Minors have no stealing, while the Majors can—except at home.

Drop over to your nearest playground area sponsoring Junior Jet ball, and enroll your son and maybe yourself. Mothers are handy too, as telephone committees to remind boys of their games.

All competition is held within the sponsoring playground leagues.

Columbus chapter of DeMolay finds itself in an enviable first place in one league and tied for first in another. They dumped previously unbeaten Hoge Memorial last Thursday, 20-8, to tie for the lead. DeMolay had three men Dick Curtiss (1 double), Alan Daft (3 doubles) and Bill McLaughlin go 4-4 at the plate. Daft incidentally is batting 1.000 in that loop with 10-10. Tom Morrison also contributed a homer with two on to the winning cause.

DeMolay had to come from behind as they were losing 8-3 in the second, but came on strong with 10 runs in the third to take the lead for good. Gary Smith was the winning hurler in relief.

They are still leading the central Ohio DeMolay league. They were rained out Sunday after three innings, leading Newark Mound Builders 7-6 at the time. They will replay on July 12. This Thursday, they play Hillcrest and Sunday they tangle with Mt. Vernon Chapter.

Its still not too late to sign up for Junior Jet ball at Westgate, any age, eight and nine-years-old especially.

Boys 13, 14, 15 years old—don't forget that the Y's Little Bigger hardball league starts Thursday at 1:30 at Westgate Park. You can register at the Y or at the Park.

Board Asks Bond Issue For Schools

Columbus School Board took steps Tuesday to ask voters for needed money to finance its planned gigantic school construction program, designed to house increasing enrollments.

Voters will be asked at the Nov. 3 election for $39,859,000 for school construction during the next four years.

The board also set a July 21 hearing date on a proposed 1960 operating budget, including debt retirement of $28,909,722.09.

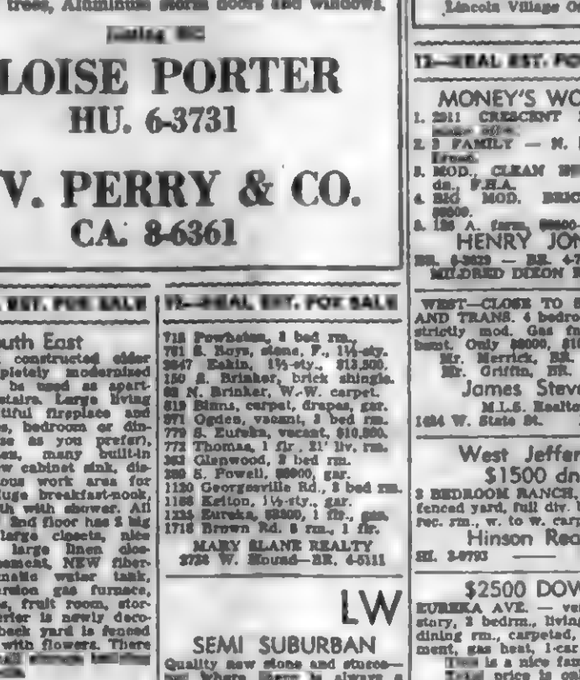
Based on a survey of building needs, the bond issue is the fifth and largest asked since World War II.

Thirty-two new schools listed as needed include, on the West Side, a 12-classroom elementary in the area bounded by W. Broad-st, Sullivant-av, Georgesville-rd and Norton-rd.

An eight-classroom elementary near the intersection of Sullivant-av and Demorest-rd is also recommended. Fifteen additional classrooms to existing schools in the area west of Central-av and six additional classrooms in the area between Scioto River and Central-av are also included in the plan.

Wedding Orchids Free To Winner At Bean Dinner

With no puzzles to solve, no gasps to write or purchases to make, some lucky bride-elect may win her wedding flowers.



Floral arrangements featuring orchids, for the bride, her attendants, the two mothers, church and reception, will be given free by Garrison's Bridal Flowers, 48 N. Powell-av.

Any engaged girl living in the area who plans to be married within the next year, is eligible to enter.

She may clip the coupon appearing in Garrison's ad in next week's Hilltop Record and West Side News, and deposit it in the box provided at the Hilltop Bean Dinner. A drawing will be made from names deposited.

Garrison's, dealing exclusively with wedding flowers, will supply all the flowers and have a floral designer on hand at the wedding, to arrange them properly.

Brides-elect call, by appointment only, at Garrison's to make their selections from the florist's designs.

EASY WAY TO PARADE

SUMMERY THEME—Outdoor living was the theme of one gala float of Savannah-dr residents in Georgian Heights' parade.

Kiwanians Serve Ham, Eggs To State Hospital Patients

About 90 patients of the Columbus State Hospital were dinner guests of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club last Thursday night.

The Kiwanians, working in cooperation with the Volunteer Service Council of the institution, served a ham and eggs dinner to the patients in the hollow on the grounds.

With fresh eggs a rarity in hospital meals, the event was well received by the patients, who also were served fried potatoes, cherry cobbler, coffee and lemonade.

A group from the Glenwood Recreation Center led games after dinner with Kiwanians joining the fun.

After the affair was over, the 16 Kiwanis members washed dishes, cleaned the area. Dinner was a project of the Business and Public Affairs Committee of the club with Noble Allen, Jr., chairman.

The dinners are served hospital patients every Thursday night by interested groups in cooperation with the Volunteer Service Council. Any organization interested in taking part may contact Victor Ewald at the state hospital for information.

X-Way Program Faces New Stall

Unless Congress cooperates, the Columbus expressway projects will soon begin to feel the pinch of financial thumbs.

Everett S. Preston, Ohio Director of Highways, said last week that projects under contract for the next year starting this July would be cut to $18 million from $180 million if Congress does not provide more federal matching funds.

He stated that probably only 10 to 15 percent of the program would be able to be built.

The entire expressway construction would be at a near standstill by July of 1960, Preston outlined.

Everything Is Big In the Big West

Big is the best description of about everything in the West. Big wide open space, big mountains, big spectacles, big gamblers—you name it and it is big!

The day we drove into Zion National Park we were skeptical about anything being any more impressive than Bryce or Grand Canyon. But in my opinion Zion is even more beautiful.

Maybe I was awestruck because we were down at the bottom of the canyon and looked up to the heavens to see the towering mountains above us. The insignificance of man must surely be impressed on one in Zion.

It was quite a switch when we came from the beauty of nature as we found it in the mountains and drove for miles across hot desert country and came down into Las Vegas.

This was an experience in another kind of bigness . . . little people who had made a big town in the desert and a big reputation as about the country's widest open town . . .

We were in Las Vegas on Memorial weekend and some 30 thousand people had swarmed into the oasis for relaxation of a type that perhaps cost them as much as a million dollars. The motels, hotels, entertainment spots and their slot machines, gambling tables and bars were doing a land office business.

If you haven't been to Vegas you owe it to yourself to see how a part of the world lives. A prominent local minister even suggested this point before our trip.

High spot of our evening entertainment was dinner at the Thunderbird Motel with the accompanying personal appearance of Cowboy Dale Robertson of TV "Wells Fargo" fame. We were impressed with his clean show and the fact that he didn't appear to be near so fictitious or unreal as a lot of characters who were watching him.

Hoover Dam was our next stop and worth the time it takes.

Uncle Sam has a pile of dough invested here in a pile of concrete wedged in between a pile of mountains. The result is that a big hand has been given to western cities to progress industrially because of the water and electric energy produced.

Our guide reminded us that the project cost about 170 million in 1931 and today would cost about 908 million. "But I worked on this job at $4 per day and had saved enough money to build a nice little home in Boulder City. Today prices have gone up so much I can't make enough to paint my house," he said.

Our next stop was Bakersfield where we visited my aunt, Mrs. Goldie Moore, who has lived there many years. We had been told that Bakersfield would be a "hot spot."

But again, we were pleasantly surprised. The nicest weather of our trip was found there. In checking the papers we found the temperatures lower than they were back in Columbus. It still is a fact that this isn't always true!

The earthquake of a few years ago has been a God-send to Bakersfield. Enough of the town was heaved up to inspire the townspeople to practically rebuild their business area and today it is

'Bean' Officials Say: 'Come Early, Stay Late'

Hilltop Business Association members will play host to thousands of persons at their big two-day festival of fun and merriment — the Hilltop Bean Dinner — next Tuesday and Wednesday, July 21 and 22, at Westgate Park. This year's feast will be their 16th consecutive celebration.

The genial hosts invite everyone to come early and stay late and have dinner with us." Three tons of free beans, cooked with ham, will be served with crisp, salted crackers, with members of the HBA doing the dispensing, between 5 and 7 p.m. both nights.

Entertainment on a grand scale has been arranged for the huge "open house" party. Two days of fun and pleasure are assured by a program packed with a variety of planned events.

Presiding over the activities will be Judi Robison, who was recently named "Queen of the Hilltop." A contest to select a "King of the Hilltop" will end Saturday and the winner will be announced during the Bean Dinner.

The program will get under way Tuesday morning at 11 with a football clinic for youngsters, under the guidance of coaches and players from nearby colleges, and the final event of the affair will be held Wednesday evening at 10, when various merchandise awards will be distributed.

But there will be little time for visitors to relax between the start and the finish. Contests and games will be held for children of all ages both afternoons, with the popular pony tail competition slated for Tuesday at 2 p.m., and a trampoline exhibition by a Lockbourne Air Force troupe at 3:30.

The evening entertainment Tuesday, includes a boat race between crews representing the Hilltop Y's Men's Club and the West Franklin Kiwanis Club. Better known as the Hilltop Regatta, contestants use ping-pong paddles to propel their boats around the fountain in Lake Harder, instead of oars, which in the past has resulted in some hilarious moments for the spectators.

Tentatively planned is a water "fight" between two teams of city firemen. If technical difficulties can be ironed out, the squads will attempt to move a barrel across Lake Harder from opposite shores. In such cases a curiously close crowd occasionally gets "sprinkled." This is slated for Tuesday at 8 o'clock, to be followed by another trampolene exhibition.

Youngsters interested in baseball will have an opportunity to meet members of the Columbus Jets Wednesday morning at 11, when a baseball clinic will be held. Games and contests for children will begin in the afternoon at 2.

One of the highlights of the Bean Dinner for many years is the annual tug-o-war between the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and the Hilltop Lions Club. Competition between the two local service clubs will be renewed at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, when one team will find itself being drawn into murky depths of Lake Harder. The trampolene troupe will again perform at 7:45.

Popular in this area for many years, "The Dog Patchers," musical "cut-up" group, will be on hand to provide their inimitable type of entertainment at 8:30 Wednesday evening.

Merchandise award events include four "The Price Is Right" panel shows. Patterned after the television show of the same name, panelists, selected from the audience, bid for merchandise contributed by members of the HBA. Shows will be held Tuesday and Wednesday at 4:30 and 9:30 p.m. Merchandise drawings will also be held on both days—at 10 p.m.

One of the "side show" features this year will be the Columbus Folk Dancers group, who will perform in the open shelter house throughout the evening, demonstrating folk dances of various nationalities. Visitors will be encouraged to participate.

Last, but not least, will be the customary midway, with numerous rides for dare-devil visitors, as well as those for the more conservative. Food stands will be available to those who failed to satisfy their appetites with free beans and crackers, and refreshment stands, too, for the thirsty.

"We've pulled all stops in attempting to make this year's Bean Dinner a most enjoyable one," Ed Planck, general chairman of the affair said yesterday. "It's our way of showing appreciation for business received by members of the organization during the past year, and all committees have strived to make the 1959 Bean Dinner one of the best in the long history of the event. We sincerely invite all to come out and enjoy themselves."

BIG BEANSTACK—Call this "Ed and his beanstack," or whatever you will, but it gives you some idea of the tons to be set aside for bean hungry folks here next week. Wielding the shovel at Eshelman's is Ed Planck, general chairman of the Hilltop Bean Dinner.

Dormant Zoning Regulation Stirs Wilshire Homeowners

Several householders in Wilshire Heights went to court this morning to oppose a 35-year-old zoning situation which they said they never before knew existed.

In addition, they have filed petitions with city council asking removal of commercial zoning from a number of Hilltop corner lots.

The controversy began recently when a realtor opened offices in a dwelling at Mound-st and Hague-av. A check by neighbors of their own deeds and abstracts failed to disclose any data on such commercial use. But a glimpse of city zoning maps, dating back to the 1924 annexation, brought to light "something new."

Plats Show Commercial Zoning

The plats showed the "inside" lots, extending roughly three blocks south of Sullivant-av, as "residential," but apparently left the corner lots for "commercial." Although houses now occupy many of the corners, a C-4 Commercial tag is still attached to them, said Harold Buchanan of the City Planning Commission. This means that businesses as large as a supermarket could be allowed, he added. Apparently, no one has challenged the regulations before.

Among the lots so appearing on the map are four each at Racine and Mound, Hague and Mound, Hague and Eakin, Hague and Vanderberg, Chestershire at Vanderberg and Mound at Chestershire.

Henry C. DeMastry, 749 S. Hague-av, along with neighbors, Don Best, LeRoy Schmidt, Lewis Lannon and Earl Lutz have spearheaded an injunction against the new business. Their lawyers will present in preliminary hearing today a residential deed restrictive clause which states:

"No lot in said addition (Wilshire Heights) shall be used for the carrying on of any trade or business of any obnoxious or offensive kind or character, or detrimental to a good residence neighborhood or manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors."

An attorney for the defense said Tuesday it is up to Judge Henry Holden's court to decide whether a realty office is detrimental to the neighborhood. Courts may also have to decide whether the deed restrictions can swing any more weight than the old zoning ordinances.

Meeting Set July 22

Meanwhile, more than 150 signatures are already on file with council, requesting that all such corner lots be restored to residential status. The planning commission has set a public airing of the question at 10 a.m. Wednesday, July 22, in the city hall annex.

Seiller Is Given Life Award By Chamber Of Commerce

Martin W. Seiller, who until a few years ago was owner and operator of Seiller's Department Store, 2404-12 West Broad-st, recently became the recipient of an honorary lifetime membership from the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, in appreciation of his work in acquiring more than 100 new members for the organization.

As a member of 10 years' standing of the Christopher Club, the committee of volunteer workers devoted to maintaining membership support and obtaining new members for the Chamber, he has given much time and energy toward the purpose of the club.

He was awarded a gold life membership card at the 75th Annual Meeting of the Chamber, "in recognition of his exceptional service to the organization and to the community." In the history of the Chamber's Christopher Club, only 17 such awards have been given.

"Mart," as he is best known to his many friends, devotes much time to other valuable civic activities. A resident of 29 Eldon-av, he is currently active in the Glenwood Methodist Church and Rotary Club, and is a member of the board of the Metropolitan YMCA, a 32nd Degree Mason, and a member of Aladdin Shrine.

The Hilltop Seiller store has been in operation more than a half century in the same location.

EARNS GENERAL'S PRAISE

PROUD MOMENT—"Regimental Trainee of the Day" is the title earned June 26 by a Hilltop youth now assigned at the U.S. Army Armor Training Center, Ft. Knox, Ky. Pvt. Don Larkin is seen receiving commendation from his commanding general, Maj. Gen. R. J. Butchers. In a letter to the young soldier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Lakin, 202 Elden-av, the general praised the honor trainee for his outstanding attitude, military bearing and courtesy, personal appearance and training.

Expect Less Door Knocking, UA Officials Tell Residents

Hilltop and West Side homemakers will be asked to give to fewer drives next year as result of the inclumon of five more organizations into this fall's United Appeal campaign, UA officials said this week.

The new agencies will be included as part of the $3,374,007 campaign target as recommended by a citizens screening committee.

The amount is eight percent over last year's undersubscribed drive. Most of the increase will go to "help restore crippling cutbacks in agency services resulting from yast year's shortage," a spokesman said.

He added, "some of the increase will also provide for some expansion in programs serving the growing number of youth, older people, broken families and the chronically ill."

Palsy Group Joins

Largest of the agencies coming in for the first time is United Cerebral Palsy. The others are Buckeye Ranch for Boys, Poison Control Center of Children's Hospital, Ohio Committee on Delinquency and Crime and International Social Service

John M. Caren, screening committee chairman, said the goal is "the irreducible minimum if the functioning of agencies is not to be seriously impaired to the point of depriving Franklin County citizens of vitally needed services."

The man who's filthy rich will always find a woman willing to take him to the cleaners.

YOU AND INFLATION

A recent survey indicates that most Americans — about 72 per cent — are opposed to inflation and to the excessive government spending which causes it. Yet congressmen still get most of their mail from the few who urge more spending.

By undermining the dollar, inflation hurts the individual and weakens the nation. It means that your income buys less for you and your taxes buy less for your government.

You can help stop inflation simply by asking your congressman to see that the government operates within its income.

"Bad government is brought about by good citizens who are too lazy or indifferent to help good candidates." —The Whitehall, Mich., Forum.

"Always do the right thing—those you cannot please, you will as least surprise."—The Evening News, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

"A taxpayer is a person who does not have to pass a civil service examination to work for the government." — National Safety News.

"No one acquires a love of liberty working for government. You either bring it along with you or you never have it." — Lowell Mason.

"Successful people are the ones who can think up things for the rest of the world to keep busy at." — Don Marquis.

BIBLE COMMENTS

Bible's Truths Not Available If Book Becomes Ornament

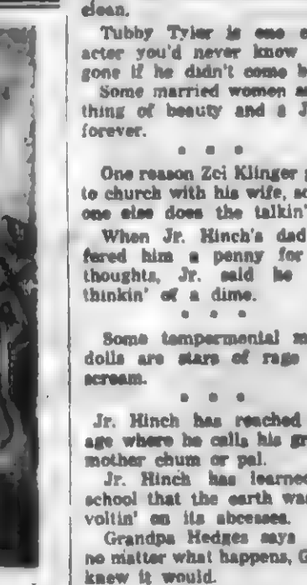
The American Bible Society alone has distributed in its 150-plus years of existence Bibles to the number of some half-billion.

Add to those: Bibles issued by the British and other overseas Bible societies; add Bibles distributed from other societies; add Bibles for sale in the retail market.

Consider, too that portions of the Bible have been published in over a thousand languages and dialects, the complete Bible in over 200 of those languages. And the Bible has been reproduced for the blind in over 40 languages.

The total publication of the Good Book is, therefore, nothing short of stupenduous.

Why, therefore, the prevalence of evil, despite the universal availability of this source book for the truly good life?



Perhaps part of the answer lies in the way the Bible is read, in how deeply and sincerely the Bible's great truths are truly heeded.

True, too, is the fact that many Bibles are purchased and hardly opened enough to break in the bindings; they become mere ornaments in the home.

Therefore, it would seem that the Bible has not failed in its purpose; the fault lies in the Christian peoples who have failed to use properly this prime instrument for good.

It might be a good time to take stock of our use of the Bible.

How long has it been since YOU so much as glanced at the Scriptures?

Seiller's Mark Warehouse Demolition With 7-Day Sale

Need for additional parking space at the rear of Seiller's Department Store, 2406 W. Broad-st, has necessitated the demolition of a building on the lot, which had been used as a warehouse by the company, according to Jack Merriman, head of the firm.

To take care of the load of merchandise formerly stored in the warehouse, Seiller's is marking the demolition with a sale, during which items will be reduced as much at one half, Merriman said. The event begins today and will continue through July 21.

Seiller's is now celebrating its 50th year of business on the Hilltop, having begun as a dry goods store in 1909 in the building now occupied by the Economy Variety Store, L. M. Seiller, the founder, constructed his first building—a portion of the present structure—a few years later. His brother, M. W. Seiller, joined him in the business in 1919, and a rapid expansion took place, with many departments being added to serve the people on the Hilltop.

Merriman was first employed as a delivery boy and through the years he has played an important role in the development of the firm into a "junior department store." He is now assisted by his son, Howard. The firm has adopted the slogan: "You'll do better at Seiller's, after all."

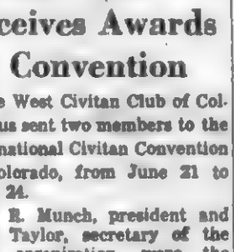
Civitan Club Receives Awards At Convention

The West Civitan Club of Columbus sent two members to the International Civitan Convention in Colorado, from June 21 to June 24.

W. R. Munch, president and Stan Taylor, secretary of the local organization, were the delegates.

Reporting on the convention, Munch said that the highlight was on June 23 when the Civitan International received awards from three national organizations. The awards, based on efforts of all Civitans in all fields represented by these groups, were given by The Crusade For Freedom, The National Fuodnation, and The Freedom Foundation.

The coming year will mark the Civitan's 40th national anniversary and at the convention, delegates pledged continued efforts in their many project areas such as mental health, citizenship, and Boy Scouts.



The convention brought forth the "Project 40," a spirited program wholeheartedly accepted by the Civitans for the 1959-60 year, to intensify their project activities and to enlist more civic-minded members who will work to preserve the Civitan motto "Builders of Good Citizenship."

Cubs Bop Pirates To Move Into Little 'Y' League Lead

The Cubs took over possession of first place in the Hilltop YMCA Little "Y" league. The winners handed the Pirates their first defeat, 12-3.

Warren Langdon led the assault with three singles. John Muller collected two hits for the losers. George Puchovich scattered five hits for the win.

The Dodgers moved into a tie for second place by routing the Giants, 12-4. Dodgers Terry Meinberg and Dennis Wright each collected three hits. Don Young started the game and was relieved by Meinberg.

The Braves scored three runs in the fifth inning for a 7-5 win over the Phillies. Big blow was a long double by Danny Imler. Mike Hughes and Chris Nowell each had two hits each for the losers. Mike Hughes was credited with the win.

The Orioles took over the leadership with a 1-0 win over the Tigers in the older loop. Mike Uldricks went the distance for the win, holding the Tigers to one hit, a triple by Dan Donaldson, who was the losing hurler.

The Indians took over second place with a 4-1 victory over the Yankees. Roger Nelson copped the win. Brother Bob smashed three safeties. Dan Roush tripled and scored the only run for the Yankees. Bob Leach and Bob Kight shared mound duties.

Jim Drummond and Pat Ellis combined pitching talents to limit the Senators to one hit, as the White Sox won their first game, 3-0. Big blow was a three run triple by Ellis. Drummond collected two hits and received credit for the win. Steve Culler got the only Senator hit.

On June 24, the Little "Y" teams will parade prior to the Jet ball game. This will be the Hilltop YMCA night, sponsored by the Hilltop Y's Men's Club. The top ten ticket sellers in the Little "Y" will receive baseballs autographed by the Columbus Jets. Tickets are available from any Y's Man, the "Y" office or at any Little "Y" game. Bad Literature Drive Started

Plans for an "every-church-member" campaign against the distribution and sale of pornographic literature" were announced at the 96th annual Summer Conference of Ohio Seventh-day Adventists, held last week at Mount Vernon, on the campus of the Mt. Vernon Academy, a co-educational secondary school of the denomination.

The youth department of the church for the entire state is taking the lead in the plan which aims to curb the flow of morally debasing literature through news stands, drug stores, supermarkets, and transportation terminals.

The West is big . . . especially when you see it by horseback or hike over a 127,000-acre ranch as did eight members of Scout Troop 33, early this month.

The Westgate Methodist troop members were part of a 30-man Central Ohio expedition to a thrilling National Scout ranch near Cimarron, N. Mex.

They spent 13 days in the open, hiking in the mountains and riding horseback. They hiked 58½ miles, carrying all their food and equipment on their backs. For this and 10 hours of work on a conservation project they earned a special award.

They also received acclaim for their alertness in finding and putting under control a small forest fire which could have threatened much wildlife and natural resources on the ranch.

Bears raided their provisions twice.

This is the third summer of extensive outdoor life for the boys. They next plan to do two hikes in Indiana, one at Wasoon, and another (the Lincoln trail) in Illinois.

Foreign Exchange Students Visit Hilltop

VISITOR FROM ABROAD—Lesley Ann Adams, at right, shown with her hostess, Connie Heibel of 231 S. Richardson-av, visited Columbus briefly over the weekend, as one of a group of foreign exchange students on a fast tour of the country. A native of New Zealand, she studied at Fullerton Union High School, Cal., this past year, and will enter a university in her own country next year to prepare for a career in medicine.

Two Hilltop families were among many in Columbus who played host to foreign exchange students last weekend.

Judge and Mrs. Robert Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av, entertained Kari Kirsti Aasheim of Breiesvei, Oslo, and Mr and Mrs. LeRoy Heibel of 231 S. Richardson-av, were hosts to Lesley Adams of Thames, New Zealand.

The girls were two of 1,172 studying in the United States this past year, under the program designed to promote better understanding between the young people of different countries.

They arrived Saturday evening and left early Monday after a day crowded with a whirlwind tour of the town.

Steve Basil's Mom Rates High With 'Y' Youngsters

Mrs. Robert Basil, 201 S. Algonquin-av, bats 1.000 with 3 youngsters of the Hilltop YMCA this week.

She's a champion with them, because of a national breakfast food contest which she won. Her thoughts on improving physical fitness of the nation's youth won a complete community recreation kit for the 'Y'.

The prize, now being shipped, includes valuable track and field equipment, softballs and bats, gloves and much more.

The story began at breakfast in the Basil home on a chilly morning last April. During a lull while feeding her four youngsters, Mrs. Basil read the back of a Wheaties box. It preached physical fitness as something generally lacking in the youth of today. Mrs. Basil agreed.

The cereal company's "Sports Federation Idea Search" wanted some answers to the problem of "softie" kids.

Mrs. Basil poured out her thoughts onto paper . . . but kept it to less than 50 words, mind you. "Why do parents persist in chauffeuring their offspring to school every time the mercury drops? In a nation of overheated buildings and automation our kids are pampered and afraid to walk, she thought.

Mrs. Basil didn't even keep a copy of her entry but recalls that she recommended a TV program to show home viewers living examples of the benefits of a fitness program. She suggested that it could present actual cases of progress from exercise in school and home, gyms, outdoor activity, and (of course) from eating a good breakfast.

Mrs. Basil's son Steve, at 10, is one of the most active participants in the 'Y' program here and downtown. She has three daughters, ages 8, 7, and 3.

Ex-Central Student Has Job Of Transporting President

One member of the class of 1940, Central High School, who has made the air force his career, is now assigned to a special missions squadron at Washington, D.C. and was recently promoted to the new rank of senior master sergeant.

He is M Sgt. Dwight E. Snider, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Snider, 80 Euclid-av.

While at Central High, Snider was sports editor of the school paper, "The Outlook," and a member of the track and wrestling teams.

M Sgt. Snider is a member of the 1298th Squadron of the 1254th Air Transport Group which has the primary mission of providing flight travel for the President and other high ranking dignitaries of this and foreign countries.

According to the air force, Snider's new rank was attained through highly competitive examination and other criteria. The rating calls for at least eight years of active service and a minimum of 24 months as master sergeant.

In April 1943, Sgt. Snider was graduated from officers' candidate school, Miami Beach, as a second lieutenant. He served as traffic officer at Santa Maria, Azores, and became a first lieutenant.

In January 1947 Snider returned to the States to accept a discharge and re-inlist as master sergeant. During the next six and a half years he was a flight crew member, assigned to SHAPE (allied headquarters) in Paris. In 1957, he joined his present squadron.

Sgt. Snider was married in 1942 to the former Bette Gill. They have three children and reside at 1000 Columbia-dr, Alexandria, Va.

They finally did it . . . after losing every one of their first round games, the Hilltop Kiwanis Babe Ruth squad has won a ballgame. They dumped the Linden Lions, who beat them in the first game of the season, 8-2. Tom Wuertz picked up the club's first victory.

They had a big four-run second inning which included six stolen bases and three hits. All seven of the victor's hits were singles. Wuertz struck out six and only walked one. The team kept its "record" intact in another area, though . . . all the runs scored on them (they haven't allowed an earned run yet this year) were unearned.

Their last first-round game, played on the Fourth, found them taking the lumps from Franklin Heights, 6-5. They play the Boys' Club at Central next Saturday.

Smith-Barratt Post 209 Legion team ended its season on somewhat of a sour note, dropping a 4-3 decision to Watterson. Hope to have some season summaries next week.

Slo-Pitch to Play Off

A play-off game for the championship of the first round in the church division of the Y's Slo-pitch league will be necessary as West Park Methodist and Hillcrest Baptist ended with identical 5-1 records. Following were Westgate EUB 4-2, Glenwood Methodist 3-3, Hoge Memorial 2-4, Westgate Methodist 1-5 and Burgess EUB 1-5. Final games in the first round found Westgate EUB downing Hoge 12-4, Hillcrest Baptist, dumping Westgate Methodist 22-4, Glenwood Methodist over West Park Methodist 19-5. Burgess EUB had a bye.

The club division has not completed its first round, awaiting two makeups . . . one that could change the winner involving Westway VFW (undefeated) and Northway VFW. Exempting the makeups the league standings read: Westway 5-0, Hilltop Lions and Northway 4-1, Columbia Heights Methodist 2-3, Westminster Presbyterian 2-4, Hilltop Y's Men 1-4 and Lincoln Village Baptist 0-5. The Y's Men and the Lions also have a makeup. First week of the second round found these results:

Westminster over Y's Men 9-4, Northway over Lincoln Village 24-5, Westway over Columbia Heights 13-3 and Lions with the bye.

Meanwhile the churches' second-round starts found Westgate EUB dumping Burgess EUB 9-8, West Park Methodist taking Westgate Methodist 19-6, Glenwood Methodist nudging Hoge 23-13 and Hillcrest Baptist with the bye.

Camp Chase Legion squad is nearing the end of their season unless they have better luck in the playoffs. Finishing in the lower bracket of their league, their first playoff try is tonight (Wednesday) at West field. They finished the regular season with a 2-6 mark.

Pitching has been their big weakness, but in late games they may have come up with a surprise that will give them a boost in the playoff. He is Terry Briggs, catcher for Chase for two seasons as well as the West Cowboy backstop. Last week he took the mound against Smith-Barratt and twirled a neat three-hitter, winning 4-3. All of the runs off him were unearned. He later did a brief relief stint against Bexley, but retired with a sore arm.

Their last competitive tries found them being nipped by Scioto Post No. 1, 7-6, edging Smith-Barratt, and then dropping their finale to Bexley, 5-3. They scored their winning tally on Barratt in the seventh with no one out on an error. Against Scioto their only extra base blow was Briggs' solo homer in the seventh. At Bexley, Jim Bluhm was the big gun with a triple in the fourth driving in two runs.

Magdalene Lads Humming

St. Mary Magdalene Babe Ruth team is having quite a season to date, sporting a perfect 4-0 record . . . covering action in two leagues. In the City Recreation Knothole loop they bested the Grandview Bobcats, 3-1, and the Northwest Mounties (Upper Arlington) 2-1. In their Southwestern loop they took Bellis Wheatherholt, 3-1, and the Optimist, 1-0.

Against B-Wheatherholt, Don Henne struck out 15, allowed only one hit and walked none in a brilliant mound performance for the winners. He was aided by John Meinhart's triple that broke the game open. With Meinhart doing a fine job behind the plate, Ken Radich pitched another fine game for them in their Grandview encounter.

Chuck Radich paced the attack against the Mounties with Both RBIs. Bill Mees doubled in the winning tally in the sixth against the Optimists. Jim Kerins, with a broken finger, has been doing a fine job at first, while his brother Mike is capably filling in behind the plate.

Coach John Radich reports also that the youngsters from St. Mary Magdalene's championship [illegible] school squad are finally rounding into shape. They play B-Wheatherholt at Southview Field No. 12 Wednesday (tonight), have a practice game Friday and play Lockbourne AC at home a week from Thursday.

It seems that the Westinghouse Little League team (sons of employes from all over town) is having quite a year, too. They finished their first round in the Industrial LL loop with a 3-1 record, losing only to Timken in a squeaker. Their scorebook shows a 10-3 conquest of the North American Aviation Furies, a 7-6 nip of the NAA Sabres, the 2-1 loss to Timken and a 4-0 shutout of Onized. They have a game to make up with Jeffrey which was on vacation.

They tangled with the Furies again last Monday evening (outcome not reported) and have games upcoming in the second round with the Sabres and Jeffrey. Westinghouse also picked up a practice game victory over American Addition Boys' Club, 11-9.

Their loss to Timken was a result of a third out error on a fly ball, with all runs being unearned. Timken collected five hits to Westinghouse's one. Against the Boys Club, homers were the 'key' for the winners with Reed, Carney and Jones (2) belting them out.

The Onized game featured hurlers with West's Darrell Jones giving the best performance . . . striking out 14, walking only 3, giving up only 2 hits and collecting all three of West's hits. Losing hurler Jim Rogers, though allowing only the three hits and striking out 12, gave up 11 walks.

THEY'LL HAVE A CIRCUS WITH THIS!

A spectacular lantern parade, feature of the summer season, will be held Thursday, July 16, 7:30 p.m. at Glenwood Park, 1925 W. Broad-st.

Usually held at Westgate Park, the event has been moved to Glenwood this year to accommodate larger crowds.

Boys and girls on playgrounds throughout the Hilltop and West Side have been busy constructing the fanciful lanterns during the past weeks. Everyone in the community is invited to attend.

Master of ceremonies will be Dean Lewis, WBNS disc jockey.

Judges include Hugh De Moss, WLW-C newscaster; Charles Campbell, executive secretary, Hilltop Business Association; Noble Allen, Hilltop Kiwanis president; Mrs. Selma Ater, Sunshine advisory council; and Clenmont Bergman, Glenwood advisory council.

First, second and third place awards will be presented to playgrounds which have the most original theme and the best executed lanterns.

Reports from area playgrounds on their activities during the past week follow:

At Holton . . .

On July 2, Holton had 12 boys and girls attending playday at Glenwood Park. Winners from Holton were Bobby Strapp, Danny Gregory, Roger Lewis, Nancy Spires, Pam Schaefer, and Peggy Spires.

In softball last week Junior boys defeated Highland, 7 to 2, and intermediate boys defeated Glenwood, 14 to 3. Junior girls were defeated by Westgate No. 1, and the intermediate girls lost to Hauntz.

This week the junior boys play Dana; the intermediate boys vs. Sullivant Gardens; the junior girls vs. McKinley; and the intermediate girls vs Westgate.

Holton boys and girls are putting finishing touches on their lanterns. Holton's theme is "Animals Under The Big Top." Everyone should be sure to attend.

At Glenwood . . .

ACES HIGH IN STANDINGS

The Aces lead by four games in the Hilltop Lions-Kiwanis Little Jet League at Glenwood. They defeated the Yanks, 11-6, the Cubs 9-8 (behind the nine-hit pitching of Jerry Frances), the Reds 6-3 and the Hawks 1-0.

The Yanks won two games 3-2 and 14-4 over the Cards and Hawks. A home run by Henry Butcher sparked the Yanks-Cards game.

The Cards downed the Hawks 5-1 behind the three-hit pitching of Overn Miller and won one from the Reds 1-0.

The Cubs, behind hitter Richard Moore, blanked the Reds 3-0. Moore got a homerun and a double, driving in two runs.

Craft Work Is Fun

The summer arts and crafts program is in full swing with the children enjoying making lanterns for the parade, lanyards, pot holders and earrings.

Softballers Win, 12-3

Don Creed and Bill Burke collaborated on the mound for Glenwood Senior Boys' softball team by tossing a neat three-hitter at West Mound. Creed struck out four batters in the two innings he worked and allowed but two runs on two hits, while Burke finished the game by striking out eight batters and giving up just one run on one hit. Bill Karn led the team's attack with a double and two triples as Glenwood smashed its opponent by the score of 12 to 3.

The Intermediate Boys' softball team fell by the wayside this week, as did the Junior Boys. The Intermediates lost to Holton, 14 to 3, as their defense collapsed in the fourth inning, while the Junior Boys lost to Hauntz, 20 to 3.

Jim Ball and Richard Moore entered the track meet held at South High with Moore taking a third place in the high jump after clearing 4 feet 10 inches.

Jim Ball is the first of the 14 boys working with the physical fitness program toward earning an AAU certificate.

Hikers Hold Cookout

The Hiking Club at Glenwood Playground held a cookout for 20 members. After the cookout, a prize was awarded to the person who told the best ghost story.

Future plans include trips to Blacklick Woods, Indian Village Camp, and a picnic.

Girls Aim for AAU Awards

The girls' physical fitness program is held every Wednesday from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at Glenwood playground. Martha Boyhan, Donna Butler, and Vicki Tanner are working to pass this program to receive a certificate from the AAU. Other interested girls are welcome to take part.

Girls Work on Sport Skills

The Junior Girls softball team lost their first game 1-0 and the second game, 30-5. Next week the junior girls will play Sullivant Gardens.

The Intermediate Girls' softball team is looking forward to a game with Highland next week.

At Highland . . .

For the past few weeks the emphasis at Highland has been the on softball teams.

Girls intermediates have won both of their games.

Under the guidance of manager Richard Neely and coach Franklin Givens, the girls have shown more and more defensive and offensive strength.

Intermediate boys have trounced their first two opponents, Holton 16-0 and McKinley 19-0 with a 15-run barrage in the first inning.

This week Highland will play Sullivant Gardens and John [illegible].

Also in the line of athletics, a handful of Highlanders piled up 76 points in the South section track meet, thus finishing third in the meet.

In the craft department the entire playground is busy preparing for the Lantern Parade, July 16 at Glenwood Park.

Parents should arrive at Glenwood early, because of limited parking, urged leaders, Rose C. Trieg and Bernard Binns.

At McKinley . . .

This week McKinley is planning to take part in the annual Lantern Parade at Glenwood. McKinley's theme this year is "Mother Goose Presents" and the children have been working on lantern boxes and a giant papier mache goose.

Also scheduled this week are several boys' softball games, Junior Jets, and a girls' junior softball game with Holton at 6 p.m. on McKinley's diamond.

Last week the junior boys [illegible] McKinley played two games, winning one from Chicago Avenue, 24-9 and losing the other to Fifth Avenue by one point, 11-10. The intermediate boys played two games last week, losing both—Hauntz, 11-0, and Highland, 20-0.

Junior girls' softball team met the Westgate No. 2 and won 14-4. The girls hold a one win and one loss standing.

Chicago Avenue

Four Chicago Avenue boys attended the city-wide track meet at South High School July 9. Ronnie Stewart, Jerry Mollette, Jim Smith and Steve Garver ran in several events and placed in the meet. They, along with other boys and girls, are looking forward to Junior Olympics at Ohio State University stadium, Aug. 15.

Last week Chicago's junior boys' softball team lost to Kingswood, 12 to 4. Girls' intermediates won their first, against Sunshine, 34 to 20.

Many Chicago children have been working on lanterns for the past three weeks. The lanterns are lighted by either candles or flashlights at the evening parade. Parents are invited to go to Glenwood on Thursday, July 16, at 7:30 p.m., to see all the entries.

At Westgate . . .

The big event on all play areas this week is the annual Lantern Parade, and the big news in regard to Westgate is that for the first time it will not be held at Westgate but is being shifted to Glenwood Park, 1925 W. Broad-st, Thursday evening at 7:30. All play areas will be closed from 5:30 on that afternoon.

The recreation department's traveling zoo will be on the Westgate playground from 1 to 7 p.m., both Tuesday and Wednesday, July 21-22 (during the Bean Dinner).

There will be another organizational meeting for the Y's Little Bigger baseball league that plays on the Westgate diamonds every Thursday at 1:30. Incidentally the league includes 14 through 16-year-olds.

The gals' softball teams had a pretty fair week. In the junior division, Lassies (No. 1) downed John Burroughs in a "squeaker," 40-4; the Cadets (No. 2) squad lost to Holton 14-6 and to McKinley 14-5. The intermediates played no game, but met Sunshine this past Monday evening. The latter will also travel to Holton tonight (Wednesday), while the Lassies host Highland Friday at 3 o'clock.

The boys' (13-14-15) softball team was idle last week, but travels to McKinley Thursday. It went to Hauntz yesterday.

The Hi-Hi dance with Dean Lewis, scheduled for Westgate later in July, has been moved up to July 24.

At the recent South Sectional track and field meet, Westgate finished 12, with 26 points out of the 30 competing playgrounds. Those from Westgate scoring and winning were Pat Cochran, 4—softball throw for 12-13 girls; Mary Schmidt, Peg Patton, Pat Cochran and Marsha Richter, 2—220 yard relay for 12-13 girls; Gust Spangler, 5—softball throw for girls 11 and under; Cindy Snagler, 5—standing broad jump for girls 11 and under.

Westgate's lone winner was their only successful male, Tom Lowe, 1—60 yard dash for 12-13 boys.

The Teen Club had a successful bowling party last week.

At Dana . . .

Nearly all Dana playground activities this week center around the big lantern parade. Although originally scheduled at Westgate, it has been shifted to Glenwood Center this Thursday evening, at 7:30 p.m. Dana's theme will be "Outer Space." Parents are asked to transport the children and their lanterns. Volunteers should contact one of the playground supervisors. Dana playground will close at 5:30 p.m. the day of the lantern parade.

At West Mound

Since W. Mound youngsters decided to use "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," as their lantern theme, there has been a rash of strange fish, octopi, squid and sea monsters appearing around the craft room.

All lanterns will be on display at the big dance Friday, July 17 as part of the decorations.

The long awaited talent show has also been added as part of the intermission program for the dance, sponsored by the teenagers. Any well-planned act to compete for a prize. Thursday morning, July 16, will be the deadline for all entries. Parents are invited to all dances.

Seven eager girls at W. Mound need only two more to form a girls' softball team.

Safety Award To Crosley Radio

Crosley Broadcasting Corporation, the Cincinnati Police Department and Helicopter Airlift Inc., were the recipients of three individual safety awards presented by the Ohio State Safety Council at its luncheon Wednesday, July 8, at the Fort Hayes Hotel, in Columbus.

R. E. Dunville, president of Crosley Broadcasting Corporation, came to Columbus from Cincinnati to accept the award for his company. The citation was a recognition of the pioneering efforts of the Crosley Broadcasting Corporation in devoting portions of its broadcast days to the furtherance of safety both in the air and on the highways.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors

Lessons In Smallmouth Fishing Are Suggested

"The streams haven't been real good for fishing for two summers now," said R. W. Recob, West Jefferson. He was speaking about the two Darbys, Walnut, Alum and Deer Creeks —the prime smallmouth bass water in this area.

"Not that fish haven't been caught," he added, "but the creeks just don't look right to go fishing — too muddy." Mr Recob operates a live bait and sporting goods store, and pretty well keeps his finger on the fishing pulse in these parts. After a lifetime of bass fishing, with a flyrod by the way, he knows what he's talking about when it comes to central Ohio streams.

The importance of his observation is that smallmouth bass will bite when the water is cloudy. If you wait until the water is perfect you will catch mighty few fish.

Clear Water Sharpens Vision

Sure, it's a lot of fun to go fishing during that brief period in spring when the streams are like sparkling mountain brooks. You can wade in to the top of hip boots, and still see crayfish crawling along the bottom and count the pebbles if you want to. But the fish's vision is improved too, and bass are extrawary in sparkling water.

For most of the year our streams are various shades of muddy brown. After heavy rains, of course, the mud is so heavy that it is not practical to go fishing except for catfish. But after a couple of days the "yellowish" cast disappears and bass will start hitting again.

I've never been able to get any information direct from the fish, but it seems to me that they have to eat fairly regularly even though the water is not clear.

This line of thought brings up the subject of fish eyesight. A lot of time has been spent in trying to find out how fish can distinguish colors. But I do not know of a study to determine how well a fish can see. It is my opinion that a fish can see better than we think. We probably overestimate a fish's intelligence and underestimate its eyesight.

Relates Hatchery Incident

For example, take the experience of Al Staffan, Rt. 1, Galloway, when he caught a smallmouth bass in a hatchery tank. He was up at South Bass Island in Lake Erie to do some fishing, and while a wind storm was whipping the lake to whitecaps he inspected the state fish hatchery there. There were several long wooden troughs in the hatchery about four feet high and three feet wide. Someone had put a couple of bass in a trough—entirely wild bass just caught from the lake. Al wondered if these fish, supposedly scared from being caught and placed in strange surroundings, would fall for another artificial lure.

So he crawled on his hands and knees up to the tank. Flipped a lure to the other end—whamme. You guessed it, he caught a bass. Al believes the whole answer is that the fish did not see him. Walking boldly up to the tank would have put the wild fish to flight.

So here are two lessons from two bass fishing authorities: go fishing when the streams aren't in perfect condition, and do not underestimate a fish's vision.

Winners in the smallmouth bass division of the Hartley News paper Fishing Derby will take these prizes: First—Garcia Companion fiberglass spin rod and 200 yards of Cortland Pilon spin line; Second—Pflueger casting rod; and Third—1 S.S bass lures, selection of 12. Grand Award is a week's vacation at Timberlane Acres, Pigeon Lake, Ontario, Canada, a fishing resort operated by Maurley E. Sutton, III Kirst-blvd.

Camping Exhibit Carded

A camping equipment display will be held at Blendon Woods Metropolitan Park July 18-19, according to Walter A. Tucker, 728 S. Remington-rd, director-secretary of the Columbus Metropolitan Park Board.

"We've asked the Columbus Chapter of the National Campers and Hikers Association to cooperate in this," said Tucker, "and quite a lot of camping gear will be exhibited. This will be an educational effort of the park board to initiate beginning campers to the outdoors, even though there are no camping areas in Metropolitan Parks."

Taulbee Frye, 1009 Jose-av, a charter member of the NCHA reports that nine or 10 different types of tents will be set up by association members, and perhaps two types tent trailers will be on display. In addition, everything from cooking gear to sleeping bags will be exhibited.

Tucker hopes that as many campers as possible will visit the display on Saturday, because the parks are ordinarily filled to capacity on Sundays.

Blendon Woods Park is on Route 161 east of Columbus.

Old railroad stations don't just fade away—they're put to many uses. Model train clubs, residences, businesses of all sorts, including a newspaper's printing plant, now occupy stations sold by railroads as they consolidate their passenger operations.

Sales of farmland financed by land contract have about doubled since 1946, the USDA reports.

OUT-OF-DOORS MEATS

If your family goes for outdoor eating it can be fun. You'll keep them liking cook-outs all summer if you offer a different meat on the menu each time. There's more than wieners and hamburgers. You can fix many other meats as different beef cuts, lamb, pork and poultry.

Much of the success of the outdoor "chef" depends upon his method. Even the best cut of steak can be ruined by improper cooking. The right method, on the other hand, can produce delightfully appetizing grilled meat using any of several different cuts. Here are some suggestions on "how-to-do-it" from D. E. Van Stavern, Ohio State University, Department of Animal Science.

• Remember that outdoor grilling is a dry-meat method of cooking. Be sure to select meat suitable for this method. Meat cooked by dry heat needs some fat in it for basting, to keep the meat moist.

• Remember that good quality beef is bright red in color. Good pork is different. It should be grayish-pink to delicate rose. Good quality lamb is pinkish-red. For best results on the grill, all these meats should be well marbled with fat.

• For dry heat cookery, beef steaks—club, T-bone, porterhouse are favorites. But you can use rib, sirloin, or rib-eye. Round and chuck steaks can be used if properly tenderized. Don't overlook bacon, Canadian bacon, sausage links or patties, or ham slices ½ to 1 inch thick. Be sure all pork cuts are cooked "well done." Or lamb chops and lamb patties make a delightful change of menu.

• Some cuts that require slow cooking may be used. Leg of lamb and lamb shoulders, boneless rib and boneless rump roasts of beef are in this category. They may be cooked satisfactorily on a rotisserie. They also make excellent kabobs.

Van Stavern offers these additional tips for cooking outdoors:

(1) Season chops, steaks, or patties after turning the first time. Turn only once, if possible, to retain juices in the meat.

(2) Turn and baste kabobs often. Baste meat with your favorite barbecue sauce, and vegetables with melted butter or margarine.

(3) When using the rotisserie, baste often, and season just before meat is done.

Sgt. Pullins Is Named Expert In Firing Carbine

Army Sgt. Karl E. Pullins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Pullins, 308 S. Princeton-av, recently qualified as expert in firing the carbine while assigned to the 24th Infantry Division in Germany.

A cannoneer in Heavy Mortar Battery of the division's 21st Infantry, Sergeant Pullins entered the Army in February, 1957, and arrived in Europe the following September. The 18-year-old soldier attended Starling High School and was employed by Southworth's Poultry before entering the Army.

PROBATE JUDGE

Your Youth

By Al Hollowell and Bert Korte

"Y" Summer Fun Club is rolling right at the end of the first week.

The boys and girls each enjoyed a craft class and a rubberneck tour of the Central YMCA. The boys were enthusiastic about the big marble tournament held at the 'Y'. Nineteen boys were big winners and about 400 marbles were won.

Games and contests were held for the boys on Monday morning with three big winners. They were Wilbur Shelton, Gary McGee and John McNutt.

The Summer Fun Club members let the community know they were busy this week as they went out on a scavenger hunt. Mike Tripp's team won.

It's still not too late to get in on the fun. Applications may be obtained at the Hilltop YMCA.

Schedule for the week follows:

Wednesday, July 15—Overnight campout—registration at "Y" in advance, meet at "Y"; (10 years and older). Boys only. 4:30 p.m.

Thursday, July 16—Girls' craft class, (minimum fee for craft), 10:30 a.m.; quiz show—we'll run our own—boys and girls, 1:30 p.m.

Friday, July 17—Bicycle rodeo—West High practice field; boys and girls, 10 a.m.

Monday, July 20—Girls' box hockey tournament—meet at "Y", 10 a.m.; "Y" movies for all—Hilltop "Y", 1:30 p.m.

Tuesday, July 21—Boys' craft class, (minimum fee for craft), 1:30 p.m.

Wednesday, July 22—Rubberneck tour—meet at "Y"—bring bus fare, 9:30 a.m.

3 Tons Of Beans Are Served

Approximately three tons of beans — cooked with savory ham — will be dished out during the two nights of the Hilltop Bean Dinner, according to Chester Herbert, head of the committee handling the serving detail.

Beans — free of charge — will be available to visitors from 5 to 7 p.m. on both nights of the affair — Tuesday and Wednesday, July 21 and 22 — at the Westgate Park shelter house. Thirty to 40 members of the HBA volunteer their services each evening.

DANDELIONS

A man was justifiably proud of his lawn until one year a heavy crop of dandelions appeared. He tried everything imaginable in an effort to get rid of them, but without much success. Finally in desperation he wrote to an agricultural college, listing the remedies he had tried and concluded with the appeal, "What shall I do now?"

Several weeks later he received this reply: "We suggest that you learn to love them."

Yessir! There'll Be Folk Dancin' At The Bean Dinner!

When you're full of beans come and try some folk dancing! That's the invitation from the Columbus Folk Dancers who will dance at the open shelter on the second night of the Hilltop Bean Dinner, Wednesday, July 22. The group meets every week to enjoy dances from many countries. It is looking forward to introducing some of these dances to Bean Dinner visitors. Spectators will see some unusual dances. Instructions will be given for some of the dances so that the audience participate, said John Shaw, chairman.

A castaway from a wrecked ship was captured by cannibals. Each day his arm was cut by a dagger and the natives would drink his blood. Finally one day he called the king. "You can kill me and eat me if you want to," he said, "but I'm tired of being stuck for the drinks."

Joe: "It says here that last year California grew about 2,449,000 tons of grapes."

Moe: "Drink up, man, they're gaining on us!"

Psychiatrists tell us it's not good for a man to keep too much to himself. The income tax people tell us the same thing.

MARINE RESERVIST SCORES

"OKAY COACH.—I'm right in the bull's-eye" signals Pfc. William E. Hargis (right) as he fires the M-1 rifle on a range at Parris Island, S. C. Pfc. Hargis is a member of the 27th Infantry Company, Columbus, which went to the Marine base for the annual summer training. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hargis, 1393 McKinley-av. The reservists spent two weeks receiving rigorous training and up-to-date instructions in warfare.

NEW STATE INSTITUTION UNDER CONSTRUCTION

WELL UNDER WAY—Construction is proceeding rapidly on the new 200-bed state institution for delinquent boys. The new institution, located on the grounds of the Columbus State Hospital will be integrated with the state's overall juvenile treatment program whose keystone is the Juvenile Diagnostic Center, just west of Columbus State Hospital. It will be administered by the Division of Juvenile Research, Classification and Training in the state Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

AREA FARMERS HARVEST BUMPER CROP

FIELDS OF BOUNTY—A far cry from flail and threshing floor, this modern version of Cyrus McCormick's long dreamed of wheat harvester skims through a nearby field of oats. Driver of the tractor, Dan Reinhard, son of Elmer Reinhard, 4628 Alkire-rd, is doing in a day work formerly taking thirty men nearly a week to accomplish. This combine is only one of the inventions making possible easier harvesting of the year's bounteous crops. Dry season has contributed to a larger oat crop than in 1958, and the summer's early wheat crop, now ripened and harvested, has produced yields equal to last year's high standards. According to Galloway Branch Farmers Exchange, a coming bumper corn crop will only complete the bountiful harvest, placing Franklin County among the richer farming regions in the state.

Prairie Garden Show Slated

"Make Mine Country Style" will be the theme of the annual summer flower show of the Prairie Gardeners slated for Saturday, July 18, in the auditorium of the Prairie Township Elementary School, 117 Norton-rd.

Entries, open to any amateur gardener, may be made between 10 a.m. and noon. Those under 16 years of age are restricted to the two junior classes.

Heading the staging committee are Mrs. Fredrick Kuns and Mrs. Silas Adams, along with Mrs. Henry Warner and Mrs. Allen Burns.

Other committee members are Mrs. Karl Schrade, general chairman; Mrs. James Farrell, general co-chairman; Mrs. Harold Distelhorst, assisting general chairman; Mrs. Neil Distelhorst, Mrs. Al Myers and Miss Marie Beatty, hospitality committee; Mrs. Paul Noblitt, Mrs. Charles Burks and Mrs. Curtis Westerman, posters; Mrs. William Hamilton, Mrs. Robert Jones, Mrs. Ralph Barrows and Miss Florence Weber, educational; Mrs. Noah Teach, Mrs. Howard Wehr, Mrs. M. A. Howell and Mrs. D. J. Woehrle, Sr., registration, and Mrs. James W. Whalen, publicity.

Flower show judge will be Mrs. Henry L. Young, who is also Franklin County contact chairman, Ohio Association of Garden Clubs, president of the Bexley Garden Club, member of the OOAGC Judges Guild and the Ohio Roadside Council.

The show will be open to the public from 2 to 8:30 p.m. and admission is free.

Ribbon awards will be given for first, second, third and fourth places in all classes, with best of show awards being $3.

Artistic arrangement classes will embrace "Leaves Alone," foliage arrangement; "Country Tune," oval mass arrangement; "Last Rose of Summer," one rose, any foliage, up to three buds; "Tisket, Tasket," arrangement in a basket; "Doctor, Lawyer, Merchant, Chief," arrangement suggesting hobby; "Roadside Beauty," so-called weeds; "Hospitality — Country Style," arrangement for outdoor picnic; "We Give Thanks," fruit and vegetable arrangement; "Plum Crazy," whimsical composition for an informal room; "Hoe Down," arrangement of Dried Materials; "Gardener's Calendar," interpreting any month of the year from the gardener's point of view, blue ribbon winners only.

There will be two arrangement classes for the young people. They are "Cooking Tools," including a kitchen utensil for those two through 11 years of age, and others, 12 to 16 years of age; "Sticks and Stones," miniature not over seven inches in height or width, for the same age groups.

The specimen classes will be displayed in pop bottles and they will be:

ESTATE ANALYSIS

One of the most important services which a life insurance agent can provide is an estate analysis. This affords the policyholder an opportunity to make sure that the best possible use will be made of his life insurance estate.

With the proper estate analysis, you can be assured that life insurance will provide your wife with sufficient cash on hand to meet immediate expenses at your death, and that the remainder of your life insurance will provide her with an income for life.

I'm sure I can be of service.
Why not give me a call?
You will be under no obligation.

COUNCIL CLIPPINGS

Area Legislators View Street Work Bills In Diverse Ways

Valleyview and Grove City Councils received bills for street paving jobs at last week's meetings, but each treated the receipts a different way.

Valleyview solons paid for work on two streets in the village, a $7200 bill, according to Mayor Norris Booth. The money came from taxes already collected, he said.

Mrs. Ila Wareham was sworn in as treasurer replacing the deceased Mrs. Alma Turner. Mrs. Wareham is the daughter-in-law of the first mayor of Valleyview, Booth said.

Mrs. Turner, before her death, had been village treasurer almost since the inception of the village.

Arrangements were also made, Mayor Booth said, with the County Engineers to clean out the dry run that goes through the village, in order to avoid any possible future flooding conditions.

Solicitor Jack Lett has his hands full at Grove City. He has to check on the validity of receipts for the blacktopping of South Broadway.

Payment to the contractor of $630 and to the Marble Cliff Quarries for $2935 for material, was withheld by solons.

Ordinances passed included requiring fences for private swimming pools and regulating taxi service within the city limits.

Council will also readvertise for bids for material for 18,000 gallons of sealer to be used on city streets.

Budget expenditures for next year were estimated at approximately $142,660, a boost of $22,680 above this year.

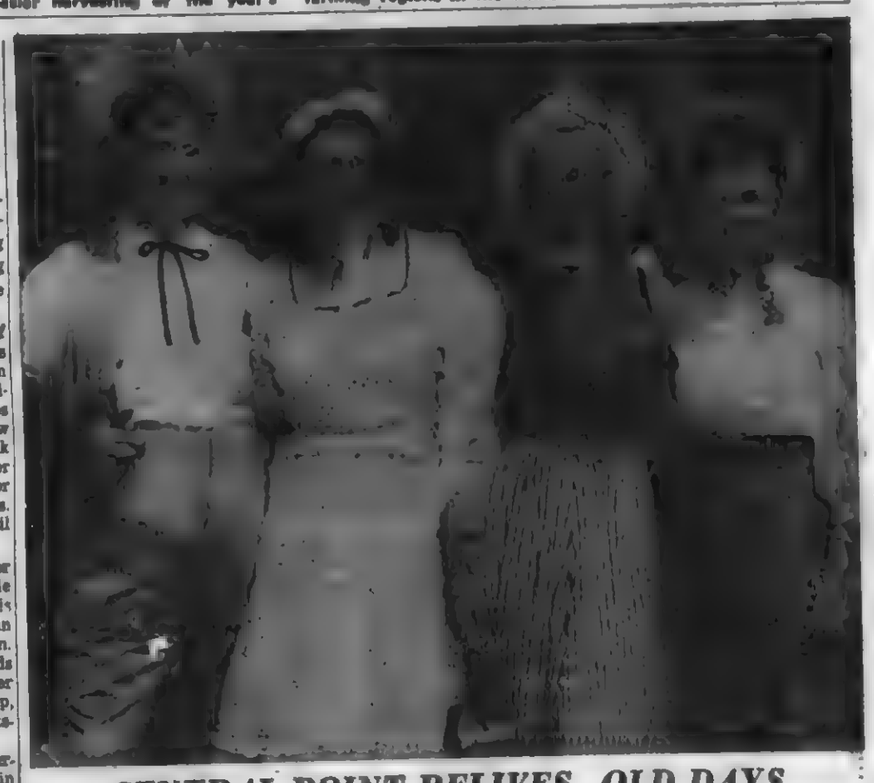
Otis Boyd was sworn into office as a new Councilman at New Rome last week.

A motion was also passed to remove the concrete in the center of Rt. 40 in front of the local motels so that traffic could get in and out easier, Mayor Elmer Belcher reported.

REMODELS DWELLING

Robert Kern, 3116 Wicklow-rd, received a permit to remodel a frame dwelling. J. E. Scher Co. is the contractor.

Turtle Traps Springing Up Through Area



Now is turtle time in Ohio. Turtle hunters are in action using their pet method of taking the creatures Both snapping and the soft-shelled turtle are sought.

There are several methods of taking turtles. Some hunters build traps which must conform to Division of Wildlife specifications. Others use set lines with big hooks baited with raw beef neck. A hardy few walk the streams and feel under banks and in muskrat roles for the hard shell of the snappers. Once located they find the tail and pull out the turtle.

A surprisingly large number of snappers are captured while crossing the highway about this time of the year and end up in turtle soup or in a frying pan.

Small turtles of ten pounds or less are usually fried. Larger ones are made into turtle soup, a traditional item among sportsmen everywhere.

The uninitiated may find turtles hard to dress. The main idea is to cut the bottom shell away from the top one. Once it is removed the meat of the turtle is exposed and may be cut out. The best meat is the neck, the four legs and the tail. Skilled turtle hunters claim that there are seven kinds of meat in a turtle and all are good. Farm ponds are a favored habitat of snappers.

CENTRAL POINT RELIVES OLD DAYS

REMODELS

Dale Hick, 86 N. Brinker-av, was granted permission to remodel his frame dwelling. Contractor is Perma Stone Co., Inc.

WILL CONSTRUCT HOME

A permit has been obtained by Ridgewood Estates, 4291 Dublin-rd, for the construction of a five-room and two baths frame and stucco dwelling with attached garage at 3255 Derbyshire-dr, Norwich Township.

RETIRED RAIL BELL GIFT TO CAMP

Beans Are Fine, So Are Appetites, At Westgate Park

"OPEN WIDE, BOY"—Philip Gray of 776 Pierce-dr, an old hand at bean-eating, gives some pointers to Emerson Holt, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holt of 428 S. Ogden-av. The two diners were among many who consumed more than a ton of beans at Westgate Park Tuesday night. Two more tons will be served tonight.

JUDGES' DECISION—Three of the nine winners, chosen from 200 entries in the Pony Tail contest, display their hair-dos to judges. Judges are, from left, Mrs. Helen Wolfe of Hilltop Beauty Salon, Mrs. Betty June Scott, Welcome Wagon hostess, and Mrs. Hazel Roberts of Yost Florist. Pictures of all winners will be published next week.

HILLTOP'S KING—A new feature of the Bean Dinner was inaugurated last night with the crowning of Jerry Spears as "King of the Hilltop." He was presented a gold desk calendar as a memento of the honor and strictly for fun, an inscribed "trophy" made from some familiar, and not-so-familiar, household items.

It was "beans for dinner," for a record high crowd attending the first day of the Hilltop Bean Dinner, Tuesday at Westgate Park.

A jam-packed program of planned events, a midway lined with exciting rides, prizes galore for the lucky ones and free beans for dinner kept thousands entertained from 2 p.m. until late last night.

The annual HBA-sponsored affair got underway at 2 p.m. Tuesday with the judging of the Pony Tail contest. More than 200 little girls competed for silver dollar prizes.

Winners of the one through four age group were Rebecca Spangler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Michael Spangler, 3165 Whitehead-rd; Karen Lucille Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Allen, 753 Stephen-dr W. and Pam Sue Caton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Caton, 880 Wiltshire.

More beans will go into the pot for tonight's dinner. HBA committee members' estimate of last night's crowd was too small and, regrettably, beans were gone before the dinner hour ended.

Sheri Edman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edman of 2707 St. Patrick, was first place winner in the five through eight age group; Debbie Crabbe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crabbe, 475 Buena Vista, second place and Christy Lee Tripp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Tripp, 152 S. Richardson, third place.

Winner in the nine through 12 age group were Sandy Newland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Newland, 1012 Sullivant-av; Carol Sue Reece, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reece, 3128 Wicklow-rd and Dixie Lee Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Chambers, 2219 Suncrest-dr.

Merchandise prizes and silver dollars were awarded panelists in the "Price Is Right" game, "On The Spot" game and in prize drawings.

Winners were Katie Merrick, Dick Willoughby, Mrs. John Stephens, Mrs. Bessie Oldenberg, Mildred Pohle, Maxine Moore, Mrs. Pete Block, Dora Hewitt, Catherine Lauch, Eunice Bates, Enoch Millington, Hazel Murray, Pauline Hardrick and Sue Morton.

Youngsters, winning the games and contests held during the afternoon were awarded silver dollar prizes.

Phyllis Harris, Fred Littlejohn, Mike Ryan, Carolyn Jones, Jean Chapman and Mary Pemberton.

Four local service clubs each entered a candidate in the race for the crown and honors of King of the Hilltop.

Winner, crowned Tuesday night, was Jerry Spears, Hilltop Lions' representative, with 14,490 votes.

Other candidates and their standings were James Goudy, West Franklin Kiwanian, 7,352; James Henery, Hilltop Kiwanian, 5,502 and P. A. Jackson, Hilltop Y's Man, 4,570.

Money, deposited in ballot jars for each candidate and tabulated at the rate of a penny a vote, will be given to the Hilltop YMCA Building Fund.

Youngsters and Oldsters Enjoy Disneyland Trip

Most people from this part of the country who visit California make it a special point to spend some time at Disneyland. We spent two full days and all agree that from the three year old on up we all enjoyed it.

We missed the new Monorail and submarine by a few days but then we expect that Disney will just never complete Disneyland. New things will be coming right along.

Most people ask, "what impressed you most at Disneyland?"

I'd say, the cleanliness of the place. I've never seen a public park or grounds so very clean. The constant attention to every little piece of loose debris on the streets or buildings is catching and it is so very obvious that everyone soon cooperates and the result is most impressive.

If you ever lived along the Ohio River or have taken a river boat trip then you'll be taken back to those days on the old paddle wheel river boat.

The jungle cruise is a must. Every little detail is made real, even down to the wiggling ears of a hippo. The old time ride on the railroad and the beautiful Grand Canyon panorama take you on one of the cheapest scenic tours of the West that is available.

We were pleasantly surprised as we left Disneyland the West Side Firm Begins Work On First Phase

This generation and those to come were in the minds of the men who gathered in a downtown office Tuesday morning and inked a contract to start work on a new $350,000 YMCA branch for West Columbus.

With that, a 10-year vision of Hilltop 'Y' board members came into focus. The project is the first of several in the city to benefit from the current Joint YM-YWCA Development Drive for $2½ million which will continue until June, 1960.

A West Side contractor, Krause and Pagura, Inc., 1059 Cable-av, was the successful low bidder from nine competitors. The construction on Valleyview-dr, is to begin by Aug. 10 and be substantially completed by June 1960. Preliminary surveying began today.

Metropolitan 'Y' Board President Frederick B. Hill, Jr. said Hilltop was chosen for the first construction "because plans there were nearest the final stages." Other 'Y' projects will be started as soon as possible, he said.

Contract Covers First Unit

Only the "working core" of the installation will go up in the first phase of the construction. "Refinements will be added as Development Fund contributions grow," said Richard C. Ninde, chairman of the overall drive.

Work awarded in Tuesday's contract for $277,016 includes: Development of the 10-acre lot with sodding and landscaping and parking lots;

Erection of 15,000 square feet of the building. This includes: 1. a basement program area and room for a heating plant; 2. social and administrative rooms on a one-floor plan, consisting of lobby, business office, three private offices, workroom, three clubrooms, kitchenette, social hall, restrooms and a locker lobby for a future swimming pool and gym; 3. a complete food service facility.

Pool Must Wait

In explaining why the swimming pool was left out for the present, Architect Jim Holroyd said: "The YMCA campaign for funds is only half subscribed, but we felt all possible construction should begin now. Costs are rising steadily and the need for the new branch is immediate. I think the pool (costing nearly $200,000) should be added next, when more funds are allotted."

Although a gymnasium is seen as a future need, the present requirements may be filled at the new Westmoor Junior High school. Dr. Harold Ebling, city superintendent of schools, is an enthusiastic backer of the Valleyview Community Center idea.

Space is also reserved on the plat for a future multi-storied adult residential dormitory.

Present 'Y' work is carried out here in an overcrowded, old converted dwelling at 2726 W. Broad-st. The 1959 enrollment stands at approximately 3000 youngsters and adults. The house is called headquarters by 31 clubs, eight adult groups (including Golden Agers) and 10 other civic groups.

Important To Community Center

The new building is to be an important part of the spectacular community center taking shape on Valley-view-dr, west of Hague-av. It is the third element of a plan that is winning the acclaim of architects and community planners across the nation.

The center was set forth by the Chamber of Commerce as one example of community one example of community spirit and achievement that helped Columbus win the "All American City" award this year. Already finished on the 56-acre tract are Valleyview Elementary and Westmoor Junior High schools. A city park and playgrounds are under development. Glenwood Methodist

Rites Today For Highway Patrol Head

Funeral services for a Hilltopper, one of the 60 original members of the Ohio State Highway Patrol who advanced to commander of the group, were to be held Wednesday afternoon.

Col. Fred "Fritz" Moritz, 55, of 90 N. Warren-av, superintendent of the patrol, died of cancer Saturday in White Cross Hospital where he had been confined since June 28. He had been ill since November.

Col. Moritz, third to head the patrol, became superintendent in May, 1957.

He served as deputy under the patrol's first superintendent, Col. Lynn Black. During his term as asistant he was legislative representative of the patrol.

He obtained, as superintendent, civilian post dispatchers and additional drivers license examiners to free uniformed men for highway duty.

He inaugurated a cadet program under which potential officers serve as radio dispatchers in patrol posts before attending the Patrol Academy.

City Considers Southview Expansion

Land south of the border is under the eye of Columbus city officials who want to expand Southview Park.

Council Monday night passed a resolution of intent to appropriate about 33 acres south of Stimmel-rd, east of the proposed State Route 1 and west of the Scioto River.

City attorney's aides said the county properties desired are owned by Leon Schottenstein, William and Ruth Edsell and Allen B. Caskey, trailer park operator.

N. J. Barack, city recreation chief, said Southview Park is vitally needed to serve the increasing populations of the West and South Sides.

Some of its 72-acres have been used since World War II for "emergency housing," known as Greenlawn project. Called sub-standard, the homes are to be torn down as fast as families can be relocated.

More recently the park has been bisected by the construction of the North-South Freeway, shutting off some of the accesses. Because of this the Council of South Side Organizations has spoken loudly for more park space.

Mel Dodge, city recreation supervisor, said Southview is being used to capacity. It now consists of 14 softball and two baseball fields, and to the east are two lighted ball diamonds and three football fields.

first evening and were preparing to board the train to Disneyland Hotel when we ran into the Lowell Wilkin family from Greenfield, O. They had arrived that day by train and were making this a high spot of their family vacation too. And again we were reminded it is a small world.

Another highlight of the visit to Los Angeles was Knott's Berry Farm, near Disneyland. Here a roadside berry stand has been developed into a showplace that has likewise become a must for visitors to the West.

The old West has been reconstructed in this ghost town and daily life of the gold rush days is lived over. You can pan for your own gold, see an old time "melodramer," have your picture taken with live Indians or witness a train robbery. Old, old timers would probably agree they have done a good job in bringing the old West to life.

Hollywood to many would mean a tour of the actor's and actresses' residential area and we were no exception. But actually it was little more than a bus ride. We could take you to many nice homes in Columbus and you would perhaps be more impressed. Other famous spots have far less glamour once you have actually seen them.

If it is thrills you want, then ride the Los Angeles freeway! Other freeways of the West impressed us with the fact that Columbus is several years behind in this phase of development.

Summertime Hunting Is Fun

By ROD COCHRAN

Summer months are a time when many central Ohio sportsmen concentrate on rod and reel and let Old Betsy, the favorite firearm, stand idle in the gun rack or lay snugged away in a gun case in some neglected corner.

There is no good reason for this, because summertime offers many opportunities for shooting practice on both live and inanimate targets.

By this time most of the young crows are out of their nests and flying around—adding to the crow population that provides such fine hunting sport. Woodchucks offer a lot of shooting thrills, and are found most often in rolling terrain.

Decoy Attracts Crows

Farmers or landowners almost always have the welcome sign out for the careful gunner whose shooting sport deals with the 'chuck and crow—potential pests. Early in the spring crows cause some damage in the cornfields, and most farmers don't like to see too many of the black rascals around. Crows are wary birds, and test the stalking ability and marksmanship of the most experienced and seasoned hunter. Flight patterns of the birds are erratic, and their actions are generally unpredictable. One of the best ways to attract them for sporty shooting is to use either a live or artificial owl decoy. Crows do not like hawks or owls, and will swarm around one in a noisy attempt to scare it away.

'Chucks Are Challenge

Woodchuck hunting is a pleasurable sport for the rifleman. It is not, however, to be taken lightly by even an expert rifle shot, for it requires knowledge of habit and habitat, and great skill in stalking and shooting.

Ordinarily, 'chucks are hunted in hay fields during mornings and evenings—when they feed. From a vantage point the hunter scans the field, usually with binoculars. When a woodchuck is spotted, then the stalk begins. After much belly-crawling, hiding behind rocks, etc, the good hunter will find himself within range of his quarry. Now a well-placed shot finishes the hunt.

Woodchucks make for good summertime eating, too, as many have found. Properly prepared, the meat of this alert little vegetarian is delicious. Most hunters eat only the younger 'chucks, and prepare them the same as rabbits.

A third summer shooting activity is breaking clay pigeons with a shotgun or plinking paper targets with a rifle. A hand trap is an inexpensive piece of equipment that will send clay pigeons in any direction for tricky shooting and to improve marksmanship.

Whatever type of shooting fun you try this summer, practice rules of firearm safety. Shooting is fun but accidents aren't!

Fishing Good At Timberlane

Walleye and muskie fishing is currently very good at Pigeon Lake, Ontario, location of Timberlane Acres fishing resort where the grand award winner of the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Derby will spend a week next year. This resort provides all the conveniences of home in prime fishing territory, and is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Maurley Sutton, 155 Binns-blvd.

The Suttons have just returned from Timberlane Acres and report that excellent catches of walleyes (called pickerel up there) and muskies are being made from their resort. Mrs. Sutton observes that best catches are made by fishermen who have fished the lake for several years and know some good locations.

Area fishermen who have recently returned from Timberlane Acres include Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Krouse, 1606 Eddystone-av, Mr. and Mrs. Park Roush, 108 N. Burgess-av, Mrs. Roy B. Bobet and Mrs. Ernestine Carlson, 210 Letchworth-av.

The bass and muskie season opened on Pigeon Lake July 1, and the fishing season has been going "full steam ahead" all month. To sample all the fishing that this famous region offers you should p lan your visit after July 1. Reservations at popular Timberlane Acres, however, are booked solid until the last week of August. Good fishing extends through September.

Outdoor Movies Featured

Color motion pictures on nature, travel and the outdoors are presented weekly on Wednesday evenings at Blacklick Woods Metropolitan Park and on Thursday at Blenden Woods Metropolitan Park. Starting time for the public program is approximately 8:30 p.m. Here are the coming films:

July 22 and 23—"A Date With British Columbia," "Science Looks At Illinois," "Autumn Trip Around the Island of Orleans."

July 29 and 30—"Alaska Holiday, Visit Our 49th State," "Canoe Country, Waterways of the North," "Laurentide Park, Canadian Beauty Spot."

Some park benches are provided but many visitors prefer to bring their folding chairs, or blankets to sit on the ground. In case of rain films are shown indoors.

Greyhound Sells Tickets Ahead For State Fair

Greyhound ticket offices throughout Ohio have been named special agents for the advanced sale of gate admission tickets to the 1959 Ohio State Fair.

The tickets, priced at 50 cents each, will sell for 75 cents during the fair.

Advanced sale tickets are also available through the State Fair box office.

In making the announcement today, State Fair Manager Rowland Bishop said "These tickets give groups who are planning a trip to the State Fair a chance to save a third of the admission price." The special tickets are also available for sale to individuals.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Vegetables—sweet corn, tomatoes, green beans, summer squash, cucumbers.

Fruits—peaches, cantaloupe, apples, seedless grapes, frozen lemonade.

Meat and Poultry — fryers, smoked picnics, turkeys, eggs.

IT'S SWEET CORN SEASON

Corn-on-the-cob! You can enjoy this summer favorite to the fullest now. Local farmers are harvesting a good crop and they say it's sweet and tender—in fact, just about as good as corn can grow. Although good sweet corn is available all summer, the peak comes in late July and early August. You may want to can or freeze some during this period when quality is high and price is low.

Growers Are Producing Quality Corn—So that we can have the best sweet corn possible, plant breeders are continually developing new hybrid varieties that have a tender kernel and a high sugar content. Some 30 different hybrids are now raised successfully in Ohio.

While Ohio has ideal climatic conditions for corn, many growers are equipped with irrigation which enables them to produce rapid maturing and tender corn.

Icing and Hydrocooling of sweet corn is the trend. There's no vegetable that loses its sweetness and good quality faster than sweet corn. More effort than ever before is made to keep corn cool from the field to your table. Sweet corn can lose up to half of its sugar content in just 12 to 14 hours of summertime temperature. Careful growers cool corn as soon as it's picked.

Alert food retailers are also striving to keep field freshness in the corn they handle, even though corn is plentiful and prices are low. Many of them buy only corn that has been pre-cooled and kept at low temperatures until it arrives at the store. They are keeping it cool until you buy it.

How to Get Quality—"Put the water on to boil, then go pick the corn," is the saying often heard in regard to sweet corn. But many of us are not located so close to a corn field, so we must settle for next best. And this is to purchase sweet corn from an iced or refrigerated display, and from a source that sells lots of corn.

Hurry Fresh corn from the garden or market to the refrigerator or the range. The sooner you use it the sweeter and juicier the corn. If you must hold it, refrigerate the corn. Some folks prefer to husk corn before refrigerating it. If you do this, be sure to wrap it or place the corn in a moisture-proof container to keep the kernels from drying out. Studies made at the University of Wisconsin show that corn wrapped in cellophane bags retained more moisture than that left only in the husks.

OUTDOOR GRILLED CORN

Corn-on-the-cob, roasted on an outdoor grill or in the embers of an outdoor fire, is something to remember.

Husks may be left on the ears or removed. If left on, pull back husks, remove silk, spread corn with softened butter and seasoning. Lay ears on grill or embers and roast 20-30 minutes, turning after 10-12 minutes. Serve piping hot with butter, salt, and pepper.

BIBLE COMMENT:

Bible Shows Man Striving Toward God

The history of religion among the Jews, which produced the Bible; the Old Testament in its entirety, and the New Testament in its beginnings, is the story of the search for God, the truth concerning man himself, his relations with his fellow men, his responsibilities and destiny in a world of right and wrong, and all the mysteries of life, suffering, and death.

Revelation did not come all at once. The Bible in its many books offers the surest evidence that, as the Bible itself says, "holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

The evidence is of the Bible growing out of human experience. The writers of the Bible had to experience it, before they could write it.

The experience began, as the Bible itself shows, in a dim apprehension of the nature of God, far removed from the vision of God in the face of Jesus Christ, or from the visions of the great Hebrew prophets.

No view of the Bible is true to the Bible itself that does not take into account the factor of progressive revelation, of progress in the search for God and the knowledge of Him.

But, having said that, the nature and meaning of that progression must not be misunderstood. It does not mean that earlier perceptions were untrue; only that they were partial and inadequate.

They were way-points in man's quest of God, glimmerings toward the full realization of the "Light of the World" in Jesus.

Biblical Pageant, Cowboys, TV Sets Are Fair Feature

"Out of the Darkness," a Biblical pageant featuring more than 10,000 fireworks, will be the grandstand attraction of the Ohio State Fair Sept. 1 through the 4th.

The first days of the fair, Aug. 28 to 31, Roy Rogers and his troup will be the fair's featured attraction.

WOSU, the telecommunications service of Ohio State University, will have its mobile television unit in operation throughout the fair, giving Ohioans the opportunity to see themselves on television as they tour the fairgrounds.

Two cameras will be located outside WOSU's tent in the center of the fairgrounds. Passers-by will view themselves on monitor TV sets.

The television's display will include exhibits on general and classroom programing and closed circuit television. There will also be a display explaining the proposed Ohio Education Network.

Local Plant Robin Hoods 'Bow' To None, 'Arrow Heads' Agree

Shades of Sherwood Forest and the Merry Men have fondly surrounded the Westinghouse plant at Philippi-rd.

With the aid of the company and the ingenuity of the workers, a 14-target archery range has been set up on grounds adjacent to the plant. Over 80 members, including families of employes, now enjoy the taut feeling of arrow stretched on bowstring.

Officially titled Westinghouse Archery Club Shawnee, the club got underway last February. Officers named to head the organization are John Fisch, president; WilfordFriesland, vice-president; and John G. Vermillion, secretary. Any member of the Westinghouse family is entitled to try his skill with the bow.

Officials report that the range is in use from early sun-up to dusk. Employes have been seen zinging arrows targetward as early as 7 a.m.

Membership fees are $5 a year for individuals and $7.50 for families. All enthusiasts are expected to buy their own equipment to participate. A fine set runs in the neighborhood of $27 which includes, bow, a dozen arrows, arm guard, glove and quiver, according to Friesland.

For men, a 30-40 pound bow usually suffices. Lighter bows, in the 26-35 pound range are usually most convenient for the ladies, officials attest. Purpose of the club is to encourage use of the bow and arrow for recreation and hunting.

A practice range has been set aside for beginners. "It is necessary to know how to use a bow and arrow," Fisch stated. All three officials really never had much of an acquaintance with the sport until recently, they observed.

The club is affiliated with Ohio Archers and the National Archery Association. At the present time, competition among other industrial teams is under discussion.

ON TARGET—Deadly aim is taken by two hopeful target shooters on the archery range adjacent to the Westinghouse plant on Philippi-rd. Members shoot from dawn to dusk and quite a few are top-notch archers, according to club officials.

The four surviving Dionne quintuplets celebrated recently their 25th birthdays.

SPORTS of SORTS

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

The Hilltop Kiwanis Babe Ruthers were rained out last Saturday, so will play their regular game with the Warhawks (first round winners) next Saturday, at 1:30 p.m. at West. Then they will play their make-up game with the Boys' Club at Central at 1:30 p.m. next Sunday.

Congratulations are in order for two of the Babe Ruthers. Though their league winner is eligible to enter the district tournament toward the national Babe Ruth title, their league enters an all-star team instead. Mike Porter and Tom Wuertz were picked for the all-star pitching staff in the Central Ohio District tourney at Newcomerstown on Tuesday of this week.

Disc Jockey Dean Lewis will be the 'emcee'.

Membership cards will be available at the door. No levis or shorts may be worn. A flock of prizes, including a record player, will be given away. All Hilltop and West Side Young people are invited.

Hearing Today On Zone Protest

Arguments, pro and con, were anticipated today before the City Planning Commission over petitions to revise old zoning laws affecting a number of Hilltop corner lots. The meeting began at 10 a.m. in city hall annex.

Wilshire Heights residents hurriedly got out the petitions last week when a business was opened in the residential neighborhood. A check of zoning maps dating back to 1924 showed a number of corner lots zoned commercially.

A group also is seeking legal injunction against the new business, a realtor, Judge Henry Holden, of the Court of Common Pleas, has inspected the area and is expected to pass judgement soon.

Lincoln Village South To Get Sewerage Line

An area not yet fully developed got caught in the middle of a political uproar at Columbus City Council Monday night.

In the end Lincoln Village South was granted a sewer connection to Columbus.

Solons voted 4-3 for the construction, which will begin this fall. Two sections of the Big Run Trunk Sewer will run west almost to Highland-av.

Westlake contended that the addition of 600 more homes would be a "detriment" to the Hilltop area. A warning that the proposed line would force raw sewage into Hilltop homes went unheeded by the Democrats.

Y's Men's Night Tickets On Sale At Bean Dinner

Hilltop Y's Men's night at Jet Stadium has been scheduled for Friday, July 24.

Tickets for the Jet game Friday night are on sale at the Hilltop Business Association's headquarters tent at the Bean Dinner.

Hank Gowdy of the Columbus Jets addressed the Y's Men at their July 20 meeting at the Dragon.

Local Parking Meter Survey To Be Aired Next Monday

A survey of merchants in two Hilltop business sections, to determine their opinions on proposed parking meters was started Tuesday by city traffic engineers.

Chief Engineer John L. Gallagher suggested the move last week to the City Traffic Commission, in answer to merchants' requests for an enforceable restriction on long-time parkers.

Recommended areas for the meters are, both sides of Broad-st, between Wheatland-av and Eldon-av, and Hague-av and Chase-av.

Gallagher will meet Monday with the Civic Development Committee of Hilltop Business Association headed by John Nippert. He will present findings of the survey, and hear the opinion of HBA on the matter.

Meters were suggested by Gallagher, as a replacement for the current one-hour parking limit signs because, "The present system requires constant enforcement by police officers.

"Police have many calls from Hilltop merchants, asking for assistance in keeping the parking situation more fluid. They complain that cars park before their business establishments much longer than necessary.

Candy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stockwell, of 2936 E. 13th-av. Fred is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, of 250 S. Powell-av.

Baus' Display Gimmick Wins A Pool Table

Note to residents of Danhurst-rd, Lincoln Village: If you see a full-size pool table being lugged into the Robert Baus residence this week, here's the how and why.

Baus, of 215 Danhurst-rd, won it in a contest staged by 30 Big Bear stores in that Central Ohio area. The 22-year old manager of the dairy department at the 2835 W. Broad-st store put up what was judged the best decorated aisle and end display boosting "June the Dairy Month." One feature was a continuously pouring pitcher of milk."

Baus joined Big Bear after he was graduated from West High school in 1955.

Miss DeVol was graduated from Woodstock High School in India where she lived six years. She will be graduated this fall from White Cross School of Nursing.

Mr. Cox is a graduate of West High School and studied for the ministry at Bob Jones University in Greenville, S. C., and at Grace College, Winona Lake, Ind.

Bride's Father Reads First Wedding Service In Newly-Finished Westgate Friends Church

The father of the bride officiated at the marriage of his daughter, Miss Evelyn Lee Wines to Mr. Emerson Gilbert, at Westgate Friends' Church Saturday, June 13. The wedding was the first to be held in the new church, 3750 Sullivant-av.

The former Miss Wines is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Leonard E. Wines, 106 Eldon-av, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gilbert of Indianapolis, Ind.

The bridal gown of lace over satin was designed with long, tapering sleeves and a chapel-length train. A tiara of pearls and white sequins held her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade of tinted orchids and [illegible] white carnations.

Miss Elaine Wines served as made of honor for her sister. Miss Willa Marie Tische of Woodlake, Neb., was bridesmaid and Mrs. Elwin Wines, sister-in-law of the bride, was [illegible].

Their gowns were in shades of blue taffeta. Each wore a pearl necklace, gift of the bride, and carried a cascade of pink roses.

The flower girl, Genetta Cockrell, cousin of the bride, wore a pink lace over taffeta frock, styled like the one worn by the bride, and carried pink roses and delphinium.

Gowns for the bridal party were made by the bride's mother.

Mr. Dan Hirth, of Indianapolis served as best man, and the guests were seated by Mr. Wayne Perkins of Indianapolis and Mr. Elwin Wines, brother of the bride.

Bryan Amerine, cousin of the bridegroom, served as ringbearer.

The mother of the bride chose a gown of lavender-embroidered satin with a corsage of cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore pink-beige lace with an identical corsage.

Hostesses for the reception, held following the ceremony at the church, were Mrs. Paul Langdon, Mrs. Harold Fox and Mrs. Burris Jones, aunt of the bride.

The couple left immediately following the ceremony for Detroit, Ore., where they will be located at a fire look-out station for the summer.

The new Mrs. Gilbert was graduated from Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., in June and will teach in the Eugene, Ore., school system next year.

Mr. Gilbert was also graduated from Asbury in June and will enroll in the University of Oregon to work on a master's degree in music education in September.

West Lantern Parade Attracts 500 Children

More than 500 children from 15 West Side and Hilltop playgrounds participated in the West Sectional Lantern Parade sponsored by the Columbus Recreation Department. It was held at Glenwood Recreation Center, July 18.

First place in the "best executed" class went to Hauatz playground for its huge elephant "Dumbo" and circus lanterns. The participants, wearing clown hats, carried lanterns with circus animals silhouetted on the side.

Second place in this category went to Sunshine Recreation Center with its pirate ship, complete with mast, crows nest, and skull and cross bones banner. The "pirates" carried torch lanterns and a treasure chest.

Kingswood Playground was awarded third place for Chinese lantern scenes including a papier-mache pagoda, a decorated rickshaw, and lantern-carrying "coolies".

For the "most original" theme, Dana Playground was awarded first place for its interpretation of the solar system. Included were lanterns representing the nine planets, flying saucers, rockets, moons, and stars.

Second place went to the children from Westgate playground who portrayed a land of fantasy. Represented by lantern floats were a dragon, a purple people-eater, and a man from Mars.

Sullivant Gardens was presented the third place certificate in this class for its lanterns constructed as shadow boxes and depicting a wide variety of animals.

In addition, all playgrounds received certificates for their work.

ROYAL PLANS OUTING

Federation of Young Adult Lutherans will hold an outing Saturday, July 25, at Lutheran Memorial Camp, Fulton. Swimming from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. will be followed by a picnic supper at 5:30.

'Indian' Hill Soon To Be Thing Of Past

West Broad-st's "Indian mound that wasn't an Indian mound" is making way for man and his machines this week.

The picturesque tree-covered hill east of the State Hospital is being removed so that the State Highway Dept. can build a garage and testing laboratory for the site.

The mound was long thought to be the work of prehistoric Indians. But, archaeologists doubted it and Monday their suspicions were confirmed. No remains were found as the bulldozers dug away the hill.

Following the flood last spring the governor offered to give the hill to the city for land fill use in repairing Dry run levee. The offer was refused, with thanks, when workmen found good dirt nearer the levee.

The GLAD Way

Too long have we thought of The Way of the Cross as the "sad way." There may be sad moments along every noble path, but not all great ways are sad ways. The path of motherhood may have sad turns but it is a satisfying path. The path of education climbs some difficult and steep places but it is a thrilling way. Isaiah talked about the highway of God, where faithful servants passed on good errands. The way of the Cross is the way one takes when he serves God. It is not the "Sad Way" but rather the "Glad Way." Joe is same by way of the Cross, and the Book of Books on which the cross is planted, tells us to "take up our cross and follow." Whether atop the church steeple or on the highest mountain, it is The Glad Way. Heaven and God are at the end of that way. It is today aglow with the light of forgiving grace. It challenges the weak to walk by faith and offers pardon to those who fall at its foot. It is where Jesus prayed, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." It is The Glad Way.

Mayoralty Race Poll Planned By Hartley Newspapers

M. E. Sensenbrenner

By Bill [redacted]

Scrape up some money and you can probably find someone willing to bet on who is going to be Columbus' next mayor.

That is just about how divided opinions are now with outspoken supporters for both sides claiming their candidate can't be beaten this fall.

With the battle lines already drawn by the May primary, Democratic candidate incumbent M.E. Sensenbrenner and Republican opponent Council President W. Ralston Westlake are starting their final three months of campaigning for the city's top position.

And who are you betting on?

That is the question Hartley Newspapers will be trying to find out during the next three-month span with an intensive opinion survey in an effort to catch the pulse of the public before it goes to the polls Nov. 3.

Beginning this week, interviewers from Hartley Newspapers will be contacting citizens throughout Columbus asking their opinions. No record will be kept of individual answers. Individual opinions will be added to the total tabulation with no attention paid to the particular person interviewed.

Four questions will be asked during the survey:

1. If the election were held today, would you vote for Sensenbrenner or Westlake?
2. Why would you vote for him?
3. Did you vote in the last election for mayor? If so, who did you vote for?
4. What would you call yourself, a Republican, Democrat or Independent?

Each area of political importance in the city will be equally represented in the poll. Opinions in these areas as compared with actual votes cast in the 1955 maroralty election will be compared from time to time.

Since the survey is starting well in advance of the November election, any change in the attitude of the public between now and when ballots are cast will also be noted.

By contacting a large segment of the city's residents, Hartley Newspapers hope to print a picture which will be closely reflected in the November voting.

Weekly stories relaying to readers the current trend will begin appearing in next week's edition of the Hilltop Record, West Side News, South Side Leader and Eastern Review.

It is not the intent of Hartley Newspapers to help or hinder either candidate's efforts to win the city's mayoralty. Purpose of the survey is to gain some indication of voter feeling before the election.

No contributions to the survey will be accepted. All persons whose opinions are to be counted will be contacted by representatives of Hartley Newspapers. Contacts have been selected at random from every area of the city.

It is the hope of Hartley Newspapers that everyone reached during the poll will cooperate with the interviewers to keep the survey as accurate as possible.

Our National Parks Are Result of Foresight

A most interesting article in this past week's Time magazine points out what has gone into the making of our great national parks and forests.

One needs to take an extensive trip through the West to realize the great vision of those who set up our national parks system and what it has preserved for this and every generation to follow.

On our western trip we spent a night in the heart of Yosemite, another at Zion and quite some time in Sequoia, Crater Lake Park and Glacier National Park.

Traveling up through California one can see a great array of trucks hauling the giant redwoods out one log to a truck. You can soon realize that this great wonder, created by God even before the time of Christ, would not be with us today but for the foresight of men who wanted them preserved for future generations, rather than have them cut into valuable lumber today.

Where is the man who can look high into the tips of the giant Sequoias or the great redwoods in northern California, or see the beauty of the great blue waters of Crater Lake and say, there is no God? Only God could have created such wonders. We should be ever thankful for our heritage.

These giant trees are said to be the world's oldest living things. Try as you may to photograph them, they are so large, it is impossible to capture all their beauty with a lens.

We journeyed up into British Columbia and Alberta with the purpose of seeing Lake Louise and the Kootenay Provincial Forest and found one big difference in development of the SEWER REVIEW — In a huddle over a sewer map are (l. to rt.) W. Ralston Westlake, Don C. McVay, Engineer John Rousculp, William Coulthard and Harold Slyh.

Hilltop Businessmen Study Parking Meter, Sewer Data

Curbstone opinion was matched with that of the experts Monday noon when the Hilltop sanitary sewer situation and parking problems were discussed before the Civic Development Committee of the Hilltop Business Association.

The HBA, listing some 300 members, again was used as a meeting house on matters of importance to the business man and private citizen alike.

Monday's meeting centered on whether the hook-on of sewer lines from 500 to 700 new homes in Lincoln Village South, approved by council a week earlier, would aggravate the present sewer situation here. (Another topic, parking meters, is covered in another story on this page.)

No one had an answer for everything, but enough statistics were presented to enlighten most, confuse some, and cause the committee to withhold recommendation until it has a caucus with its executive counterpart on Aug. 5.

H.G. Dill and John Rousculp of the H. G. Dill consulting engineers, who have just submitted to the city a two-year study of West area sewer needs, spoke alternately. Dill said the tie-in with Lincoln Village (as contracted for by the previous city administration) should not add to sewer woes on the Hilltop.

"Before those homes are ready to use the new lines, you will have Big Run sewer, greatly relieving the Broad, Sullivant and Mound trunk lines," he said. "Bids on the first two sections of the project are to be let Sept. 1 and Oct. 1.

Council Monday night authorized the $1.1 million construction of the first section from the Jackson-pk treatment plant to Gantz-rd. The second section, up for approval in about a month, will follow Highland-av to Palmetto, at a cost of $700,000. Both sewers are to be completed by Apr. 15, 1960. Rights to proceed with land acquisition were also granted.

"Big Run is being designed to handle an area of 5,000 acres to the west of the city," Dill said, "plus a possible East Scioto line down from Arlington and the lower West Side."

His associate, John Rousculp (former designing engineer of the city sewer department) said local sanitary sewers are not overloaded under 'average conditions. "The Hilltop trunks are carrying between 10 and 26 per cent of their capacity. Even with more relief from Big Run, the problem of local basement

Injunction, Law Change Grow From Zone Fuss

Homeowners between Mound-st and Sullivant-av seeking to change commercial zoning tags on 79 corner lots in Hilltop residential areas, got some strength this week from a Common Pleas judge's decision and the City Planning Commission.

Judge Henry Holden has granted a temporary restricting order on a realtor and owners of his office-residence at the southwest corner of Mound-st and Hague-av.

Residents grew concerned early this month when the new business moved onto the corner. To their apparent surprise they were shown 35-year old zoning maps leaving a number of such corner lots open for business use. Houses now occupy most of the spots.

An injunction insisting any new business was detrimental to the neighborhood was filed by Henry C. DeMastry, 749 S. Hague-av, along with Don Best, LeRoy Schmidt, Lewis Lannon and Earl Lutz. Their attorney Bernard Feitlinger, of Levinson and Feitlinger, said the order is to take effect in the next day or so after his clients have put up recognizant bonds of $1000.

John R. Welch, Hilltop attorney for the defense, said his

Penny Park Privileges Suggested

Penny parking meters may be the answer to Hilltop business section parking problems.

That was the suggestion which grew from a meeting of City Traffic Engineer Jack Gallagher with the civic development committee of the Hilltop Business Association, Monday.

Earlier, Gallagher told the City Traffic Commission that meters would be the best way to control the all-day parker on W. Broad-st between Eldon and Wheatland-avs and Hague to Chesaw-av. Merchants frequently complain to police, who in turn find the one-hour parking rule hard to check and enforce.

Called "Borderline Case"

Figures presented by Gallagher to the HBA Monday showed the matter to be a "borderline case." "We personally visited 72 businesses, asking owners if they wanted meters," Gallagher said. "Fifteen were not in to answer, but 39 gave an emphatic 'no'. Seventeen said 'yes' and there were 11 'don't cares'."

The engineer continued: "We also found the parking spots were occupied from 60 to 80 percent of the time. We usually think of 80 percent as the best minimum to warrant the meters."

Gallagher said all one-hour parking signs are to be removed, regardless of the decision on meters. The present two-hour morning and evening restrictions will remain.

Speaking the merchants' viewpoint was Lou Klass of Hilltop Jewelers. His place is served with only two parking spots in front. Other space is taken with a bus stop, fireplug

More Steps Taken For New Center

Two pieces of legislation got council approval Monday night, advancing the development of a new Senior Citizens Center north of Sunshine Park.

A $330,000 recreation center, to accompany a 10-story apartment for elderly persons of low income, was ordered scheduled into the 1960 capital improvements program.

The community building is to be a central meeting place for oldsters from all over the city.

To make way for the center, nine more properties were bought by the city for a total of $48,550. They were owned by Floyd and Anna Davis, Richard Borror, Anna and Paul Slifko, Sara B., Kenneth and Doris Kelly, Cora Lee and Samuel Cash, Thomas M. and Pansy E. Wightman, William and Margaret K. Davis and Harriet M. Metcalf.

client will file an answer to the suit soon. "Merits of the case" may be heard in Common Pleas court as early as September, he said.

Council Hearing Sept. 14

Following a public hearing a week ago, the City Planning Commission Monday night introduced an ordinance in council to restore the lots to "residential." City Clerk Russell Drake said the public hearing of the matter before council's zoning committee has been set for 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 14 in the council chambers.

DeMastery said the planning board rejected a request to "pigeon-hole" the petitions until after the case is heard. Meanwhile, DeMastry said he is determined to get around to every house in the area in hopes of adding more signatures.

GETS STAMPS

Three $50 gambling stamps have been issued to Louis Fuhrman, of 3618 Hoover-rd; Okie Rice, of 3500 Alkire-rd; and Donald Goldhardt, of Rt. 2, by the Internal Revenue Service.

New Route 40 Store Opened By Planters

Planters Peanuts, a firm that is no stranger to Columbus, has opened a highway-type operation store at 3591 W. Broad-st.

The company has operated a store at 8 S. High-st, for the last 25 years.

At the Route 40, west, store the firm carries the same line of peanuts, nuts and candies that made the stores famous for the last 30 years in cities throughout the country. All nutmeats and peanuts are roasted on the premises and sold hot.

Planters opened its first store 30 years ago, selling nothing but hot roasted peanuts in-the-shell. At that time real peanuts were displayed strung on heavy waxed cord over the sidewalks and along store ceilings.

Gradually added were salted peanuts, cashews, filberts and pistachios until now there is a complete line of domestic and practically all imported nutmeats.

Sells Candies Too

In the candy line the new store carries all items manufactured by Planters Nut and Chocolate Co. including chocolate covered almonds, filberts, peanuts, brazils, raisins, peanut clusters and peanut candy, Jordan almonds, and candy coated nuts and raisins. Still more candy varieties are stocked.

Manager of the highway store is Miss Betty Gillum. Nedo Cola operates downtown Planters.

and pedestrian lane. "I'm not 100 percent in favor of meters," Klass said, "but I think they are the lesser of two evils."

South Siders Report

He said he had questioned South Side merchants on Parsons-av where meters were installed a year ago. "Their chief complaint is that they have nickel meters — psychologically bad on customers."

"Why not put in penny meters here?" the jeweler asked Gallagher. "They would be good for 12-minutes up to an hour and would keep the cars moving." Gallagher said penny meters are not used anywhere in the city at present, but are perfectly feasible.

Klass recalled that merchants in the congested areas here have done several things to whip the parking problem. "We once placed courtesy tickets on windshields, and that worked to a degree; we campaigned the employes of the business firms to park on side streets; still others bought up old properties for back-side parking lots; but the problem is still with us."

The RBA committee decided to discuss the meter possibility with its executive group and have an answer before the Traffic Commission's next meeting.

American and Canadian national parks. It might be said that in many places in our national parks we can't see the forests for the trees but not so in Canada where they have cleared wide strips along the highway so that a different perspective presents itself. It seems that in Canada one gets the impression of vastness even more so than in our national parks.

After we had visited about seven national parks, I was of the opinion that we should skirt around Glacier National Park and get into Yellowstone sooner, but a convincing argument by our 13-year-old boy who has apparently absorbed some geography, convinced us of the worth of traveling another series of mountain roads, and so we headed into Glacier.

Here we drove across mountain highways, clinging to the sides like mountain goats and went through snow and ice three times as high as our car. Again, we say, see the national parks early in the spring to enjoy them at their fullest. By all means don't miss Crater Lake or Glacier.

The two parks that held the least of interest personally were Yosemite and Yellowstone. Beautiful, yes, but so many people present that the restfulness so apparent in the others was missing.

flooding may not be completely whipped," he asserted.

Local Problems Frequent

"Storm water infiltration into sanitary lines is our big problem. It takes a close house-to-house check to reveal all the improper drainage taking place. Basement and yard drains are sometimes sneaked into the sanitary lines. In the lower West Side some of the older combined sewers are a special problem."

The engineers said the Big Run project to Highland would help greatly to the east and west, but urged that the planners think of future development west of the city limits. A $400,000 extension to Demorest-rd or even on to the railroad beyond Georgesville-rd would be smart planning, they said.

Council President Ralston Westlake, Hilltop candidate for mayor, attended the meeting but was admonished by HBA President Jim Holroyd and Secretary C. H. Campbell to stick to technical questions. He said he still opposed the Lincoln Village hook-on "until we can extend Big Run out beyond Demorest-rd. Attaching at Highland is still two miles from the problem. The city should not reverse itself on serving outside interests."

Mayor Sensenbrenner stayed away, abiding by HBA wishes that politics not enter into the talks.

Monday night Westlake took to council more Hilltop petitions reflecting his attitude. There were 74 signatures, from Westgate, Rosary, Derrer-rd and elsewhere. During the session, his request of the Democratic majority to reconsider the Lincoln Village tap went unheeded.

One statement by Engineer Dill, leaving the HBA meeting Monday, could be taken as significant to the entire West area sewer problem. He said: "Just remember, with Big Run we are relieving a capacity that totals all the existing lines today.

Camping Rule: Don't Be a 'Strewball'

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Going camping this summer? Remember, the mark of a good camper is to leave a clean campsite.

Debris, such as tins, paper and bottles, don't belong in parks or in the wilderness and should not be left to clutter up the area when the camping period is over. Don't be strewball.

The fellow who leaves a clean camp sets an example for the next camper, and even though the two never met, the outgoer will unknowingly win the respect of the incomer.

There are many state or federal-owned camping places throughout the country in many beautiful areas—the state Division of Parks provides campsites at 28 parks in Ohio. These are for the public's enjoyment. They are to give everyone who wants to and can take advantage of them, the opportunity to spend a few days and nights in the open away from the busy bustle of the city life.

Treat these areas as though they belonged to you, for you are part owner of all public areas. Even though the state or federal government handles the upkeep, you pay the bill. Treat the area you camp in as if it were your own front yard at home. Leave it certainly as clean as you found it, and cleaner if possible.

Burn Debris First

Put tin cans and other cast-offs in one place. When you are ready to break camp, throw everything but glass into the fire. Paper and food remnants will burn. Even the cans will lose their rust-proof tin and their lacquer and labels. When the cans cool, mash them flat and bundle them up in your packs to take out to the main road for disposal in trash containers. These empty, burned cans weigh very little, but they are unsightly around a campsite. If it is not possible for you to pack out the cans, bury them or hide them in rock crevices away from the trail and out of sight.

Smash bottles and jars into a deep narrow hole. Fill with earth, stamp down firmly and cover with leaves or brush.

Burying Not Always Best

The burying of camp debris that has not been burned is an unsatisfactory practice. Wild animals have a habit of digging it out and scattering it in all directions. Then, too, the soil is disturbed, the grass or vegetation killed, and erosion will uncover the pits.

At developed campsites in parks there are numerous trash containers for all kinds of debris. These are usualy emptied daily, but it will improve the atmosphere if you will burn as much material as possible before it is placed in the cans.

Above all things, watch your fire. Never take a chance on starting a forest fire. There is an old saying that park managers and forest rangers like to quote, "One ape will make a million matches, but it takes only one match to burn a million trees." Soak your campfire thoroughly—and then check it again for the final faint embers.

Have fun, enjoy yourself in the great outdoors, but think of the other fellow. Leave him a clean campsite that he, too, can enjoy.

Free Hair Styles, Cuts Available To Fair Visitors

For the price of admission to the 1959 Ohio State Fair hundreds of women will receive the full beauty shop treatment, everything from permanent wave to manicure.

The work will be done at a model beauty school, part of the State Fair Apprentice Exhibit set up by the Ohio Department of Industrial Relations. The exhibit will be staffed by trainees and instructors of the Capital School of Beauty Culture. Some work on mannequins, but the majority of the students will be available to offer Fair visitors a free selection of hair stylings and other beauty aids.

According to Ralph J. Kuntz, State Fair coordinator for the department of Industrial Relations, the exhibit will demonstrate the actual training of beauticians and the opportunity available in the profession. Counselors will be on hand to answer questions.

Another Industrial Relations Department exhibit offering "live demonstrations" will be a barbering exhibit under the supervision of the Ohio State Board of Barber Examiners. Two of the three chairs in this exhibit will be manned by students in training, the other by a certified instructor.

Motion picture films used in the training of beauticians and barbers will also be shown at these exhibits.

One-Man Revolutions Are Needed Now

... Man Needs Independent Mind ...

A bronze tablet in Indianapolis records one of the wise and relevant remarks of a statesman and prophet:

"Here February 11, 1861, Abraham Lincoln, on his way to Washington to assume the Presidency, in an address said: "I appeal to you constantly bear in mind that not with the politicians, not with the Presidents, not with the office seekers, but with you is the question: Shall the union and shall the liberties of this country be preserved to the latest generation?"

This timely warning calls each responsible person to assess the nature of the present American predicament with an appraising eye and a clear head.

Three massive facts appear. The state is already enormous and is continuing to grow. The individual is very small and growing smaller. Only a revolutionary action can recover the autonomy of the individual person and the values of private enterprise.

War multiples the size and power of the state. National survival demands a dictatorship in a time of enemy attack or a time of international warfare. The two recent world wars have given most of us experience in totalitarian citizenship.

The wake of World War II has continued the apparent necessity for powerful central authority to withstand the external threat of hostile communist powers. Consequently, the American state has taken on colossal proportions.

Approximately four fifths of the enormous federal tax revenue goes to pay for wars past, present, and future. The Kremlin helps to enhance the size and power of the American Government.

Internal American strife has created larger and larger bureaus with more and more personnel spending more and more money. Big labor and big business require big government to serve as referee and arbitrator.

Each time a labor union cries out for federal help, as in the Wagner Act, a new bureau is formed with its retinue of vested interest career people and its bureaucratic needs. Each time an industry seeks special advantage through subsidy or legislation to improve its position for survival, or additional consideration in protection or profit from the various commissions, or seeks for regulation to avoid competition, new government agencies appear.

As expenses mount, an army of tax collectors must be put in the field to divert funds from private to state use in order to meet the insatiable demands of Leviathan.

The state grows because it is committed "to promote the general welfare." This concept has come to mean a welfare state with social security for the aged, unemployment compensation for the jobless, support and services for the indigent, and health services for the many.

The needs of man outrun his supply, no matter how vast the provision. Pressure for more social security, more unemployment compensation, more pensions, more health services, and more secure and easy government jobs builds up until the Leviathan grows apace, whether his strange head resembles a packyderm or a jackass.

Politicians must gain office and stay in office, or they are not politicians. The most exciting and the most venerable means of getting elected is to make promises. The exclusive formula for retaining office is either to keep the promises or to make bigger promises to obscure the failure of performance with reference to those already made.

Since giveaway promises appear to get quick results, they occur to parties and candidates alike. The state grows in proportion to its programs of expenditure. With the colossal greed of military demands and the insatiable pressure for welfare programs, the state must arrogate to itself more and more functions, power, and proportions. Parties and persons who aspire to office out-promise each other in a race to feed the Leviathan.

Inflationary pressures encourage the growth of the state. Everybody wants inflation for himself, but not for anybody else. As pressure builds up for more and more wages, prices must go up. The same pressures build up with respect to profits.

The parties pinched by builds up with respect to proinflation cry out for government help, and the sensitive politicians respond with the creation of new administrations, which involve more taxes, which require higher prices, which demand more wages; and the round repeats itself. The net result is more and more government.

Alexis de Tocqueville, noted French political scientist of the last century, described individualism as "a mature and calm feeling, which disposes each member of the community to sever himself from the mass of his fellow creatures; and to draw apart from his family and his friends, so that, after he has thus formed a circle of his own, he willingly leaves society at large to itself. Individualists owe nothing to any man, they expect nothing from any man; they acquire the habit of always considering themselves as standing alone, and they are apt to imagine that their whole destiny is in their own hands. Individualism is of democratic origin and threatens to spread in the same ratio as the quality of conditions." This creature of early American origin is little more than a museum piece. The individual features have become blurred in a collectivist world.

With "security" as a major aim for the earning motive and conformity as the principal consideration for the consuming motive, there is precious little individualism left. The virtues of Puritan America—honesty, industry, and frugality—are widely ignored as irrelevant.

People who can attain security by belonging to the association, the union, or the party are not likely to knock themselves out by working and planning for it. Even wild birds prefer the feeder to the tent caterpillars in the forest.

The responsibility to save for a rainy day has been turned over to Uncle Sam. "Honesty," which once included payment of debts, has been delegated to posterity. The conditions of contemporary society do not encourage individual responsibility.

Keeping up with the Joneses has taken a new turn under the spell of mass media. It may be "keeping down with the Joneses," or "up," as the case may be, but it must be like the Joneses. Consequently, coeds move their waistlines up or down, and our cars get bigger and "flashier," or small and foreign. Our homes grow more automatic and our children grow more nervous in an effort to belong to the crowd.

Deferred payments enable the newlyweds to conform to the pattern of their parents. Our music tastes level out to match our preferences in architecture, drama, and literature. We have variety without great difference. We prefer the organization man to the individualist. The dissenter, or the private thinker, is an inconvenience.

The individual is powerless against the political organization. Consequently the voter tends to join the consumer quest for the candidate who fits the norms of sincerity and federal generosity.

Only the conformist can belong to the machine, and only the machine can elect. The responsible citizen is obscured. The campaign oratory becomes perfunctory and dull, since it has little bearing on the election returns.

The private enterpriser in learning has become lost in the crowd on the campus. The Benjamin Franklin formula of a lifetime of learning has been replaced with the "four years and a degree" formula, with as little learning as possible.

Individual thought on crucial issues is hard to come by. Executives read a few cult books and a few mystery thrillers with very little else to stir up the neurons.

Even the last citadel of man—his religion—has become socialized. Instead of a vertical answer to God, man tends to give horizontal answers to the well-dressed and highly respectable congregation that has status. Private prayer has become beautifully professionalized. The multitudes huddle together in Jerusalem without much recollection of the lonely vigil on a mountain top at midnight or the silent walk by the shores of Galilee.

As the state grows big, the individual becomes small. People huddle together to dispel their loneliness and increase their share in security and advantage. The family becomes weak as a social unit. The peer group outranks the parents in prestige for the young. The conditions that beget autonomous people have given way to conditions that encourage the mass society.

The recovery of private enterprise begins with religion. No person is an individual until he can say: "I must obey God rather than men." This is the moral basis for all private judgment.

The individual human mind that operates in a divine influence that transcends all society. This is no invitation to fanaticism or anti-social attitudes. It is rather the basis for autonomous self-motivation and private enterprise in acts and letters, as well as in money management and citizenship. Robert Frost has a wise old Yankee farmer say: "I call your to a one-man revolution; the only revolution that is going to come."

The right to be wise is posited on the assumption that a person thinks privately. Education must be restored. Invention, creative art, new developments in the social order and new ideas are the result of individual thought rather than educational conformity. The quest for wisdom is a highly individual matter. The appetite for learning is antecedent to intellectual achievement.

A one-man revolution in the economy begins when a laborer stands up against his union or an industrialist stands up against his association in behalf of some worthy moral principle. The man who resourcefully develops his business without running to Uncle Sam is a one-man revolution. The young man who earns what he can by hard work and spends what he can afford is a private individual. The young wife who buys what is practical and beautiful rather than what is popular is a true person. The executive or statesman who decides on the basis of his best insight into the will of God rather than expediency has found himself.

The problem of the ever-growing state must be met if any sphere for individual initiative is to be maintained. There are two massive social forces that resist the encroachment of government. There are resentment against high taxes and resentment against the loss of individual liberties.

The man of independent mind can encourage these forces by intelligent conversation and astute action. The employer has responsibility to make employees acutely aware of the tax that is diverted from his pay check. He is responsible to dramatize the loss of liberty that comes with the overwhelming state. The intellectual, the clergyman, the worker, the homemaker, the common man in any vocation is involved in the struggle to recover the shrunken concept of individual responsibility that is essential to personal fulfillment and the good society under God.

BIBLE COMMENT

Complacency Noted Today

The Bible, both in the Old Testament and the New, has a great deal to say about trials and temptations and also a great deal concerning enemies. But the religious outlook and literature of today, there is comparatively little concerning trials and temptations, and almost nothing concerning enemies.

A rather complacent attitude is taken toward life, and if there is much concern it is chiefly about such matters as inner peace and strength.

Why is there such a discrepancy between the comparative complacency of present-day religious life and the tense situations of trial, trouble and temptation so common in the Biblical records, or so strongly indicated in the reference to them?

We have been living in deeply troubled times. Not only have enemies in the mass been as almost never before, but almost numberless individuals have been subjected to persecution, torture and death on a scale and in a manner that would have been inconceivable in anticipations of the 20th century.

If this is so, why should there be such comparative religious complacency? Political writers have noted an utterly unaccustomed apathy on the part of the public. They attribute this apathy to a comparative ease and prosperity on the part of people who don't want to be disturbed.

The religious complacency is to be explained in much the same way, but is unrealistic and false to the actual situations and stresses of the world and of life.

The Bible is a book of crisis and of crises, of trials and temptations; of souls often in what might have been desperation, if it had not been for a commanding faith.

Horseshoe Tourney Set

A horseshoe tournament for boys and girls in three age groups, Junior, Intermediate and Senior, is planned for July 29. Winners will represent Dana in the city-wide tournament the following week.

Lantern Parade here recently was a great success, especially for Dana playground, which won first prize!

The youngsters were all very proud and excited, as were their supervisors. The theme was "Our Solar System."

A lantern representing each planet revolved around one very large lantern representing the sun. Other lanterns constructed as flying saucers, rocket ships, etc., then passed through the moving solar system.

Carrying lanterns were: Patsy and Karen Scrugga, Ernie and Gloria Kimber, Jerry Thompson, Zeke Humphrey, Mary, Joe and Linda McNeil, Nancy Baker, Donna and Mary Lou Jarvis, Karen Welkert, Paulette McCann, Vicki, Carol, Wayne and Sandy Lanthron.

Many others who did not attend the parade worked very hard helping, and Mrs. Marvin Baker was on hand at the parade to help out.

At Chicago . . .

Senior boys, softball team played West Mound last week and lost a very close game. Chicago was ahead several times, but the score ended 21-20, in favor of West Mound.

Junior boys' team dropped a game to McKinley Wednesday by a score of 21-1.

Chicago intermediate girls' team played at Westgate, losing by 47-17.

McKinley and Chicago children will combine in a short skit, "Around the World in Twenty Seconds," at the drama festival.

Chicago Avenue children who will attend Day Camp at Indian Village the week of Aug. 3 are: Debbie Artz, Neil Beck, Jo Ellen Valentino, Kathy Valentino, Eugene White, Bucky McWhorter, and Jeanne McWhorter.

On July 16, 20 Chicago children took part in the Lantern Parade at Glenwood.

Girls parading were: Helen Hunter, Sally Cook, Joy and Cindy Fleming, Vikkie, Nikki and Jo Ellen Valentine, Patty Spaulding, Debbie Artz, Sue Hampton, Ruth Strickler, Debbie Beck, and Mary Jane Watson. Among the boys were David Bradford, Jerry Defenbaugh, Neil Beck, Kenneth Hampton, Eugene White, Jim Flynn, and Steve Baker. Several parents accompanied the children.

At Holton . . .

This is the week of the Drama Festival. Holton will be at John Burroughs School Thursday at 2 p.m. to portray the "Viper." Everyone is welcome to come and see the skits and stunts from many playgrounds.

Beginning this week will be the city-wide horseshoe tournament. All boys and girls who are interested may come to the park and compete against others of the same age.

Holton will have a paddle tennis tournament soon. Choose a partner and sign up for the tournament this week.

Due to rain only one softball game was played last week. Holton defeated Kingswood, 22 to 11.

Games to be played this week are: Junior Boys vs. Glenwood; Intermediate Boys vs. Hauntz and McKinley; Junior Girls vs. Highland; and Intermediate Girls vs. John Burroughs, Sunshine, and Chicago.

Today is the last day to register for Indian Village Day Camp for the week of Aug. 3. Applications are available at the park. Cost for day camp is $2.50 a week.

On July 16 Holton participated in the Lantern Parade at Glenwood Park. The theme of Holton's lanterns was "Animals Under The Big Top." Holton centered 12 lanterns, 10 made from cardboard boxes and two of papier-mache.

Becky Hobbs and Rosemary Spires lead Holton with a sign telling the theme, beside a large circus tent. Next was a "circus tent" lantern carried by Jim Price and Tom Hankle. The last lantern was a "circus wagon" carried by Georgia Hagy and Shirley Kanee. It will be on display at City Hall soon. Others entering from Holton were Ken and Mark Massey, Karen and Christine, Ralph Lombard, Mary Grace McDonald, Marta and Peggy Renner, and Nancy and Mary Kanee. The youngsters spent between five and 15 hours preparing for this event.

At McKinley . . .

McKinley and Chicago Avenue playgrounds have combined for their entry in the Drama Festival, and each will enter 10 children.

Ten from McKinley are: Sharon Miller, Tony Weaver, Jay Queen, Brenda Pierson, John Pierson, Linda Righter, Charlie Miller, Rosemary Pierson, Doris Queen, Mary Sue Strickler, and Brent Pierson.

The game scheduled with the Westgate One team was rained out last Thursday night, and was rescheduled for 6 p.m. Monday night.

Day camp is scheduled for Aug. 3. The bus will pick the children up at Glenwood at 9 a.m., Monday through Friday, and return them at 5 p.m.

The Lantern Parade was quite a success for McKinley children. Their lanterns portrayed 18 different Mother Goose characters—32 children from McKinley participated.

At Sunshine . . .

Junior Jet (Little League) baseball is off and running this summer at Sunshine. More than 200 boys are participating in the program which is divided into two leagues—the American and the National. The American is comprised of boys eight through 10, and the National boys 11 and 12 years old. Each team plays two games a week—American League games start at 4:30 and National League games, at 6 p.m. Program at Sunshine is sponsored by the Police AA, in cooperation with the City Recreation Department.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

Two girls' softball leagues, a junior and an intermediate, at Sunshine, are playing each week. The girls have a three win and three loss record.

At Westgate . . .

The Bean Dinner and downpours on the other three days caused postponement of most of the playground's softball and Junior Jet games last week.

However the girls' intermediate squad did get in a game with Chicago Avenue, which they won 47-17, in a tight defensive battle. The girls' junior team No. 1 played McKinley Monday evening and the intermediates will play at Sullivant Gardens Friday evening at 6. Westgate No. 1 and 2 teams will also play each other some time during the week.

The boys' intermediates, rained out with Highland, will make it up at 3:30 Thursday. They also met Glenwood yesterday. Both games at Westgate.

All boys and girls between eight and 12 years who are interested in attending the Recreation Department's day camp next week ($2.50) must sign up with Miss Gillian on the playground before this Thursday morning. The bus will pick up at a point on the West Side at 9 a.m. and return at 5, Monday through Friday next week.

There is also a singles horseshoe under way at the park in preparation for the city's inter-playground competition starting next week.

Westgate will take part in the Drama Festival at John Burroughs elementary school this Thursday at 2 p.m.

All boys and girls interested in both the Junior Olympic swim meet and track and field feet should sign up at the playground at once. The swim meet is Wednesday, Aug. 5, but all registrations must be in at the playground by Monday, Aug. 3.

The track meet is Saturday, Aug. 15, in the Ohio State stadium, with all registrations having to be in by Thursday, Aug 13. Further information can be obtained on the playgrpund. Participants must take out AAU membership. No other fees will be charged.

Area residents are urged to get their cancer check-ups, stressed this week as part of the clinic's "Crash Detection" program to prevent cancer. They may be performed either by the clinic or the Family doctor.

In an effort to increase the public alertness to the one sound preventive measure against cancer — early detection — the Columbus Cancer Clinic is now sponsoring a "Crash Detection" program. It is a strong appeal to local residents to be examined by their family doctor or by the agency, itself. An annual check-up is suggested. The agency reports the folowing number of examinations given last year in the Hartley Newspapers area: Hilliard, 14; Dublin, 5; West Columbus, 21; Groveport, 10; East Side, 36; Reynoldsburg, 7. The clinic hopes to raise these figures considerably in the coming year.

The painless, 45-minute examination includes a skin test, surface test for lumps, testing of eyes, ears, nose and throat and biopsies.

Examinations at the clinic, located at the Ohio State University Medical Center, are by appointment. They may be arranged by calling AX. 4-1234.

The United Appeal agency reports 150,000 American lives are being saved each year by early detection . . . "but the cancer victims of tomorrow are those who put off their check-up today."

Between the Bean Dinner and three days of downpour, the Westgate Junior Jet leagues came to almost a complete halt last week. Two games, one in each league, were "sneaked" in between showers early in the week. In the minors the undefeated loop-leading Marlins were dumped by the Royals, 6-4, in a contest that put both of these clubs in a tie for top spot. In the majors the Indians knocked off the Yankees (a fairly common occurrence elsewhere this year, too), 11-1.

The schedule for next week (Wed. to Wed.) minors at 1:30: Wed. July 29, Jet-Martins; Fri., July 31, Royals-Stars; Mon. Aug. 3, Bears-Seals; Tues. Aug. 4, Jets-Royals; Wed. Aug. 5, Bears-Marlins. The majors at 6: Wed. July 29, Braves-Indians; Thurs. July 30, Indians-Tigers; Mon. Aug. 3, Reds-Giants; Tues. Aug. 4, Braves-Indians; Wed. Aug. 5, Reds-Yanks.

In the Y's intermediate softball loop on Thursday evening, the second round came to a close with DeMolay and Hillcrest Baptist tied for the lead. Last week DeMolay swamped Hoge Memorial, 15-5, as the entire DeMolay squad had their hitting clothes on, paced by Dave Wolfe's 3-run homer. Tom Martranft had an outstanding day for the losers.

Hillcrest tallied 3 runs in the last half of the seventh as Gary Reynolds homered to tie things up at 7-7. Joe Massey singled in the winning run from third. Fred Frank clouted a homer for West Park, as Hillcrest nipped them, 8-7.

In the Club division of the Slo-Pitch league last week, Westway Post stayed undefeated downing rival Northway Post, 9-2. Overmire's homer paced the losers, as Ray McVay had three bingies for the victors. The Hilltop Lions, paced by homers by Bob Bethel and Dave Woodland, topped the Ys-Men, 11-4. Don Roederer had 3-3 for the losers.

Westminster Presbyterian broke into the win column with a 9-5 victory over Lincoln Village Baptist. The club loop's schedule for next week is as follows: Wed., Aug. 5. Northway-Ys - Men, Lions - Westminster Presbyterian, Lincoln Village-Columbia Hts. Westway has the bye.

Church division schedule: Tuesday, Aug. 11, West Park-Westgate EUB, Westgate Methodist-Glenwood Methodist, Hillcrest Baptist-Burgess EUB, and West Park has the bye.

The Hilltop Kiwanis Babe Ruth squad, after losing all of their first round games, and then starting the second with a bang by winning their first two, had a disastrous weekend as they dropped two. Saturday they took it on the chin from second round leader, Jones Trucking Co., 8-0. (Jones took them 3-0 in the first round.) The victors only outhit the Hilltoppers, 5-4, but the losers committed seven errors and allowed several stolen bases, plus not hitting.

Sunday, in a makeup of a rained-out contest, they got beaten by Boys Club, 1-0 in a thrilling eight-inning encounter. Both squads had three hits. With two away in the bottom of the eighth, the Boys Club iced it as second sacker Larry Purcell singled and stole second. He came riding home on centerfielder Ted Gray's single. Ray Barnes pitched his first game for the Kiwanis and turned in a brilliant job, though in defeat, as he whiffed 8, walked only 1, but hit 2 batsmen. (His only previous pitching assignment was one game for Hilltonia Jr. High this spring.) He got errorless backing for a change.

Boys Club catcher Bob Dent paced the victor's attack with 2-3 at the plate. Bob Johnson was the winning hurler. In Saturday's encounter, winning pitcher for Jones, Saltsman, struck out 12.

This Saturday they meet the Northwest Mounties (Upper Arlington) at 10:30 a.m. at Barrington Jr. High.

Their loop's (International League) all-star team won their first game at New Castle (erroneously listed as at Newcomerstown last week) in the Babe Ruth District tourney and then got dropped at Springfield to end their 'trail'.

The Hilltop bowling alley will start enrolling their housewife leagues for the winter action about Aug. 1.

St. Mary Magdalene Athletic Association will hold an important business meeting at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The newly elected officers will take over and the fall plans will be discussed . . . i. e. the Fall Festival, a dance, and miscellaneous sports functions.

Out Georgian Heights way, the civic association little league squad is currently leading their league (Southwestern I.I.). Their Babe Ruth team lost to Upper Arlington, 7-0 last week and will meet again this week.

The association's golf league is parking right along, too. Sixteen men play every Wednesday evening starting about 5:30 at the Oakhurst Country Club. (This is the new course located four miles south of W. Broad.) They play in four foursomes, playing nine holes per evening. Golf balls are awarded each session for low putter. To close their festivities in September, they will have a big roundup and party. Besides the food and partying, their golfing ability will be tested with prizes for low man, low putter and a driving and putting contest.

The DeMolay (Columbus Chapter) has copped their District's loop title and is now awaiting the state tourney at the State Conclave in Dayton in a couple of weeks. They kept in tune by dumping Grove City chapter last Sunday, 17-10. They started their second string and were losing 10-6 in the fifth. Inserting their first team, they proceeded to catch up, go ahead and 'take home the bacon'.

Wednesday, Aug. 5 the Recreation Department will hold its annual Jr. Olympics Swim Meet at the Maryland Park pool. They have added some lanes at the pool (now 10) and regulated the distance and added several new events. Registration forms (must be an AAU member) are at the playground areas and must be returned there (or at the Recreation office, City Hall) by Monday, Aug. 3. The meet will start about noon. There is no entry charge for playground registrants.

Also coming up, on Saturday, Aug. 15, is the department's gala Jr. Olympic Track and Field Meet at the OSU Stadium track. The same facts given above for the swim meet apply for this event also. However registration forms must be turned in by Thursday, Aug. 13.

GUATEMALANS FETED

Tea Honors Scout Delegates

Two girl scouts from Guatemala City in Central America were the honored guests at a recent tea at the Galloway home of Mrs. Robert Richards, 3625 W. Broad-st.

Attended by approximately 70 adult and senior girls of the Ohio Trefoil Council, the fete was conducted in honor of those who attended the world-wide Round-Up at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Both Estela Hernandez, 18, and her companion, Aida Chavarris, 17, of Guatemala, were attired in powder blue uniforms of their country. Both are troop leaders.

Estela is a secretary and accountant and has 32 members in her Intermediate group. Aida is a teacher. She has charge over 24 Brownies.

Presides At Tea

Presiding at the tea table was Marion V. Packard, president, Ohio Trefoil Council.

Also present were Mrs. Leon Mathews, past Council president; Mrs. Raymond Haughn, 389 S. Harris-av, chairman Council program committee; Mrs. Henry Anderson of the Round-Up Selection committee; Miss Meredeth Henry, staff member; Emma Mikeles, staff member and advisor, Public Relations Committee; and Mrs. James W. Whalen, member of Council Public Relations Committee.

Mrs. Haughn presented Estela and Aida with special scrapbooks in which to place souvenirs and mementos of their visit to the States.

Petit Taxes

The petrol in which the two honored scouts from Guatemala City were members at the Round-Up presented a folk dance in costume, singing in Spanish while dancing. The costumes were brought by Estela and Aida.

The exquisitely lovely and fine-detailed hand-loomed fabric of which the costumes were made, denoted the area from which the fabric came.

The two visitors explained the processes employed while weaving on the hand loom. They gave a demonstration on an imported Guatemalan hand-loom belonging to Mrs. Richards.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR

Fruits — Peaches, cantaloupe, watermelon, apples, frozen lemonade.

Vegetables — Sweet corn, tomatoes, snap beans, cucumbers, cabbage.

PEACHES 'N CREAM

Peaches take over at the fruit counter in August and September. Say "peaches" and you probably think of peaches and cream . . . or is it crusty peach cobbler, peach upside-down cake, or peach pie? Or you may think about canning or freezing . . . then you can have peaches and cream all winter.

The Ohio Peach Season Is Here — It may seem early to you. In fact, it is. Hot dry weather in June caused earlier ripening than usual and the harvest this years is running from one to two weeks ahead of the average season.

This year's crop in Ohio is estimated to be about 27 percent smaller than it was last year, and probably will run 15 percent lower than the 10-year average. Severe weather last winter caused heavy damage to peaches in central and southwestern parts of the state. Peach growers in this county will have few peaches to sell. But the crop up along the lake and in the northeast corner of the state is about normal.

This means that some areas of the state will have fewer homegrown peaches on hand than usual this year. Early Red Fee, Elbertas and Red Haven varieties were most severely damaged.

Fortunately the crop nationally is about the same as last year, so we won't have a peach famine. We will likely have more of this fruit shipped in this year to make up for the local shortages. We can still have our favorite cobbler, upsidedown cake, or peach pie.

Ripening Dates — If you have a favorite variety for eating, for canning or for freezing, the following table can serve as a guide for approximate ripening dates for Ohio peaches:

Redhaven	July 30
Golden Jubilee	Aug. 4
Fairhaven	Aug. 10
Sunhogs	Aug. 10
South Haven	Aug. 15
Hale Haven	Aug. 17
Elberta	Aug. 28
J. H. Hale	Sept. 1
Shippers Late Red	Sept. 3

*Best variety for freezing — non-browning.

Storage at Home — Ripe peaches are very perishable. Bruised spots quickly become decayed spots, so handle carefully. Store them in the refrigerator until they are to be used. Peaches picked at the firm-ripe stage will ripen further at room temperature.

Prepare peaches. Mix flour, sugar, salt and cinnamon. Cut in butter until mixture is crumbly. Place the peaches in a shallow baking dish (about 8 inches) and sprinkle mixture over fruit. Bake at 350°F. for 40-50 minutes. Serve warm with cream if desired; or cold with ice cream. Serves eight.

A peach dessert sure to please is:

Plantation Crisp

3 c. sliced fresh peaches
¾ c. flour
¾ c. brown sugar
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. cinnamon
½ c. butter

Patricia Manus Is Bride of David Green

MRS. DAVID RUSH GREEN

Miss Patricia Manus became the bride of David Rush Green Saturday, July 25, 7:30 p.m. at Bexley Methodist Church. Dr. Hiram C. Weld read the service before an altar decorated with candelabra, huckleberry and ferns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Manus of 689 S. Hague-av. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil O. Green of 2191 Amherst-av.

The bridal gown of pure silk organza and allencon lace was designed with a fitted bodice, scalloped bateau neckline trimmed with appliques of jewelled lace, and shirred sleeves. The bouffant skirt featured festooned side drapes and extended into a chapel train.

A queen's crown of lace and pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a prayerbook topped with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Ann Manus served as maid of honor for her sister and other attendants were Mrs. Walter Wirth, Jr., sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Jack Kuechler, Miss Lynn Hanawalt and junior bridesmaid, Miss Christine Hanawalt.

They were gowned in ballerina-length frocks of lace and silk organza in water nile, styled with portrait necklines and floating panels that fell from the back of the waistline to the hemline of the draped skirts. They wore Swedish crowns of iridescents with circular veils and carried arrangements of purple asters and sweetheart roses with ivy foliage.

Mr. Jack Kuechler served as bestman, and guests were seated by Mr. Russell E. Friend, Mr. Walter Wirth, Jr., and Mr. Frank William Brumfield.

The mother of the bride wore a cocktail length gown of chantilly lace in orchid pink with a chiffon draped front, and pinned a corsage of pink sweetheart roses to her purse.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a gown of dusty rose lace with matching jacket, and wore an identical corsage.

Hostesses for the reception, held at Ilonka's Provincial House were Mrs. Edward Rosenow, Mrs. William Gibeaut, Mrs. Russell E. Friend, Mrs. Philip Holdren, Miss Barbara Butts, and junior hostess, Miss Ronda Stokes, niece of the bride.

The bride was graduated from West High School and from Ohio State University where she was president of Alpha Phi Sorority. She is a second grade teacher at Westgate Elementary.

Mr. Green, also a graduate of West High and Ohio State University, is associated with Huntington National Bank. He is a member of Phi Kappa Tau.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will reside at 994 Racine-av.

HILLTOP MEMBER OF JUNIOR RED CROSS MEETS PRESIDENT 'IKE'

PRESIDENTIAL SEND-OFF—With the admonition "work hard," President Eisenhower at the White House today tells 14 Europe-bound Junior Red Cross members good-bye as they start a six-week study visit to foreign Red Cross societies. "You get the most fun out of things requiring you to do the most work, the President said. "What you work hard to attain you appreciate the most." The Juniors will visit Germany, Switzerland, France, Italy, Ireland, Britain, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. Seen in the group, fourth from right, is Michael Kagay, 16, of 48 N. Roye-av, of the Franklin County chapter. At far right is General Alfred Mr. Gruenther, American Red Cross president.

Hilltop Scout Troop 79 Leases 90-Acre Hocking Co. Campsite

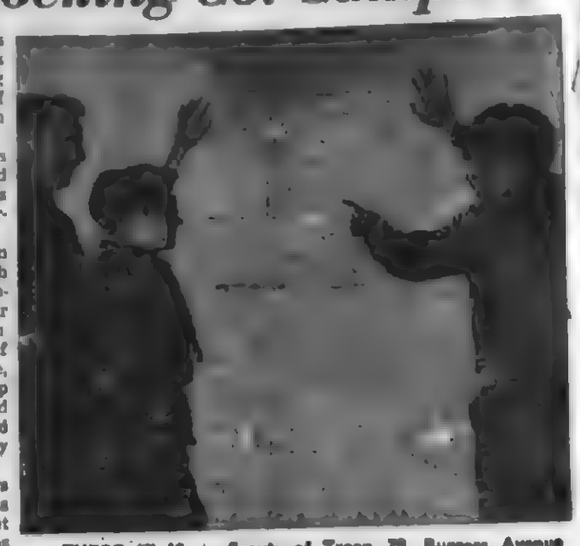
Sounds of hammers and saws are competing with bird songs these days in the Hocking County Hills as Boy Scouts of Troop 79 work on their own 90-acre troop camp.

The heavily wooded tract is situated near South Perry and has been leased by the Burgess Avenue EUB troop for year-round monthly campouts.

Two stays have already been made this summer and each patrol has cleared out a camping area where they pitch their own tents and do all their own cooking. A large waterproof tent on sturdy pipe frame, made especially for the troop by committeemen (and stitched by an awning company), is used for classes or shelter on rainy days.

The boys and their leaders built a rustic bridge over a ravine. The bridge is 33 feet long and five feet wide. Plans call for the construction of three-sided Adirondack shelters with built-in bunk beds for each patrol for winter camping.

Yet to be built are a fireplace, ceremonial campfire area and other bridges. They also hope to open one of several springs in the area.



Twenty-four boys and six men attended the latest campout held July 10, 11, and 12.

Committeemen Announced

Troop 79 committee members for the coming year are being announced. Chairman is Mearl V. Weaver; scoutmaster, Evan Morgan; treasurer, Calvin Lutz; secretary, Karl Shultz. In charge of transportation is James Blythe; advancement, Horace Elliott. Maynard Neher is troop sales chairman.

Members of the entertainment committee are William Sheets and Jim Sharkey, assistant scoutmaster. Food committee members are the following: Clayton Horne, Maynard Neher, Evan Morgan and Mearl Weaver. On the outdoors committee are Earl Sisson, Richard Stoteberry, Evan Morgan, Mearl Weaver and Scouts Rondell Blythe, senior patrol leader and Melvin Allard, junior assistant scoutmaster.

Marvin Snyder is institutional representative from the sponsoring church, Burgess Avenue Evangelical and United Brethren. Other committee members are Max Allard and Frank Haley.

THERE IT IS — Scouts of Troop 79, Burgess Avenue EUB Church, point out the location of their leased 90-acre camp in the Hocking Hills. Left to right are: Scoutmaster Evan Morgan, Dick Wilkinson, and Melvin Allard.

St. Timothy Host To 'Caravaners'

A team of youth "Caravaners" were guests of St. Timothy Lutheran Church, July 25-28.

The young people are traveling for the Luther League of America, official youth organization of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The caravan program is designed to assist congregational youth groups with their total young peoples' program.

Members of the St. Timothy Caravan Committee include: Carol and Jim Carpenter, Ruth Dowling, Bob Stine and Cheryl Laughlin. Advisor is pastor Bishop.

Aquacade Slated For Livco Pool

Livco Pool in Lincoln Village will be the scene of the Junior Olympics Aquacade when Sunday, Aug. 9, rolls around.

Races and games begin at 1:15 p.m., Nicholas Vigilante, pool manager, announced. A water show is scheduled for 2:30 to be followed by a presentation of awards to members of the swimming classes.

The event is open to all members and their guests.

WEST AREA STREETS FACELIFTED

CREWS BUSY—City workmen have been busy the last two weeks patching and sealing dozens of streets in West Columbus. Last winter's freezing, followed by floods, left the streets in below average condition. This scene was snapped at Crescent-dr and Whitehead-rd.

Judge Orders Work Stoppage

An advance date of Aug. 8 has been set by a common pleas judge for the issuance of a temporary injunction stopping a contractor from removing dirt from a tract at Georgesville and Hallrds.

According to residents, the land in the area is zoned for agriculture. Eight families protested the digging.

Judge Robert Leach stated that most of the damage resulting from the dirt removal has already been done.

The contractor, Jack Frost, Inc., has said that he will replace the topsoil if he is allowed to remove about 25,000 more cubic feet.

Heights Football Players To Report Next Tuesday

Candidates for the Franklin Heights football squad this fall should report to the high school gym Tuesday, Aug. 4 at 1 p.m. for physical examinations, head coach Chuck Gilbert has announced.

All those intending to try for the team will be welcome, Gilbert stated, whether or not they have previously won letters.

SOCIAL SLATED

An old-fashioned ice cream social will get underway at the Salem Heights Church, corner of Demorest and Alkire-rds Saturday, Aug. 1, from 5 to 8 p.m. Ice cream, sandwiches, baked beans, refreshments and dessert will be available.

Don't forget to call in that news item—BR. 4-1155.

New Fish Stock Ratio Used In County Ponds

Farm pond owners in Franklin Soil Conservation District have recently received fish for stocking their ponds. These fish are supplied by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Seven ponds in the county have been stocked this year on District cooperator's farms. The new stocking ratio is 1,000 bluegills and 200 bass per acre, according to David C. Brooks, Soil Conservation.

This new stocking ratio has been adopted as a result of research and field work of Dr. George Morgan of Denison University and Paul Handwerk of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, according to Granville Smith, Field Biologist.

It involves more bass and bluegills than were previously used and will provide better odds for maintaining proper fish balance than any ratio used so far, Smith states.

According to Brooks, there are many reasons why pond fish populations get "out of balance." These include summer and winter fish kills, excessive aquatic weed growth, excessive water turbidity caused by clay and silt due to soil erosion.

Brooks stated that farm ponds are an important source of water for farm use and benefit to wildlife as well. "Ponds can be used for fishing and other recreation without interfering with their primary use for livestock water."

Southwind Plans Watermelon Fest

Watermelon Festival will be held at the Southwind Villa, Sunday, Aug. 2 from 2 until 8 p.m.

The event is free to all families in Central Ohio living in mobile homes. There will be ice cream, Coca Cola, contests, prizes, and watermelon for all.

Southwind Villa is located at 1066 Smith-rd between Champion-av and Lockbourne-rd.

Sight Program Teacher Aids Blind Pupils In City Schools

Bringing light, in the form of inspiration and knowledge, to children who are surrounded by a world of darkness is a little publicized facet of the Special Education Department of the city of Columbus.

One teacher, Mrs. Virginia Becker, is in charge of this sight conservation program. She has the job of instructing the blind and near-blind in all city schools, from elementary through 12th grade.

"It must be remembered that a blind child is first of all a child, and secondly a child with a handicap," she contends. "They do not learn in spite of their handicap, but because of their ability."

Most of her pupils are located in the elementary group. She has two who are partially blind who attend junior high.

All of her charges go to braille classes until the third grade. "They also learn the touch-typing system when they are in their first year," she pointed out.

Mrs. Becker took basic training for her present position at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N.Y. This summer she has a $500 grant to further her studies at San Francisco State College in California.

She expects to do some clinical work there, counseling of parents and treating the blind.

Many of the children she has aided thus far have been blind since birth, a result of being born prematurely and administered too much oxygen, she says. "Although that situation has been pretty much remedied now."

Her job consists of coordinating blind children's instruction with that of the classroom teacher.

"For instance, if the class is asked to point out and name various drawings, such as a flower, then I prepare for the blind children in the group three-dimensional training-aids so that they might recognize a flower."

As part of her background, the personable teacher includes two years of teaching children of American dependents in Japan. She also taught conversational English to Japanese adults.

To Mrs. Becker, it is important that blind children are brought up in a "seeing" world, through the use of their abilities.

INTRODUCTORY REMARKS—Young Holly Reed, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reed, 1405 Severn-dr, arrives on the last day of school to meet her kindergarten teacher for next year, Mrs. Annabelle Snyder. Introductions are supplied by Mrs. Virginia Becker, right, itinerant teacher for Sight Conservation Program of all Columbus Schools. Holly, blind since birth, eagerly awaits the fall term at Berwick Elementary.

Twelfth Win Is Notched By Jockeys

With winning apparently an unbreakable habit, Beulah Park Jockey Club notched its twelfth straight Heart-of-Ohio League win Sunday, belting Dan Rohyans Fords, 8-1, at Southview.

Two fights took place during the hotly-contested game with Rohyan player-manager, Dan Kelly, getting ejected in the eighth inning.

The Fordsmen kept close behind Beulah Park until the last two innings when the Jockeys exploded for six big runs.

In other games, Nelsonville edged Woods Plumbers, 4-3; Anchor-Hocking downed Zanesville, 7-5; and the Colts toppled the Businessmen, 5-0, at Chillicothe. Beulah Park 000 200 033-8 9 1

Others attaining the honor list included Jo Ellen Thomas, 3094 Riverside-dr, Dublin; James L. Wilcox, 1200 Altonrd, Galloway; Rachel S. Bowman, 4000 Cemetery-rd, Hilliard; and Richard J. Hagedon, 55 Bruce-av; Mary S. Keefer, 376 Columbus-st; Paul D. Smith, 4251 Harrisburg-pk; and Barbara Dowell Houston, 290 Columbus-st; all of Grove City.

Lincoln Village Mosquito Loop Will Be Honored

A swarm of mosquitoes will descend on Jet Stadium Aug. 12.

Occasion for the foray is the Lincoln Village Mosquito League Night, when the 70 youngsters who've been demonstrating the finer points of Abner will be honored at the Jets Doubleday's sport all season game.

The league got going this season only with a big assist from the Jets management, which donates all profits to youth work in Columbus.

A buzzin' pre-game ceremony is planned with Lincoln Villager Joe Holbrook at the mike.

Reserved seat tickets at $1.60 may be obtained from any Lincoln Village Mosquito Leaguer or, if they haven't landed on your doorstep yet, from Bob Clark, TR. 8-4563, or Bob Rowland, TR. 8-4637.

Hairy Legs Will Pass In Review

There will be a beauty contest at the Hilliard Pool this Friday night.

But if you are looking for smooth complexions and curvy lines, chances are that you're in for a disappointment. All you'll likely see are hairy legs and whiskered faces.

It's for the men. The pool will be conducting its annual beauty contest for men.

Although the winner won't be known until the event is over, the ones to beat are Ralph Geese, John Yore and John Clark, according to pool owner Bill O'Hara.

Three-Day Homecoming Set To Get Underway August 6

Preparations for the climax of Central Ohio's annual summer festivals will top the village agenda for Harrisburg during the next week.

Homecoming festivities will get underway in the south western area community, 10 miles south of Grove City, Thursday, Aug. 6 and will continue to midnight Saturday.

A gala round of events has been scheduled for visitors and home town residents by the planning committee of the local Knights of Pythias.

Jenny In Charge

The man in charge of the festivities is William Jenny. Purpose of the once-a-year fete is to raise money for the local lodge. Proceeds of the affair go to the lodge home at Springfield and to needy members.

"This is the 26th annual Homecoming," Jenny stated. "And we aim to make it the biggest and best ever."

The fun and frolic is slated to get underway at 4 p.m. Thursday when the concession stands will open.

Dancing will be conducted every evening from 8 to midnight on the platform adjacent to the Sherman Lodge hall, Jenny said. Music will be provided by Toadie Reed.

Parade Slated

Highlighting Friday's events will be a "Comic Parade" in which village youngsters will participate.

"Crazy costumes are the order of the day," Jenny stated. "The crazier, the better."

The march is scheduled to begin at 10:30 a.m.

A recital by the Orient State Band is next on the agenda. The concert will be heard from 2-4 p.m.

Little Leaguers will participate in a baseball game at the same time at the Harrisburg Elementary School yard.

Set For Fun

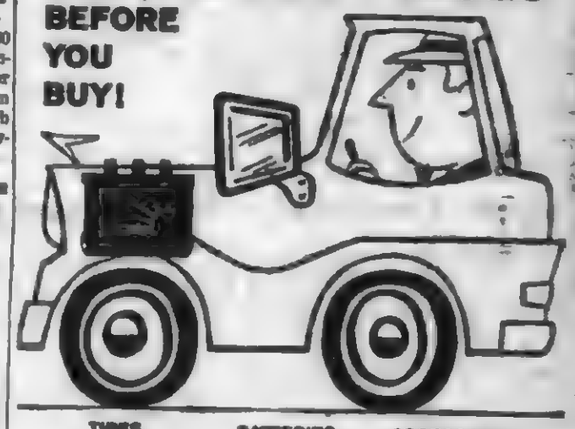
The "Dogpatchers," a group of entertainers, will gag and sing their way through an hour of mirth and merriment starting at 6 p.m.

Saturday's schedule calls for the Grand Parade through the village streets at around 10:30 a.m.

Floats from many of the festivals and homecomings throughout the area will be entered. Cash prizes will be awarded to the most decorative.

Another Little League game is also to be included on the final day's docket.

Yellow Bud Band is slated for a performance at 1 p.m., Jenny noted.



"And that's not all," the chairman proclaimed. "We also have lined up jugglers, a variety band, under the direction of Eileen Diehl, midway rides, novelties, and of course, the annual Darby Valley Flower Show."

Mountains and More Mountains in West

If your nerves are not steady or if you get a little dizzy at great heights, better take it easy on a trip through the West.

I'll readily admit that the palms or my hands were quite moist a number of times on our recent trip as we rounded another curve and looked out into space that went straight down for several thousand feet. And to top it off, it was not uncommon to meet another car on the curve . . . and with no guard rail.

If you are the nervy type and want a real thrill, take the mule ride down into Grand Canyon. And if you like a particularly thrilling ride over a side road, take the trip in northern California to the steam geysers. Here we drove some 21 miles, most of which seemed UP—and all the time, more than an hour, not seeing another car.

The steam geysers will soon become the scene of a giant electric generating plant when industry attempts to harness the steam coming from an undertermined depth of the earth's bowels.

As we left Grand Canyon earlier in our trip we were thrilled by the sight of a snow capped mountain in the distance. But as we continued north and through California, Washington, British Columbia, Alberta, Idaho, Wyoming and Montana, snow capped mountains became a common sight.

As we drove into Crater Lake Park we had to stop and have a snow ball battle in June. We took pictures like mad not knowing that in the next few days we would drive for miles and miles through snow along the highways. In Glacier National Park the highway itself had been cleared with the result that in places the snow stood 20 feet high.

One of our mountain thrills came as we started east from Yellowstone Park and made our own way over a narrow road under construction along the Buffalo Bill Dam. Here we had to back up to make way for another car to go through a small tunnel. On our return home we learned that the day after we had passed this spot the whole side of the mountain gave way following some blasting. A lady driver had just passed through the tunnel and looked into her rear vision mirror to see the tunnel cave in.

After coming down off this last mountain in Wyoming, a gruelling task if I ever had one at the wheel of a car, I remarked to the man at our motel that it was quite a relief to be down on lower ground again. His reply: "You are really safer up there. We kill them down here."

And then there is the mountain of faces . . . Mt. Rushmore in South Dakota. This is a must if you are traveling West, but take enough time to relax and give a thought to what is behind these giant faces in stone. Here Washington, Lincoln, Teddy Roosevelt and Jefferson stand out in relief to remind eternity of what goes into the making of a free world.

Here and There

A very pleasant two days was spent in San Leandro, Calif., a suburb of San Francisco. Here we visited cousins George and Mildred Green and took time to see some of the highlights of Frisco, including Fisherman's Wharf, Chinatown, Aquarium, the Japanese Gardens, Golden Gate Bridge, and of course a ride on the cable car over hilly San Francisco streets.

San Francisco has been reserved for a special trip at some later time. It deserves more than two days.

Westlake Has Edge In First Mayor Poll

Neither Candidate Has Majority Of Voters As Many Choose To Delay Their Decision

By Bill Kuh

Surprisingly strong support for Republican mayoralty candidate W. Ralston Westlake in areas carried last election by Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner gave the City Council president a comfortable lead in the first week of the Hartley Newspaper poll.

From now until election, interviewers representing Hartley Newspapers will be contacting citizens in every section of Columbus attempting to measure the pulse of the voting public.

While this poll does not include a majority of the city's residents, all those interviewed have been selected at random and may be considered a cross-section of Columbus voters.

The figures which will be presented during this survey are completely impartial and merely relay to readers the general opinion of those contacted during the survey.

During the first week, seven wards around the city were sampled. Six of the wards are located in areas carried by Sensenbrenner in the past election. No exact comparison can be made because the number of city wards has increased from 19 to 33.

While citizens who cast votes for unsuccessful Republican candidate Joseph Jones in the last mayoralty race went expectedly to Westlake's side, Sensenbrenner failed to hold many who previously supported him.

The actual voting for mayor went:

Westlake	47.0%
Sensenbrenner	32.7%
Undecided	20.3%
Total	100%

Most of Westlake's support came from those who said they just didn't like Sensenbrenner. When asked why they would vote for Westlake, those interviewed responded:

Don't Like Sensenbrenner	58%
Like Westlake's Record	15%
Time For A Change	15%
Other Reasons	12%
Total	100%

Sensenbrenner, on the other hand retained his support on the basis of his past record as Columbus mayor. Those who said they would vote to reelect him gave the following reasons:

Don't Like Westlake	00.0%
Like Sensenbrenner's Record	81.9%
Other Reasons	18.1%
Total	100%

It seemed quite obvious during the poll that a considerable number of votes hinged on how citizens felt about Sensenbrenner personally and not on the records of the candidates.

The poll points out that a majority of Westlake's support comes from persons who simply don't agree with the incumbent mayor. On the other hand, none interviewed said they didn't like Westlake.

Another fact uncovered while conducting the survey was that many Columbus voters are not familiar with Westlake. This did not seem to hurt him, however, with the many decidedly against Sensenbrenner coming to his camp without any question.

It should be pointed out that a large number of those polled hadn't made up their minds about the election this early. More than one-fifth of those contacted reserved their opinions until later.

Although the poll was taken at random, the number of Republican voters was greater than the Democrats. When asked what political party they would place themselves in, they said:

Republicans	45.7%
Democrats	32.8%
Independents	21.5%
Total	100%

While this might seem to favor Westlake, it should also be pointed out that a good many of these supported Sensenbrenner in the last mayoralty election. When asked how they voted last time, the response was:

Sensenbrenner	37.1%
Jones	25.8%
Misc. (Didn't vote, remember)	37.1%
Total	100%

This represents nearly a seven percent difference between those who voted for Sensenbrenner in the last election and those who said they will support him this fall. Those who switched their votes felt this way:

Don't Like Sensenbrenner	25%
Time For A Change	25%
Undecided	50%
Total	100%

SUMMARY: Westlake seems to have a comfortable lead at this time. A big share of his support comes from those against Sensenbrenner, but not particularly enthused about Westlake. However, it is still early. A lot of vote switching is yet to come and many now undecided will soon pick one camp or the other. Remember one-fifth of those contacted haven't committed themselves yet.

Local Guard To Join 37th Division Soon

166th Regimental Combat Team In Summer Camp For Final Run

Trucks and troops will roll out of Haubrich Armory, 4094 Sullivant-av, this week end as the 166th Infantry Regiment leaves for two weeks of annual summer field training at Camp Breckinridge, Ky. It will be the last time the famed National Guard team trains as an independent unit.

The 166th will rejoin the 37th "Buckeye" Division in September as a Central Ohio battle group after 18 years "on its own."

Units in the southeastern area of the state will be "converted" to anti-aircraft artillery, engineer, and transportation units under the Guard's "Pentomic" reorganization scheduled to get under way on Sept. 1. But, for the next two weeks they will train as members of the hard-hitting Regimental Combat Team, Ohio's "light infantry division."

Motorcade Leaves Friday

At about 8 a.m. Friday an advance detail of 30 vehicles will depart from the armory and follow Route 62 south through Grove City and Mt. Sterling. A minute past midnight Saturday the [illegible] of some 350 troops, assigned to five units here, will leave by commerical bus for Breckinridge. Many of them are Hilltop and West Side "citizen-soldiers." They will join other comp..nies from more than a dozen Ohio cities.

The local Guardsmen will have a breakfast stop enroute and arrive at Breckinridge at noon Sunday. A hot dinner will be prepared by the advance detail. Sunday afternoon will be spent putting equipment in place so that training can start in earnest early Monday.

The troops will break camp Saturday, Aug. 22, and will arrive home the next day.

Final Breckinridge Encampment

This is the fifth year that the 166th will train at Camp Breckinridge. And it will be the last, since Breckinridge is to be closed at the end of this year's training period. Guard and Reserve units will probably train at Camp Campbell, Ky. next year although the Ohio units are hoping to arrange a program at Camp Grayling, Mich., where the 166th trained in 1952 and '53.

The 166th served with the 42nd "Rainbow" Division during the first World War, but from 1920 to 1941 was a part of the 37th. Upon reorganization of the 37th Division in late 1941, the 166th Regiment was detached and made into a combat team. It has held that designation until now.

Chief Orders Closer Check On Traffic

Noting that the Hilltop and West Side had nine per cent of the reported accidents during two 15-day periods in July, Police Chief George W. Scholer has ordered increased enforcement here.

During the last half of the month arrests were upped from five to eight per cent of the city's total, yet accidents remained at nine per cent. This calls for an increase of 44 to 52 per cent in enforcement under the department's selective check system.

Since July 15, Central-av and Broad-st has been one of the city's high accident intersections. Special attention was ordered on W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av in the construction areas during peak travel hours. Stop sign, red light and turn violators and intoxicated drivers are the prime targets.

Services Held For Long-Time Area Merchant

Funeral services for Samuel Krakoff, 79, 78 N. Merkle-rd, were held Friday at Snider Memorial Chapel. Mr. Merkle died Thursday morning at his residence.

He was owner of the West Side Dry Goods Store, 647 W. Broad-st, for more than 50 years before his retirement.

Mr. Krakoff was a charter member of Agudas Achim Congregation and a member of B'nai B'rith.

Surviving are a son, Harry S.; daughters, Mrs. Aloe Glassman, Mrs. Harold Bahr and Mrs. S. A. Danchik; six grandchildren; six great-grandchildren and a brother, Abe, all of Columbus.

Rabbi David Stavsky and Cantor Phillip Gellman officiated at the funeral. Burial was in New Agudas Achim Cemetery.

Girl Scouts and even little sisters are invited to the annual Southwest District Cub Scout Wing-Ding, Saturday, Aug. 8 at Westgate Park.

The Girl Scouts are stuck with a mission, however. They will be baby sitters while several hundred Cubs and their parents enjoy an afternoon of fellowship

Two Appointed To Staff Of West Side Settlement

Two new appointments to the staff of Gladden Community House were announced this week by Al M. Wilder, 2755 Eakin-rd, executive director.

Harriet Hunter

Lawrence Lyons

Harriet Hunter, 361 Binns-blvd, began Monday as girls group worker. Miss Hunter was graduated from the College of Social Administration, Ohio State University, in June. She is also an alumnus of West High School. Her field training in preparation for her degree was with the Hilltop YWCA.

For the present Miss Hunter will handle the entire female program for youngsters and adults at the West Side settlement house. Her father, Eugene B. Hunter, is business manager of Columbus State School.

Lawrence Lyons, 1085 Neil-av, has assumed duties as maintenance engineer. In the work eight years, he was last employed by the Ohio Laundry Co. Lyons will be in charge of all heating, plumbing and electrical maintenance, painting and decorating and janitorial work.

"These are the first of a specialized staff being employed at Gladden House, in line with a new community-needs program," said Director Wilder. "Yet to be hired are a full-time boys group worker, and four part-time leaders for boys' and girls' groups. Our program needs will largely determine any additional staff."

September Opening Slated

Activities at Gladden have been held to a minimum while the center has been redecorated and the new director (a Californian) gets acquainted in the community.

Wilder said his new program will start soon after Sept. 15. "Our concentration now is on getting a well-rounded staff of permanent employes, to insure more continuity in program services," he related.

Russell Leach, city attorney, is personnel chairman of the Gladden Board of Trustees.

Youth Dances Are Cancelled At Westgate

Friday night dances for teenagers, staged by Hilltop Youth Council at Westgate Park, have been discontinued.

"Poor attendance, failure of boys to dance, and record hops," are named as reasons for dropping the dances, held each summer for the past six years.

Free square dances on Tuesday nights have been dropped for the same reasons.

Youth Council, comprised of representatives from Hilltop youth organizations, planned the dances.

A letter to the editor on the subject may be found on page [illegible].

AIRPORT FADES FROM SCENE

Homes Now Filling Former Plane Roost

It was a case of famous firsts and lasts at Sullivant Airport this past week.

City and business officials took the last official plane ride and took to the seat of a power shovel which chewed the first bite of land, starting Holly Hill sub-division.

On hand were Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner; Floyd C. Redick, city service director; Ernest G. Fritsche, builder of Holly Hill; James Holroyd, president of the Hilltop Business Association; and E. Gomer Jones, former airport owner.

In the few days since the act, rapid changes to the historic airport have come about. Two of the first six show homes are already under roof and walls of a third are up. Earth movers are cutting a new street east from Halsey-dr, Georgian Heights.

Meanwhile, Jones has obtained approval of the City Planning Commission for a shopping center along Sullivant-av and is hoping for council approval in about 30 days. He has retained a 350-foot deep frontage for commercial use.

The former port manager still has six planes of his own and admits he will be hemmed in if he doesn't move them soon. All

Famous Firsts Are Recalled

Sullivant Avenue Airport leaves behind an interesting history. Early air mail and flying circuses got their start there. And too, several prominent professionals of today began their careers at the port. Some of these are recalled in a story on page 14.

SENTIMENTAL TRIP—Among those taking a final flight at Sullivant Avenue Airport were, left to right, E. Gomer Jones, former owner and manager; Ernest G. Fritsche, builder; and H. James Holroyd, president of the Hilltop Business Association and aviation enthusiast. Already, the city's aviation board is looking for another western port site.

PESKY PUDDLE—City engineers, struggling to finish a 124-foot pedestrian tunnel under the railroad south of Valleyview and Westmoor schools before fall, have a problem. In digging out ramps to the mouth of the $25,000 project they uncovered a gushing spring. Plugging it is not as easy as it sounds, so a sump pump must be used constantly to keep water out of the tunnel. A concrete platform and headwalls are going in place this week . . . along with a permanent pump. The workman is Ronald Brining, 848 Miller-av.

others have gone. Jones has leased his buildings to a farm equipment company and the Bell Telephone Co. The phone people are using the spot as a headquarters for 20 small maintenance trucks serving the western half of Franklin County. A more permanent headquarters may be built for them in the future, Jones indicated.

Called "Planned Community"

Builder Fritsche said Holly Hill will be a planned community of approximately 400 homes, with nearly half that figure scheduled to get started immediately.

Designed and built by the Fritsche company, the homes will cover a price range from $13,500 to $17,500. Six distinctly different basic models will be included, he said, so that the area will not take on the look of sameness often associated with mass-building. Further individuality will be afforded by various treatments of each design as to type of exterior—brick, part-brick, wood, etc.

Fritsche said the model home area will be the first of its kind in the country, being in the form of a park. Designated the "Theater of Living," the show home area will be used as a merchandising pattern for other Fritsche developments in the future.

Ernest G. Fritsche, himself, has an international reputation as a builder. Two years ago he was invited to participate in an official builders' tour of Soviet Russia.

During their stay at day camp two naturalists and members of the Metropolitan Park Board visited all the scouters and brought animals and gave a lecture. Bob Fankhauser displayed a three-year-old gray fox, named MeeGee, a groundhog named Butch, an opossum, named Pogo, a mapping turtle, box turtle, and painted turtle. Fankhauser told of the habits of these animals and their benefits to mankind.

The other naturalist, Paul Goff, spoke about the different types of park vegetation, such as poison ivy, the "Death Angel" toad stool, mites and water spiders. He also described how Indians used black walnut trees to dye their clothing.

FARMINGS SCRAMBLED OMLET

Once again, America is seeing that baffling, frustrating, almost maddening spectacle of the government taking money out of the taxpayers' pockets and using it to raise prices the housewives pay at the supermarkets or corner grocery.

This time, the subject is eggs, and [illegible] allied product, chicken for frying [illegible]

It's no news to the housewife that egg prices lately have been the lowest in nearly 20 years. The U.S. Agricultural Marketing Service reports that in mid-April the average price received by the farmer for eggs was 28.1c a dozen—10.4c below the price a year ago. Moreover, prices have been falling steadily since April. Prices of as low as 23c a dozen were not uncommon in this area's recent food price war.

The Department of Agriculture has not stepped in. It announced early this month that it would start a weekly program of buying up frozen whole eggs in addition to the dried eggs it has been buying right along.

No one supposes that purchases program is the best answer, however. Frozen eggs are greatly more expensive to store than, say, wheat. And any former serviceman who has gagged over the morning's ration of dried eggs knows that the palatable life of these products is not very long.

Thus, the poultry subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee will begin hearing testimony tomorrow on other possible emergency solutions to the price depression.

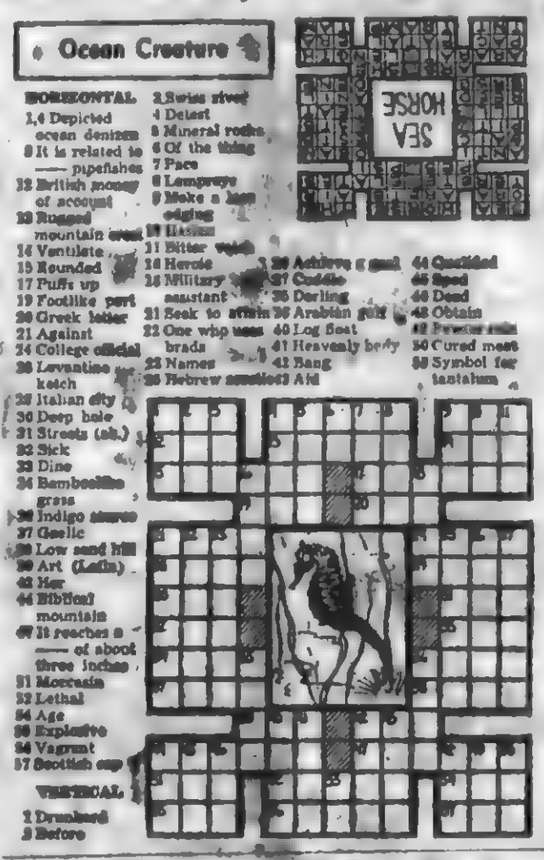
What are the possibilities? Lobbyists for the farmers are suggesting federal production controls, price supports, other emergency measures. But as Herman L. Miller, poultry specialist for the Marketing Service, points out, 1.7 million farms produce the nation's eggs, and these are marketed in 25,000 outlets. Just to police production and sale effectively would require as many supervisors as we have egg farmers.

So here we go again. Once more, Americans are being pounded on the head with the lesson that modern farming, with its tremendous technological changes, demands a readjustment in traditional attitudes toward agriculture.

Poultry farmers have been put in their present precarious position partly because they themselves are too efficient. The business has been revolutionized since World War II. "Egg factories" sprang up throughout the country, replacing the old henyards, and egg production virtually exploded. Flocks now range up to a million birds. Mass hatcheries more scientific feeding, use of antibiotics—even the piping in of music to keep the layers happy—all add up to tremendous overproduction.

Meanwhile, government price supports of wheat and corn have boosted the cost of feed astronomically. Feed constitutes 60% of the poultry farmer's costs, and feed prices have gone up 400% since 1939.

So we now have tax money used to keep feed prices high, and more tax money being used to boost egg prices so poultry farmers can buy tax-supported wheat to produce tax-supported eggs, and so on and on.



Or, in other, simpler, wiser words, scrambling an omelet is a great deal easier than unscrambling it.

Life's Riches Must Be Aimed Toward God And Fellow Man

One of the most striking things about the teaching and various incidents in the life of Jesus concerns standards of value, aims and purposes in life. Those that are ordinarily accepted and acted upon are either definitely challenged or revealed as inadequate and lacking in comparison with life at its best.

Take, for example, the case of the successful farmer in Luke. In our time, this New Testament farmer would probably be regarded as a commendable citizen. He did what the average successful farmer would do: Planned for larger things, built new and better buildings, and he showed sense also in planning to do what many successful farmers fail to do.

He was going to enjoy what he had built up. He wasn't just going to keep working, like those who have got the working habit and can't stop. What was the matter with that? A successful farmer could do it all without incurring any displeasure or adverse criticism on the part of his fellowmen.

But in the eyes of God, as Jesus said, he was a fool.

With all his success two things about him were wrong. He was a poor economist. He didn't take into account the uncertainty of his own life and the certainty of death. And he didn't build anything really worth while with all his wealth and his success.

As the parable says, he was not rich toward God. His treasure was all for himself. And Jesus added that everyone who acted that way was like him.

One might ask, what does it mean to be rich toward God? One thing is certain. It has a lot to do with one's fellow man. The whole New Testament is a textbook in being rich toward God.

If someone forbade you to spend your money for a newspaper, you'd understand vividly, and too late, what "freedom of the press" means.

Cussins & Fearn New Mound-Central Store Ready For Gala Opening Thursday

Celebration Continues Friday And Saturday With A Special Merchandising Event And Many Free Gifts For Visitors

"It's a bigger store! It's a better store! It's the largest store in the C&F group of 14 stores now serving Columbus," said Mr. Wharton, vice president and C&F store designer. Located in a recently completed new building, constructed especially for the C&F organization, in the growing Shopping Center District at Mound Street and Central Avenue, just south of the new Big Bear, it brings to C&F Columbus customers a new centrally located one-stop shopping center with acres of free parking.

Everything is in readiness at the new Mound Street and Central Avenue (679 Harrisburg Pike) store for the thousands of West Siders expected to attend Thursday, Friday or Saturday. Special store hours, 3 days only, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

Rows and rows of sparkling new merchandise are on display in conveniently arranged semi-self serve attractive fixtures. Free gifts too, will be given to many.

While the store has been open to serve customers for some time, the official opening date was delayed until now so that everything could be in complete readiness. It will be open every evening 'til 9:00 p.m.

Founded on the West Side

The Cussins & Fearn Company was originally founded over 66 years ago in a small store room at 756 West Broad Street. From this small store of 1893 the organization has grown through service to the public to 46 stores over the state, 14 now serving Columbus.

"This new store is a larger, one-stop drive in service center, featuring savings and competitive prices on home, lawn and car needs, purchased in huge quantities from factories and sold by the organization on mass distribution principles. The savings so made are passed to the consumer in lower prices on famous quality products. This, "stated Mr. Wunderlich, President of the C&F organization, "was Mr. Fearn's, our founder's, original idea and, through public acceptance, has resulted in continuous outstanding growth, making possible this beautiful new store, our 45th, and finest, we now present to western Columbus".

Impressive Interior Displays

"We believe", stated Mr. Paul Scholl, executive Vice President and Operating Manager, "That everyone entering will be impressed by the exceptional new and modern fixture displays and the outstanding use of color to lend greater ease and convenience to our shopping customers. The brilliance of the modern new merchandise on display is enhanced with the proper use of fixtures providing a reserved space for every item. Most of these fixtures are designed by our own staff and built in our own workshop to better meet our needs. In a special building at the rear we have a large tire and battery installation service room."

"Semi-self service is featured in Mound-Central", stated Mr. Neil Pence, Vice President and Sales Manager, "this works two ways, the customer in a hurry may pick out his own merchandise, saving time, or assistance from any sales person is available to those so desiring. Often with hardware, a sales person's assistance is necessary, especially on cut or large items. Rapid check-out counters permit speed and save our customers time."

Credit Available on Everything

"Those who purchase C&F Credit Coupons may buy even the smallest item on credit. The coupon books, sold in $25.00 groups, may be spent like cash throughout the store, or any C&F store in Ohio. Payments are only $1.25 a week. For those wishing larger items, they can easily pay from income the C&F Penny Club Credit way," stated Mr. Robert Fleer, store manager. Mr. Fleer has been associated with Cussins & Fearn since 1932. He and his staff extend a cordial invitation to everyone to visit and see what a beautiful, new, complete store the company has presented to western Columbus shoppers.

Many Special 3-Day Sale Items

Starting when the doors open Thursday 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., Friday (same hours) and Saturday from 9:00 to 9:00, thousands of specially purchased opening values will be placed on sale. These have been priced at a fraction of their value and will be on sale at this store only while quantities last.

$10,000 in Free Gifts

In cooperation with the celebration of the opening of the Mound-Central store, 365 gifts will be given away by the Cussins & Fearns Columbus stores during the month of August. Entry blanks will be given to all who enter any C&F store. Drawings will be held every Monday night at 9:00 p.m. at Mound-Central store. Nothing to buy, just ask for a blank, enter as often as you like. Each week's group of 90 gifts will be on display at the Mound-Central store until Monday night. All entry blanks will be held for final drawing on Aug. 31st for the 4 fine grand prizes.

C&F is Columbus Owned

Owned and operated by executives and employees of the organization, Cussins & Fearn is strictly a Columbus and Ohio operated company. Most of the stockholders are Columbus residents and are employees or former associates. Mr. B. L. West, with over 50 years service with the company, is Chairman of the Board. Mr. Ray F. Wunderlich is President and Mr. J. C. Carls, Comptroller. Many employees and associates are long time residents of Western Columbus and the Hilltop.

We sneaked off on another 'long' vacation over the weekend (you can spend all your money in two days the same as 14 or a month), so news is a little scant.

Westgate Junior Jets got in a full schedule last week with some interesting developments. In the Major loop the Braves took their first loss of the season from a resurging Yankee squad, and dropped into a tie for the lead with the Tigers.

The Tigers moved into the tie with a victory highlighted by the Bengals no-hitter enroute. Ledale Dawkins and Dan Walker combined for the whitewashing as they dumped the Indians. In hurling their no-hitter, the duo walked 7 and struck out 12.

An even rarer feat happened a week or so ago in the minor league at Westgate—a perfect game. This is a rarity in any baseball circle, but to anyone familiar with the play of the 8 and 9 year-olds in this league, it is even more spectacular. And to boot, the Seals who performed the feat, used three hurlers.

And to further strengthen the feat, (they played four innings) each of the pitchers handled one inning. Then the final frame they rotated, each pitching to a man. The three 'star' performers were Steve Canfield, Van Johnston and Danny Lynch. In racking up their conquest they struck out all but one Jet and that one was a ground out, pitcher to first.

Standings as of last Saturday . . . . Majors 1) Braves-Tigers, 3-1-.750; 2) Yanks, 3-2-.600; 3) Giants, 2½-2½-.500; 4) Indians, 1½-3½-.300; 5) Reds, 1-3-.250. Minors: 1) Marlins, 3-1-.750; 2) Royals, 4-2-.666; 3) Bears, 2-2-.500; 4) Stars-Seals, 1-2-.333; 5) Jets, 1-3-.250.

Next week's schedule (Wed. to Wed.) . . . Majors: Wed., Aug. 5, Reds-Yanks; Thurs, Giants-Tigers; Mon., Aug. 10, Braves-Reds; Tues., Giants-Indians; Wed., Tigers-Yanks. Minors: Wed., Aug. 5, Bears-Marlins; Fri., Stars - Seals; Mon., Aug. 10, Jets-Bears; Tues., Seals - Royals; Wed., Stars-Marlins.

After a fine start in the second round of play, the Hilltop Kiwanis Babe Ruth team is slipping some. Having lost two the previous week-end, they continued that trend last Saturday, losing to the Northwest Mounties (Upper Arlington), 12-2. The Mounties had two 6-run frames with a homer and a bases loaded double the chief damaging blows.

Columbus's individual statistics read: (*denotes team leader) batting — Ed Fredendall, 7-9-.777; Dave Ewing, 7*-12-.583; Ed McCleaf, 5-13-.384; Al Daft, 3-8-.375; Dick Curtiss, 5-15*-.333; Dan Alder, 4-13-.307; Bob Elliott, 2-10-.200; Tom Morrison, 2-12-.260; Gary Smith, 1-12-.083; Dave Wolfe, 0-4-.000; Dick Alder, 0-2-.000; Jim Smiley, 0-1-.000.

In runs scored, McCleaf led with 8, followed by Curtiss 6, Alder and Smith 4, Fredendall-Ewing-Daft 2, Morrison 2 and Elliott 1. RBI-wise it was Fredendall with 10, followed closely by Ewing with 9, then McClear-Curtiss-Morrison-Smith 3, Elliott 2 and Daft and Wolfe with 1 apiece. Incidentally, Wolfe's lone RBI was the big one that won the championship.

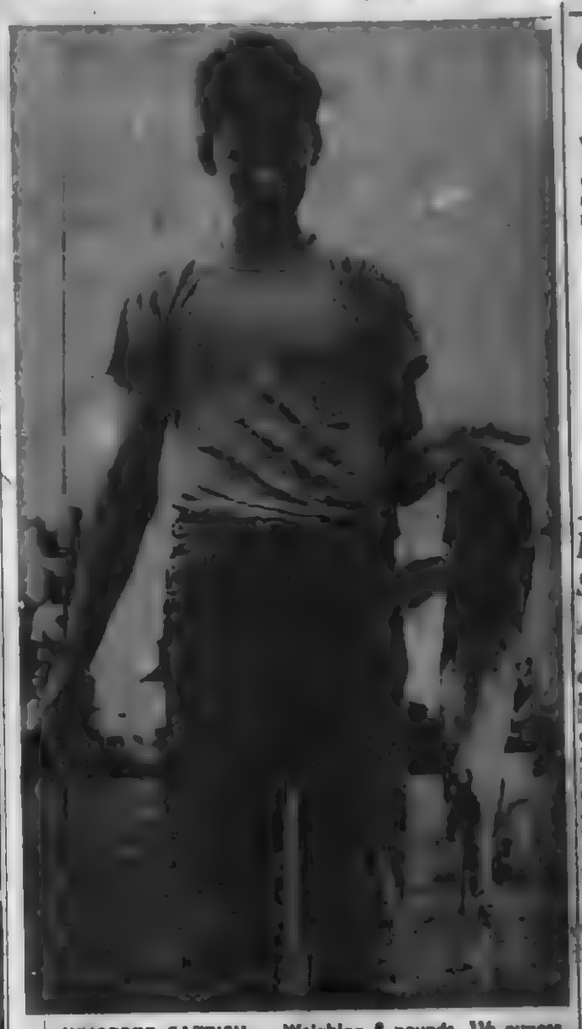
Wage Factor Brings About Hike At GM

An improvement factor wage increase of at least six cents an hour for approximately 330,000 General Motors hourly-rated employes represented by unions became effective Aug. 1, and will be reflected in the paychecks of some 3,300 Ternstedt employes here.



The improvement factor wage increase is a part of the General Motors wage formula first adopted in 1948. It has been a part of its agreements with unions representing General Motors hourly-rated employes, since that time.

Each eligible employe will receive an increase of six cents an hour or two and one-half percent, whichever is greater, with the first pay period after Saturday, Aug. 1.

Now Is The Time To Catch A Fishing Derby Winner

WHOPPER CATFISH — Weighing 8 pounds, 1½ ounces, this "cat" was caught from Madison Lake by 14-year-old Junior Lindig, 92 Shady-av, London. To catch the largest fish of his life, Junior used a large chub minnow baited on a treble hook. Although a couple of other catfish, weighing eight pounds or better have been taken from Madison lately, this fish certainly rates as one of the largest caught there this year, according to Madison Lake fishermen.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

A report of good bluegill and bass fishing at Clark Lake, a state lake just northeast of Springfield, was turned in by Jack Elliott, 142 S. Center-st, West Jefferson. The bass are being taken on artificials in the evenings along about dark. Bluegills are hitting best in the evenings, and early mornings, too.

With the surge of spring fishing over, the panfish (bluegills and crappies) entries in the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Derby have tapered off. With a few months of active feeding behind them panfish are now at their prime. If last year's Derby is any indication, the winners of the bluegill and crappie divisions will probably be caught during the month of August.

Admittedly, the fishing is a little slower this time of year — but the average fish [illegible] Now is the time to go out during the cool of evening and catch a Derby winner.

Bluegill Hints Given

Bluegills are the quarry of the flyrod fisherman in Ohio. In other states trout attract the man with the long and graceful wand — but here in Buckeyeland the bluegill reigns supreme. The reason for this is that they will readily hit both dry and wet flies. For middle-of-the-summer fishing it's best to try dry flies only at dawn and dusk.

During these cooler periods you will usually find 'gills in shallow water feeding on the surface. Almost any floating fly tied on a number 10 hook will do the trick. Sponge rubber spiders are the favorite of many bluegill fishermen. Color of the fly does not seem to make much difference — the scrappy bluegill is not as selective as a trout.

Cane pole-and-bobber fishing was invented for bluegills. During the day try fishing a red worm in the deeper holes. Bluegills seek out this cooler water during the hottest hours. Once you locate a school, the action will be steady for a time. Set your bobber so your bait is at different levels in the water until you start getting bites, then fish at that level.

The same tactics go for flyrod fishing during daylight hours. Fishing in the deeper water will be most productive. You may have to weight your fly with a tiny split-shot or a little tin foil to put it down where you want it. Do not be afraid to make your wet fly dance along the bottom.

Crappies Big Now

Almost all fishermen know that crappies are springtime fish, but many of them do not know they provide good fishing in the fall. It is too soon to start the traditional fall-fishing for crappies, but these fish can be caught during August and early September. The action will be slower at this time of year, but the crappies you catch will be BIG. A few dandies are coming out of Hoover Reservoir. Summertime crappies are the kind that win fishing derbies!

Here are the prizes in the bluegill and crappies divisions of the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Derby:

Bluegill

First — Johnson Century reel and 100 yards Cortland Heart-O-Gold casting line; Second—Cortland 333 Meon-Glo flyline; Third — Hofmann's fly lures (selection of 12) and 200 yards of Cortland Pflon spinning line.

Crappies

First — Johnson Century reel, and selection of eight Hofmann's "specialist" spin lures; Second — Cortland 333 Meon-Glo flyline; Third — Hofmann's fly lures (selection of 12) and 200 yards of Sunset Coral King spin line.

Grand Award of the Derby, winner to be selected by a panel of three judges, will spend a week fishing famous Pigeon Lake in Canada next year. The winner, and a guest, will spend the week at the popular Timberlane Acres fishing resort operated by Maurley Sutton, 155 Binns-blvd. A late report from Timberlane Acres reveals that smallmouth bass, walleyes and muskies are being caught there right now. Basis for selecting the Grand Award Winner will be the most outstanding and spectacular catch of the season.

Enter your fish now to get in on this terrific Derby! A list of official weighing stations is on this page.

Ruth Borland, Claude Mills Exchange Marriage Vows At St. John's Church

MR. AND MRS. CLAUDE MILLS

Pastel pink used in floral arrangements at the church and in attendants' ensembles accented the bridal gown of Miss Ruth Ann Borland for her marriage to Mr. Claude Mills, West Franklin School principal, June 20.

Rev. C. T. Langholz read the 7:30 p.m. service at St. John's Lutheran Church before an altar decorated with pink delphinium, cathedral candles and sprays of greenery. The couple repeated their vows beneath pink rose trees.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Borland of 890 Murnan-rd, Galloway. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mart Mills of Inez, Ky.

A crown of seed pearls held her veil and she carried a pendulum bouquet centered with pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Charlene Steinmetz served as maid of honor and the bridesmatrons were Mrs. Georgia Griffith and Mrs. Alice Sweely.

They were sheath gowns of pink cotton and silk with scoop necklines, brief sleeves and overskirts held by satin cummerbunds. Circular veils were caught to pleated bow bandeaus and each carried a cascade of lavender delphinium.

Mr. Troy Mills served as bestman for his brother and guests were seated by Mr. James H. Mills, Mr. James H. Williams and Mr. Donald McWilliams.

The mother of the bride chose a blue lace sheath with lace peplum, and matching hat of velvet leaves. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Hostesses for the reception held at church were Mrs. Troy Mills, Mrs. Leo Gas, Miss Barbara Brookey, Mrs. Robert Lewis, and Mrs. Charles Stump.

Mrs. Mills attended Capital University and is a teacher in the South Western School System.

From The Top O' The Hill

By Shelby Thom

The quick thinking and prompt action of Roger "Ted" Hulett, averted his possible serious injury or death, in a boating accident last week on Oquage Lake, in New York's Catskills. Ted, son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hulett, 2413 W. Broad-st, a counselor at Camp Hilltop, and two companions were on the lake in a canoe. A motorboat, towing a skier, bore down on the canoe at high speed. Realizing a crash was inevitable Hulett dove into the lake. The motorboat struck the canoe in the middle, cutting two six-inch chunks out of the light craft, then passed over the canoe, capsizing it.

One of Hulett's companions was dragged by the skier's tow cable and suffered severe rope burns.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kindig of 160 S. Harris-av, are home after several days in Pensacola, Fla., where they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Ens. and Mrs. James N. Kindig (Shirley Hill.) They also visited the Quadricentennial, Bellingrath Gardens near Mobile, Ala., and New Orleans. Ens Kindig is stationed at Whiting Field . . . Bertha M. Daarud of Daarud Piano Studios attended the national piano teachers convention held at Hotel New Yorker, New York City, last month . . . The more than 2200 residents of Columbus State School were recently treated to 15 cartons of Cracker Jack by Jerry Vogel of Vogel Foundation, N. Y. Mrs. Thomas W. Crum, 318 S. Hague-av, returned recently from a three-months' visit with her son, Tom W. Crum, jr, in Livorno, Italy. She left Columbus on March 30, sailing to Italy on an Italian freighter and made her trip home by jet plane from Rome. She and Tom, jr, spent several weeks touring Europe by car. Her miniature dachshund puppy, Gretal, (weight two pounds) arrived in Columbus after much delay. (She was bumped in London because of a shipment of horses!)

Excitement over arrival of the puppy has given way to a new Crum grandchild, Thomas Peter Perini, born July 27, to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Perini (Merry Crum), 3184 W. Mound-st.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McCray, of 149 N. Burgess-av, and Mrs. Kittie Davis of 130 S. Eureka-av. (Mrs. McCray's mother) have returned from a vacation in Nassau in the Bahamas. LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Reader Concerned At Apathy Of Young Folks At Dances

To the Editor:

Youth Council Dances, one of the nicest summer affairs for teens for the past six years, are to be discontinued. Reasons given by the sponsoring group, the Hilltop Community Council are, poor attitude, failure of boys to dance and record hops.

Members of the Youth Council are representatives from Hilltop Youth organizations and have given much hard work and time to planning nice dances with decorations, a good live band and chaperones.

In past years large crowds enjoyed dancing and meeting their friends at these dances, but this year as few as 10 people were dancing at one time, compared to 250 previously.

One of the problems was the failure of boys attending the dances to go inside or dance with the girls. At the last dance more than 40 girls paid their way in, and as few as 15 boys, while it was estimated 50 boys stood outside and enjoyed the good floor show and entertainment, and then left.

One parent in a experiment paid the way of 10 boys in an effort to save the dances and get the boys to participate but they failed to keep their bargain once inside.

Record hops across town attract many as it gives young people an opportunity to attend where there are fewer chaperones and supervision. One boy, when asked why he didn't go inside and dance replied, "Get rid of the chaperones and put a cop in the corner and I will, that is what I am used to." High standards of behavior were expected of the young people and dress was nice summer attire.

Three different bands with musicians from the Hilltop and West High area were used, but teenagers would insist they wanted records of the wildest rock and roll type.

Square dances each Tuesday night, free with free instruction, had to be called off also for the same reasons.

One of the favorite excuses heard on the Hilltop is that there is "nothing to do," yet both Tuesday and Friday night dances failed. After investigation it has been found the Hilltop was not alone in facing this problem. It is a matter for concern to experienced people who work with this age group that young people are taking this attitude toward things that should add to the social awareness necessary to grow into well adjusted adults.

The Community Council regrets the necessity of this action and has made every effort to plan and carry out a good summer program for teenagers of the Hilltop. While failure of the dances is only an indication of a new attitude of the young people, it is also "a crying shame," as the editorial in a downtown paper called it last week.

From The Top O' The Hill

By Betty Daft

The quick thinking and prompt action of Roger "Ted" Hulett, averted his possible serious injury or death, in a boating accident last week on Oquage Lake, in New York's Catskills. Ted, son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hulett, 2413 W. Broad-st, a counselor at Camp Hilltop, and two companions were on the lake in a canoe. A motorboat, towing a skier, bore down on the canoe at high speed. Realizing a crash was inevitable Hulett dove into the lake. The motorboat struck the canoe in the middle, cutting two six-inch chunks out of the light craft, then passed over the canoe, capsizing it.

One of Hulett's companions was dragged by the skier's tow cable and suffered severe rope burns.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kindig of 160 S. Harris-av, are home after several days in Pensacola, Fla., where they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Ens. and Mrs. James N. Kindig (Shirley Hill.) They also visited the Quadricentennial, Bellingrath Gardens near Mobile, Ala., and New Orleans. Ens. Kindig is stationed at Whiting Field . . . Bertha M. Daarud of Daarud Piano Studios attended the national piano teachers convention held at Hotel New Yorker, New York City, last month . . . The more than 2200 residents of Columbus State School were recently treated to 15 cartons of Cracker Jack by Jerry Vogel of Vogel Foundation, N. Y. Vogel sends frequent gifts of this sort in the name and in honor of one of his friends.

Alan Daft, 203 S. Richardson-av, is home and on the mend after a hospital stay at Doctors.

Mrs. Thomas W. Crum, 310 S. Hague-av, returned recently from a three-months' visit with her son, Tom W. Crum, jr, in Livorno, Italy. She left Columbus on March 26, sailing to Italy on an Italian freighter and made her trip home by jet plane from Rome. She and Tom, jr, spent several weeks touring Europe by car. Her miniature dachshund puppy, Gretal, (weight two pounds) arrived in Columbus after much delay. (She was bumped in London because of a shipment of horses!)

Excitement over arrival of the puppy has given way to a new Crum grandchild, Thomas Peter Perine, born July 27 to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Perine (Merry Crum) 2384 W. Mound-st.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McCray, of 149 N. Burgess-av, and Mrs. Kittie Davis of 130 S. Eureka-av. (Mrs. McCray's mother) have returned from a vacation in Nassau in the Bahamas. While in Nassau they stayed at the Montagu Beach Hotel and toured the quaint old city. The trip was made via Eastern and Pan American Airlines.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Reader Concerned At Apathy Of Young Folks At Dances

To the Editor:

Youth Council Dances, one of the nicest summer affairs for teens for the past six years, are to be discontinued. Reasons given by the sponsoring group, the Hilltop Community Council are, poor attitude, failure of boys to dance and record hops.

Members of the Youth Council are representatives from Hilltop Youth organizations and have given much hard work and time to planning nice dances with decorations, a good live band and chaperones.

In past years large crowds enjoyed dancing and meeting their friends at these dances, but this year as few as 10 people were dancing at one time, compared to 250 previously.

One of the problems was the failure of boys attending the dances to go inside or dance with the girls. At the last dance more than 40 girls paid their way in, and as few as 15 boys, while it was estimated 50 boys stood outside and enjoyed the good floor show and entertainment, and then left.

One parent in a experiment paid the way of 10 boys in an effort to save the dances and get the boys to participate but they failed to keep their bargain once inside.

Record hops across town attract many as it gives young people an opportunity to attend where there are fewer chaperones and supervision. One boy, when asked why he didn't go inside and dance replied, "Get rid of the chaperones and put a cop in the corner and I will, that is what I am used to." High standards of behavior were expected of the young people and dress was nice summer attire.

Three different bands with musicians from the Hilltop and West High area were used, but teenagers would insist they wanted records of the wildest rock and roll type.

Square dances each Tuesday night, free with free instruction, had to be called off also for the same reasons.

One of the favorite excuses heard on the Hilltop is that there is "nothing to do," yet both Tuesday and Friday night dances failed. After investigation it has been found the Hilltop was not alone in facing this problem. It is a matter for concern to experienced people who work with this age group that young people are taking this attitude toward things that should add to the social awareness necessary to grow into well adjusted adults.

The Community Council regrets the necessity of this action and has made every effort to plan and carry out a good summer program for teenagers of the Hilltop. While failure of the dances is only an indication of a new attitude of the young people, it is also "a crying shame," as the editorial in a downtown paper called it last week.

Prizes Offered Kids Helping In Concentrated X-ray Drive

A two-week attack Aug. 10-22 on tuberculosis in the city's peak TB area — the near East Side — will involve volunteer help from all parts of Columbus and will feature a special contest for children, under 15, from all districts of the city.

Youngsters from this area willing to help in the special Christmas Seal X-ray program will be eligible to win prizes as described below.

The near East Side X-ray area has only eight percent of the population but claims one-fifth of all new active TB cases in the city, society officials said.

The cruiser will park at 11 locations within the boundaries of Leonard-av and Broad-st, Taylor and Cleveland-avs, but the society is interested in finding early cases of TB from every section of the city and county. Everyone, regardless of place of residence, will be welcome during the daily 2 to 9 p.m. program

First week's schedule is Monday, Aug. 10, Cleveland and Mt. Vernon-av; Tuesday, Aug. 11, multiple stops. Washington to Cleveland-av, Mt. Vernon-av to Buckingham-st; Wednesday, Aug. 12, Leonard and St. Clair-avs; Thursday, Aug. 13, 20th-st and Leonard-av; Friday and Saturday, Aug. 14 and 15, 20th-st and Mt. Vernon-av.

Those under 15 can enter the contest by registering in the coupon below as X-ray workers to deliver flyers and urge the adults in their neighborhood to get a chest-check.

Each worker will sign his name on a supply of "tickets" bearing the X-ray schedule which will be furnished by the TB Society. At the end of the 12-day program, names on the tickets will be counted. The worker who has gotten the most grown-ups to the cruiser will win a bicycle. Two hundred consolation prizes also will be awarded — all gifts of the Mt. Vernon Avenue District Improvement Association, sponsors of the program.

Just clip the coupon below and mail or take it to the Tuberculosis Society, 503 Oak-st.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Vegetables — Tomatoes, sweet corn, snap beans, peppers, cucumbers.

Fruits — Peaches, apples, grapes, watermelon, frozen lemonade.

Meats and Poultry — Pork loin, smoked picnics, fryers, turkeys, eggs.

Keep Tomatoes Cool—Not Cold

This is a good time to buy tomatoes. Field tomatoes will be harvested until frost. The early crop is being harvested now, and the later crop will come into peak production in late August and early September. This year's production of tomatoes for the fresh market will probably run heavier than usual. This would indicate that you will have plenty of this versatile and nutrious fruit at reasonable cost for the rest of the summer.

Buying Tips — Look for tomatoes that are firm but well-ripened to get the best in flavor. Reduce waste by selecting the tomatoes free from blemishes. Uniform, or evenly colored ones are best. Color differs, depending on variety, but if the fruit is evenly pink or evenly red outside, it is likely to be uniformly ripe inside. If you are buying tomatoes to can, expect 15 to 20 quarts from a bushel.

Home Care is Important — Keep tomatoes in a cool, but not cold place. To maintain high quality for several days, keep vine-ripened tomatoes at 50 to 55 degrees F, in a place such as a cool basement.

If tomatoes have not reached the firm, ripe stage on the plant, keep them at room temperature until they develop full color. Then, store them at the cooler temperature. Do not put tomatoes in direct sunlight to ripen — they only burn.

Some folks make the mistake of storing tomatoes in the refrigerator. Any farmer or good gardener will tell you they lose their characteristic flavor and develop a flat taste under such conditions. These people know what a ripe tomato tastes like when it's first pulled from the vine. Refrigerate tomatoes just before serving, if you like them cold.

Production and marketing practices are improved each year in the attempt to bring you better quality tomatoes. Up-to-date growers follow rigid spray programs and prune to protect the fruit from sunburn. Plant breeders are working to develop crack-resistant tomatoes.

Growers and packers find it much easier to handle tomatoes that are firm and just turning color. But all of us prefer a ripe tomato. So many growers are picking at the nearly ripe stage and removing the field heat in 50 degree F. coolers which gives tomatoes longer shelf life. To give you more attractive and clean tomatoes, they are sometimes washed before they are packed neatly in 8 or 10 pound baskets.

Many 'Firsts' In Flying History Recorded At Sullivant Airport

Closing of Sullivant Avenue Airport to make way for a new housing development, was marked with regret by many who felt its importance in the city's aviation scheme.

Others, bowing to the inevitable march of progress, accepted the move as necessary to the city's westward growth

A number of "firsts" and "foremosts" have marked the airport's proud history.

The airfield was first in Columbus to establish the city on regular air mail route, and first in the state to be equipped with lights for night flying

Opened in 1927, the airport offered instructions in flying the next year, and was described by some experts as, "best in the area for teaching purposes."

Among the outstanding pilots who learned to fly at Sullivant in 1928 are: Lee Miller, chief test pilot at North American; Myron Riley, wartime pilot; and John Koch, now regional commander of CAP.

Instructors during those first years were Orville Winningham, Walter Seryle and Howard Burleson.

Even students at West High took to the air in 1930. A Glider Club with 20 members was formed, under the direction of C. B. Kennedy, West drafting teacher.

Students first drew plans for the motorless transport in drafting class, built the glider under the direction of teachers, Arthur Miller, Clarence Bateman, and Phil Waldeck, and finally received instructions on flying it.

Membership committee of the club was comprised of John Giles, Tom Schwan, Dick Undeman and Horace Elliott.

Air mail to Columbus became a reality in Aug. 1928, when the first mail plane of the new Cleveland and Louisville line landed at Sullivant with letters a few hours old.

Ships on their way to Dayton, Cincinnati and Louisville stopped at the airport every day at 6:25 a.m., and on the return trip enroute to Akron and Cleveland, at 6:45 p.m.

Pioneered Night Flights

Night flights started in June, 1929, from the airport, "first in the state to be equipped with complete night lighting."

Air traffic at the Hilltop airfield was comparatively heavy, even in those first years.

In 1929, a total of 7,265 hours of flying started from the airfield, including instruction, sight-seeing, private flying, and scheduled transport flights.

Organized Flying Circus

Melvin Flying Circus, comprised of five planes, and headed by Grant C. Melvin, 64 Broadlawn-av, was operated from the field in 1931. Melvin, a Hilltopper, attended Highland Avenue and West Side schools.

Students enrolled at the field's flying school in 1931, included localities, Staley Shanely, 28 Eldon-av; Dick Jenkins and Dr. A. S. Gray.

Two years later, in 1933, operations at Sullivant Avenue Airport were under the direction of Maj. Leslie G. Mulser, 281 N. Warren-av.

The staff was comprised of Mel Swanson, Dick Hunter, pilot; Virginia Whittlesey, transport pilot and mechanics, Frank Jackson and Lawrence Thompson.

Hunter, who then held the world's record for consecutive parachute jumps and Miss Whittlesey, gave exhibitions each Sunday afternoon.

Maj. Mulzer left Columbus to continue his training in the U.S. Army Air Corps, and later established the Mulzer Flying Service in Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.

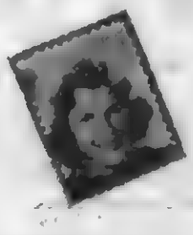
Proposed Airport Site Scheduled For South-West

Proposal of a possible future airport site to be located in the southwestern territory of Columbus has been suggested by members of the Municipal Airport Commission.

Officials are seeking a tract in the area that would counterbalance Port Columbus on the East Side. The southwestern site was proposed in order to avoid the heavily traveled East-West air route over Columbus.



As yet the cost of the airport construction has not been determined. A suitable location must be selected first, commission members related. The site is to be selected within 60 days.

BASEBALL BALLYHOO—The fun starts at 7:30 on Aug. 12 when baseball comedian Jackie Price takes to the field prior to the Columbus Jet-Rochester Red Wing game at Jet Stadium.

Batty Baseball Antics Bring Jackie Price To Jet Stadium

Jackie Price, baseball's top trick artist and a long-time favorite of Columbus baseball fandom, will appear in Jet Stadium the night of Aug. 12.

His performance is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., a half hour prior to the Jets' game with the Rochester Red Wings.

The colorful entertainer, in an effort to have something to fall back on when his playing days were behind him, began working on his present routine while he was an infielder with the old Columbus Red Birds in 1944 and 1945.

Jackie began working on trick catches, then batting in weird positions and finally attempted hitting while hanging upside-down. Down through the years he has continued to add other acrobatic gimmicks to his act that has thrilled audiences throughout the United States, as well as Korea, the Caribbean Islands and Central and South America.

Other incredible feats developed by Price include a group which he calls "Twenty Ways Not to Hit a Baseball," throwing three baseballs at one time to three different catchers, catchers, catching flies while driving a jeep, tossing a baseball out of the park with a sling-shot and bazooka gun, and catching fungoes in his shirt or trousers.

He has also developed the knack of throwing two baseballs in the air and with one swing of the bat, driving one forward to a waiting fielder and one behind him to a receiver.

Hilltop Campfire Girls Encamp On Outing Near Georgesville

FLIP-FLOP MAKERS—On a recent week-long outing at the Darby Creek Metropolitan Park near Georgesville, members of the Hilltop contingent of the Campfire Girls, especially those who found themselves without sleeping bags, were introduced to the fine art of producing their own arrangements. On a dreary, rainy day, adult counselors Betty Jenks, left, and Sally Kramer instructed members of the troop how to make a "flip-flop" bed, a sort of sleeping bag without the bag.

BUSMAN'S HOLIDAY—What do Campfire Girls do on an outing? Build campfires, naturally. Over 100 members attended the week-long encampment outing. However, according to troop advisers, a longer "outdoor life" would have been possible if more members had attended. The program was of the "do-it-yourself" type where girls form into their own units for camping and regular project work. It is left entirely up to troop members as to what they wish to do, advisers said. A camp nurse, Mrs. Lydia Pennell, is also on hand to treat bumps and bruises.

Two Free Gate Nights Booked At County Fair

You won't have to pay to get in on the fun during two nights of the Annual Franklin County Fair at Hilliard.

Ticket collectors will leave their posts at fairground gates at 4 p.m. Tuesday and Saturday of the annual event slated Aug. 18-22.

Opening the fair Tuesday night will be the McKinley Rodeo stopping at the Franklin County Fair after engagements throughout the midwest.

Saturday's feature attraction will be the Parisian Hell Drivers, drivers performing tricks and antics in new 1959 Simca sports cars. Both the rodeo and auto thrill shows will be held in front of the grandstand.

Grandstand seats for both big shows will cost one dollar for adults and 50 cents for children.

Regular admission price to the fairgrounds is 50 cents per person. An additional 25 cents is charged to park in the fair lot.

Grandstand seats during the harness racing program which will feature eight races each day will cost 50 cents. Box seats sell for one dollar.

Three special tickets are also offered. A family ticket, good for each member of the family when it arrives in a group, is available for $3. An exhibitors admission costs the same amount and helper's tickets sell for one dollar.

A $3 membership in the Franklin County Agricultural Society entitles the holder to free admission during the fair, and gives him a chance to vote for fair board directors on Friday of the fair.

International Chief Guest Of Civitans

Members of the West Columbus Civitan club and their wives will join the North Columbus club in greeting Civitan's international president here next week.

Joe Starnes of Gunterville, Ala., will be feted by the clubs Tuesday evening, Aug. 11, at Balcony Hall, 4540 N. High-st. Starnes is the 40th president of Civitan International, having been installed June 24 at Colorado Springs.

The president has a distinguished military record covering two world wars. A lawyer, he also was a member of the 74th through the 78th congresses, and served on 9 committee investigating un-American activities.

State and district governors will also attend the Tuesday meeting.

Accident Prone Highway 40 Listed As County's 'Worst'

Unwanted publicity has been attached to a two and a half mile strip on Rt. 40 between Columbus and New Rome, by the State Highway Safety Department.

Statistics indicate that the W. Broad-st extension is the "worst rural state highway for accidents per mile in Franklin County."

According to a recently released report, 79 accidents occured along this stretch last year. Fifty persons were injured. No deaths, however, were reported.

Fourth in State

The strip is listed as the fourth in the state, as far as accidents are concerned, with a rate of 31 accidents per mile. An estimated 16,900 cars per day travel it.

Tyebuwah-rd and Rt. 30 came in for its share of undistinguished accolades by ranking seventh in the state with 19 mishaps and 12 persons reported injured.

Georgesville-rd and Rt. 40 placed right behind in eighth spot. A total of 19 accidents were reported last year with 13 injured.

Fishinger-rd and Rt. 33 notched the 28th slot in the state listings with 14 accidents and 16 injuries.

In 69th place was Frank-rd and Rt. 62 with 10 accidents, five injuries.

Frank-rd and Rt. 104 placed 70th with seven injuries and 10 crashes.

Other roads with bad accident records in 1958 included a near 5-mile stretch between Columbus and Grove City with 17.7 mishaps per mile.

Grant Keys, State Highway Safety Director, stated that a heavy traffic flow occures at all of these intersections. He added that extreme care should be taken by motorists when approaching them.

Gospel Tent Revival

An Old-Fashioned Gospel Tent Revival will take place at the Wesleyan Methodist Church in New Rome beginning Wednesday, Aug. 12.

The event is slated to last through Aug. 28. All meetings are scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Harry Stanley, of Coshocton, will lead the revival. He has been an evangelist medical missionary to Haiti and pastor of a Coshocton congregation for three years.

Kiwanis Ready Second Annual Golf Tournament

Plans are underway for the second annual Grove City Kiwanis Club Fish Bowl Tournament.

The affair this year will be conducted at the York Temple Country Club, north of Worthington, according to Russ Carter, program chairman.

The tourney is slated for Sept. 10 from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Entry price is set at $15 per person.

Prizes include a $160 Savings Bond, enough paint to cover a house, a complete set of golf clubs and trophies.

Entire Town Is Planned At State Fair

Visitors at the Natural Resources exhibit at the Ohio State Fair this year will find a whole watershed complete with lake, forest, state park and an entire community, known as "Buckeye Village."

Proper land management practices will be shown, including reforestration, contour farming and sod waterways. Encompassed in the watershed will be a public hunting area and a park area.

Outdoor sports will come in for special attention with demonstrations on boat and gun safety.

Horseshoe tournament winners are: Junior boy, Steve Johnson; Intermediate boy, Jack Harrison, and Intermediate girl, Cheryl Cline.

They will compete with other playground winners for city honors, beginning this week.

News 'n' Notes of Camp Fire Girls

Tanda Horizon Club girls spent the week-end of July 20 in Detroit, Mich. They visited Greenfield Village and Henry Ford museum, took a boat trip to Bob-Lo, Canada, and went aboard the Destroyer USS J. P. Kennedy, Jr.

The girls are Sharon Broomhall, Carol Herbstar, Debbie Guenther, Diane Ronckovsky, Polly Williams, and Sharon Stokes.

Mrs. Rudy Ronckovsky, 287 S. Hague-av, is their leader, and Mrs. Keith Williams, co-leader.

Rural Mail Carriers Start Game Survey

Ohio rural mail carriers started conducting their second annual statewide summer game count beginning July 27, according to Bill Edwards, farm game biologist with the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Rabbits, pheasants and quail will be tallied for a two week period.

More than 1,000 mail carriers took part last year in the voluntary game survey.

The results have been found to be accurate and were extremely useful in determining game population trends.

Edwards expressed the hope that an even larger number of rural mail carriers would volunteer to aid in this year's census.

The findings of this summer survey will be combined with the findings of last year's survey to measure trends in game population and distribution throughout the state.

S-W District Executive Denies Move

Possibility that the South-Western Local School District headquarters will be shifted from its present location at Harrisburg-pk to some other locality has been refuted by Executive Head, V. J. Ullman.

Ullman stated that such a suggestion literally bowls him over. He did admit that it would be "nice" to have the district offices somewhere. "We are pretty crowded here," he said.

Nature has decreed that apparently the proposed Big Run Trunk Sewer will possibly be installed through the center of the South-Western District. The City of Columbus reputedly may be expected to try to seek annexation of approximately half the district some time in the future.

MAYOR CANDIDATES HAVE SOMETHING IN COMMON

TWO SAFE BETS—Two things about the next mayor of Columbus are known for sure—he'll be a Hilltopper, and he has an interest in glassware. Council President W. Ralston Westlake, at the left, practices the old craft of fusing and etching ruby glassware. Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, incumbent candidate, with November in mind, looks into the crystal ball, one of hundreds of glass items in his home collection. Turn to page 8 for an at-home story on the Sensenbrenners. The Westlakes will be featured next week.

The Little Things That Make A Trip Pleasant

One of the most pleasant spots we visited in 9000 miles of travel through the west was Singing Springs Ranch at Agness, Ore. The place itself was pleasant but the treatment we received while there will perhaps stand out for a long time as one of the high spots of the whole trip.

Before we left Columbus we had heard of the trip up the Rouge River and so when we were within 60 miles of Gold Beach, Ore., we decided to take an extra day and include this in the itinerary.

The 33 mile trip up the Rouge is featured as "climbing the Riffles of the Rouge in a U.S. Mail boat." Actually the mail is delivered by boat each day up to Agness where trappers, woodsmen and Indians of the area stop in for their mail.

The large flat boats carry about 24 passengers, and are powered by a large inboard motor that looks much like an auto engine. They have to be very powerful to make the uphill climb.

The trip is relaxing and abounds in scenic beauty but doesn't lack in some thrills especially on the way back as you look ahead and see the sharp drop as the current takes you down stream. In places the heavy steel strips on the bottom of the boat scratch across rock and a bath from the spray is not uncommon.

You have your choice of Singing Springs Ranch or Lucas Lodge for lunch. The price is a mere $2 per person, half price for youngsters under 12 and wee ones free. We, like most of those in our boat, chose Singing Springs.

As we drew up to their dock

Funeral Service Set Thursday For Mrs. Keenan

Services will be held Thursday, 1 p.m. at Jerry Spears Funeral Home for a Hilltop woman who was fatally injured Monday in Akron.

Mrs. Arnelia Keenan, 71, of 356 S. Roys-av, died of head injuries when she fell from her sister's moving auto, the Summit County sheriff's office reported.

She was riding with Mrs. Zola K. Loughry when the right door on the car flew open. Mrs. Loughry tried to hold her, but Mrs. Keenan fell to the pavement. She was pronounced dead at Akron General Hospital.

She is also survived by another sister, Mrs. Anice Price; brothers, Carl E. Boggs and Jesse Conn; several nieces and nephews.

Friends may call at the funeral home. Burial will be at Union Cemetery.

New West High Pupils Urged To Register At School Now

West High School, a six-year junior and senior high school for 30 years, will open Sept. 9 as a four-year school. Students in grades nine through 12 will make up the complete enrollment.

Robert Darrow, principal, has announced early registration for new students at the school, the need for schedule changes to be made immediately, and a policy of one-period lunch time.

Any student who has moved into the community this summer and hopes to attend West High School this year should register at the school office, 179 S. Powell-av, this week or the week of Aug. 17 to 21.

This also applies to any pupil not previously enrolled in a Hilltop public school but who intends to enter West this fall.

Early registration will permit the pupil to choose his subjects, and his schedule can be written during the summer along with the others.

Any West High student wishing to change his next semester schedule should come in during the week of Aug. 17 to 21. There will be no schedule changes during the first two weeks of school in September, except in the case of a typographical error.

Each student will have one period for lunch. If he lives close enough to the school to permit eating at home he may be granted a lunch permit for that period, if his parents request it.

Any student or parent who has questions about the coming school year is urged to contact the school by telephone or stop in at the office any week day between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Early registration of students not already enrolled is also being conducted at Hilltonia and Westmoor Junior High Schools. The staff will be on duty beginning, Monday, Aug. 17, to provide information.

Any students expecting to attend either school should stop in or call Hilltonia Junior High, 2345 W. Mound-st, BR. 6-2633, or Westmoor Junior High 3015 Valleyview-dr, BR. 4-0592.

Meter Decision Due Sept. 8; HBA Urges Sewer Action

City Traffic Commission, recessed during the six-week Council vacation, is expected to decide on parking meters for the Hilltop at its next meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 8. The session will be held at 7 p.m. in the City Hall annex.

Traffic Engineer Jack Gallagher said the group is considering the installation of one-cent meters in congested W. Broad-st areas between Eldon and Wheatland-avs and Hague and Chase-avs. Elimination of the "all-day parker" has been requested by some merchants.

Results of a department survey were presented to the civic development committee of the Hilltop Business Association on July 27.

At the same session the committee heard engineering reports of plans to relieve overloaded West area sewers. The information was relayed to the HBA's executive committee, which met Aug. 5.

A letter to city officials followed, urging the service department to expedite construction of Big Run sewer and a Highland Avenue branch. (Present plans call for completion Apr. 15, 1960. Bids are to be let Sept. 1 and Oct. 1 this year).

The HBA also asked that the city initiate "a systematic program of sewer cleaning."

Troupers, Exhibitors Set To Start

Franklin County Fairgrounds becomes the mecca for thousands of visitors, entertainers and exhibitors for the 46th time next week.

Events and activities get underway Tuesday night, Aug. 18 and continue through Saturday with hardly a let up.

New features combined with traditional highlights are expected to make this year's fair bigger and better than any previous spectacle, according to fair secretary, Findley DeWolfe.

Free admission to the fairgrounds Tuesday and Saturday night will be offered after 4 p.m.

On tap are such favorite standouts as animal judging contests, night harness racing, a 4-H Club horse show and a tractor rodeo.

Last year's new features, the rabbit show, science fair display and flower and garden club exhibit are to be retained.

Horses Stalled

Arrangements for a horse trailer display are being made, DeWolfe stated. In addition, an outside dance floor will be laid for entertainment of 4-H members.

Area village officials are once again expected to be targets of friendly fun when they are put on the spot in the Hilliard Jaycees dunk 'em machine.

Hilliard Optimists plan to operate a midget car for all between the ages of six and 60.

Optimist officials say it is "more fun than a barrel of monkeys."

A clown show and movies has been scheduled for all young.

The fair will get underway a day earlier this year with a Western Rodeo troup slated to perform in front of the grandstand Tuesday night.

Wednesday will find judging contests galore going on at the fairgrounds. Post time for night harness racing is scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday.

A Junior Fair King and Queen contest will take place at the Activities tent the same night.

Rabbits Judged

A rabbit judging contest will be conducted at noon Thursday. On tap at 1 p.m. is the 4-H Club horse show. A Rural Arts Talent show will be held in the Activities tent.

More judging is slated to take place Friday. In the afternoon, a tractor pulling contest will be waged at the grandstand. A 4-H Style Revue is scheduled in the Activities tent.

Saturday morning will find the FFA horseshoe pitching contest in full swing at 8 a.m. Youth organizations and a 4-H parade will fill out the morning agenda.

Parisian Hell Drivers will replace the harness races Saturday evening. Acrobatic drivers will be touring the track with 13

Poll Follows First Trend

Half Of City's Wards Touched In Mayor Survey

By Bill Rush

Winning of uncommitted votes assumed more importance for Columbus mayoralty candidates Democrat M. E. Sensenbrenner and Republican W. Ralston Westlake after the second week of the Hartley Newspaper public opinion poll.

Although the Republican City Council head maintained about the same margin over incumbent Mayor Sensenbrenner, his high percentage of support began to drop with more citizens joining the undecided ranks.

Here's the way the race looks with 14 of the city's 33 wards polled:

Westlake	42.1%
Sensenbrenner	27.1%
Undecided	30.8%
Total	100%

This represents a jump of more than 10 per cent in the undecided column drawing about equally from last week's support of both candidates. The figures during the first week, representing seven wards, were:

Westlake	47.0%
Sensenbrenner	32.7%
Undecided	20.3%
Total	100%

Persons interviewed over the past two weeks showed amazingly equal distribution in political parties. When asked with what political party they would place themselves, those interviewed responded:

Republicans	38.6%
Democrats	34.3%
Independents	27.1%
Total	100%

Interviewers continued to note that citizens aren't too well acquainted with Republican challenger Westlake. Many vote decisions were made on the basis of the person's feeling toward Sensenbrenner.

This may be one reason for the high number of undecided votes. Some people want to wait until they find out more about Westlake before they decide where to place their vote.

The big factor, nevertheless, is still the long wait before election day. A good many people aren't willing to commit themselves although they actually favor one of the candidates.

The biggest single statistic uncovered thus far has been the high percentage of Sensenbrenner support coming from persons who think his record outshines Westlake.

Asked why they would vote for Sensenbrenner, citizens replied:

Don't like Westlake	60.5%
Like his record best	13.0%
Other	26.5%
Total	100%

On the other hand, Westlake draws on those decidedly against Sensenbrenner for the biggest share of his support. Less than one-fifth of his votes come from people who say they like his record best. Only 13 per cent will vote for him because they think it is time for a change.

Asked why they would support Westlake, the breakdown was:

Don't like Sensenbrenner	50.1%
Like his record best	16.0%
Time for change	13.0%
Other	20.9%
Total	100%

When figures are compared with the last mayoralty election, Sensenbrenner shows an 11.5 per cent drop in support. Voters interviewed indicated they cast ballots like this last election:

Sensenbrenner	38.6%
Jones	23.6%
Misc. (Didn't vote, remember)	37.8%
Total	100%

While Sensenbrenner seems to retain most of his support on the basis of his past record, his biggest loss of voters is among those who are undecided on how they will vote this fall.

Broken down, the reasons why Sensenbrenner can't count on 11.5 per cent of those who voted for him last time are:

Undecided	44.2%
Don't like Sensenbrenner	24.2%
Time for change	16.2%
Like Westlake's record	8.2%
Other	7.2%
Total	100%

Summing It Up—Westlake still looks tough to beat. Although there is a large block of undecided voters, Westlake has to win fewer of these than Sensenbrenner to win. The big question now appears to be whether or not Westlake can swing these votes with his campaign. It appears that neither candidate has the election sewed up at this point.

MAILMAN SURPRISED AT NEIGHBORHOOD STORK SHOWER

SPECIAL DELIVERY—New papas are often overlooked in the flurry after the baby arrives . . . but not "Walter the mailman." This is what Walter Hagans, 185 S. Yale-av, found waiting for him under a shade tree on N. Wayne-av Tuesday noon. Forty-five residents of the Steele-to-Glenview block were waiting with gifts, a cake and dessert. Hostess, Mrs. Lawrence Reffe, 292 N. Wayne-av, points out the centerpiece, a plastic stork (courtesy of Seiller's) carrying a miniature U.S. mail bag. The Hagans' first child, Pamela Christine, arrived Aug. 4.

GUM CONTEST IS REAL WORK

DETERMINED BUNCH — Winning a gum chewing contest is more easily said than done. Just ask these Cub Scouts who were snapped at Saturday's annual Wing-Ding. Smallest boy in the group, Edward Borrow (center) produced the first bubble and won. Edward lives at 61 Coolidge-av and belongs to Pack 214, St. Mary Magdalene School.

LETTERS TO EDITOR:

1959 Cub Scout Wing Ding Another Rousing Success

To The Editor:

"A total of 307 adults registered for participation in the 1959 Cub Scout "Wing Ding" held at Westgate Park, Saturday afternoon, Aug. 8.

Columbus City Police Chief, George W. Scholer, acted as master of ceremonies in directing games, awarding of prizes, and keeping things moving rapidly and smoothly. There were dozens and dozens of wonderful and useful prizes won by little boys and girls, and many others won by mammas and dads, to add to the afternoon of gaiety and fun.

"The Wing Ding" is an annual August event directed by the leaders of Cub Scouting in the Southwest District to promote fun, and friendly association among those engaged in working with youth. Committees are formed for common tasks to be performed, all made up of volunteer Cub Scout people. Merchants and businessmen of the area—the Hilltop, Grove City, Harrisburg, Rome, Lincoln Village, as well as members of the various civic organizations, have fallen in with the idea and donated prizes in a shower of splendid generosity.

"Following the games and activities of the afternoon, the families pooled their food baskets for a general spread on groaning tables in the closed shelter house. District Chairman Jerry Spears, Jr., directed the activities at the lovely campfire at which numerous quiet songs were sung, led by Mrs. Brown of Harrisburg.

"To all those children and adults who participated, to all those faithful leaders who planned and worked to make the event another success, and finally, to all businessmen who donated prizes and assisted in other ways, we are indeed grateful and appreciative." Robert G Meade, District Executive; Jerry Spears, Jr., District Chairman; and Larry Hoye, General Chairman.

Columbus May Form First All-Girl Majorette Corps

Patti Blais

Thomas Bertman

Thomas E. Bertman and Patti Blais, two prominent baton twirlers of the Columbus and Franklin County area, are organizing Columbus' first all girl Majorette Drill Corps.

"This past year, the Columbus Statesmen Drum and Bugle Corps was re-organized, but there is a feeling that Columbus needs a similar unit for girls, said Bertman. "Several such corps have been in existence in the state. In 1957, Fred Miller's Blackhawks from Dayton, won the national drill team championship. This honor is highly possible with a group of our own, if the interest and incentive are created," he said.

Bertman, winner of many state twirling honors, is past drum major of West High School marching band, Reynoldsburg High School Band, Naval Reserve Band, and at present is drum instructor and drum major of the Columbus Statesmen Drum and Bugle Corps. He will be director of the [illegible]

Miss Blais is past twirler and drum majorette at Canal Winchester, past head with the Otterbein Marching Band, teacher in the Columbus area, and winner of many state honors. She will be in charge of the twirling, precimon, and the finer points of the corps.

Any girl, eight through 16 is eligible for tryouts. All girls attending are urged to bring parents along. Several tentative appearances have been scheduled for the future corps.

Tryouts will be judged primarily on marching ability, poise, and personality, said Bertman. Twirling ability will be helpful in tryouts but not entirely necessary.

Harvey L. Lemon, secretary-treasurer and Color Guard member of the Columbus Statesman Drum and Bugle Corps will assist Bertman and Miss Blais in organization of the corps. Lemon, connected with the Statesmen for the past two years, has had past experience with the Marion Cavaliers Drum and Bugle Corps.

The quota is set at 50, Bertman said. But if it is not reached this year, the corps will keep building. Those interested may write to Thomas E. Bertman, P.O. Box 812, Columbus, O. Applicants will be notified as to when and where tryouts will be held.

PLASTICS DANGER TO BABIES

What are known to the medical profession as "crib deaths" have puzzled doctors ever since there have been cribs.

For years we have read the tragic newspaper accounts of babies dying as a result of becoming entangled in bed clothing or sleeping garments, getting the head caught between the uprights of a bed or crib, or getting the head worked under a pillow.

The U. S. Public Health Service reports that approximately 1,500 infants under one year of age die of suffocation and chocking annually. The great majority are classified as crib deaths. Because suffocation and chocking can occur so swiftly at this tender age, determination of the exact cause is one of the pediatrician's greatest responsibilities.

The sudden and alarming appearance of something that can be assigned as a cause — the ultra-thin plastic film from which dry cleaners' bags are made — has resulted in a reaction understandable to any parent.

This cause developed as a result of the backfiring of American ingenuity. The American mother, working with a household budget that never seems to go far enough, has often found ingenious ways in which to re-use containers and packaging materials. In this case, she re-used the ultra-thin material as a makeshift mattress or pillow cover.

What the mother has not realized is that ultra-thin plastic is so pliable that it can rapidly mold itself around the nose and mouth, causing suffocation. The ultra-thin plastic material should never be substituted for the heavier plactic made especially for mattress covering.

Currently, the plastics industry is conducting a nation-wide educational program to alert parents to the dangers of mis-using the ultra-thin plastic. The program also urges parents to knot the bag and dispose of it in a hidded container when the bag has served its intended purpose.

We hope this safety advice will remind parents of other safety precautions they should exercise to protect their children: precautions with knives, razor blades, matches and other household items with a hazard potential.

Endorsement of the plastic industry's program by such groups as the National Safety Council, the U. S. Public Health Service, the American Acadamy of General Practice, and the American Academy of Pediatrics, suggests the prayerful hope that this goal is being achieved.

Ancient, Modern Religions Have Similar Beginnings

In the growth of religions and religious movements from small beginnings Christianity is not unique. Many great world religions have had similar history. And in modern times, conspicuous religious movements have had the same developments.

World Methodism, with its immense and numerical and spiritual power, began in a couple of devout Oxford University students, and particularly in the one, John Wesley.

The Mormon empire grew from one man, Joseph Smith, though he had amazing successors. Another notable instance is the rapid and widespread growth of Christian Science from the life and writings of Mary Baker Eddy.

The similarity of the growth of various religious and religious movements does not put them on an equal spiritual plane. There is something unique about the growth of Christianity. It is not the fact that it spread from a small beginning, but in the nature of the beginning from which Christianity developed.

The beginning was in spiritual teaching, and in a message. If one believed the Gospel, its very nature impelled one to make it known. And witnessing has been the very foundation of its continued growth and strength.

But the secret of Christianity lies in power as well as in the Gospel impelling experiences. Also, organization has accounted for the development of strong churches.

Jesus not only taught the Disciples, but He trained them and sent them out, two by two.

It is this contribution of spiritual power and organization that has always made religious movements so effective.

Orioles, Dodgers Have Edge In 'Y' Little 9 League Race

Championship races in the Hilltop YMCA "Little 9" league are getting tighter as the season draws near a close. The Orioles have taken over the league lead in the 11-13 year group while the Dodgers are setting the pace in the 8-10 year division.

The Orioles took over as they edged the Indians 1-0. The Indians opened with singles by Roger Nelson and Joe Anderson and then Oriole hurler Tim Weisert held them hitless for the remainder of the contest. The Orioles' only marker was in the last inning on a double by Rick Thompson and a single by Tony DeGiola.

The White Sox climbed into third place by beating the Tigers 5-1. Pat Ellis held the Tigers hitless until the last frame when Bob Biggers and Dan Donaldson hit safely and accounted for the only Tiger score. Ellis connected for a long three-run round tripper to put the game away for the Sox. Gary James collected two hits and drove in the other two tallies.

In the other game of the older division the Senators beat the Yankees 4-3. Jim Hughes went the route and held the losers to four hits. John Sines, with two hits and two runs scored, led the victors. Dan Roush hit safely twice for the Yankees.

Dodgers Split Two

Action in the younger league found the Dodgers splitting the two contests they played. The Dodgers defeated the Braves 6-5, in their first game on an unearned run in the last inning. The Braves had tied the contest in the fifth inning on a three-run round tripper by Galvy Gordon. Bob Krull paced the Dodgers with two hits and Terry Meinberg received credit for the win.

The Phillies beat the Dodgers 5-3, to deal the losers their second loss of the season. The winners were given three runs in the first inning without a hit. Steve Hedges went the distance for the win while Dennis Wright was the leading hitter, collecting three safeties for the losers.

In the other game last week the Braves shut out the Cubs 4-0. Denny Weisert held the Cubs to two hits in posting the victory. This loss kept the losers from moving into first place. The Braves scored all their runs in the fourth inning on two walks, singles by Phil Imler, Weisert and a double by Galvy Gordon.

Schedule Is Changed

All games scheduled to be played the week of Aug. 24,28 will be played the previous week. All players should note these changes because the season will end Aug. 21 with all teams seeing action twice next week:

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

Last week in the "Y" Thursday Evening Intermediate loop, DeMolay nipped West Park, 3-2. Bill McLaughlin scored the first run after hobbling a triple . . . a bum ankle kept him from a homer.

The Columbus Chapter of DeMolay and the Fourth District's representative in the State Conclave softball tourney wound up third. They had a bye in the first round at Dayton last weekend and then were beaten 8-5 by Lakewood (later the state champs).

The Lakewood pitcher, who was fairly fast on the mound, was practically the whole show for the victors with two homers and five RBIs. Approximately 93 teams started the season with an eye on the DeMolay state crown, so third is quite an honor.

The Columbus boys also pulled off a triple play in their Lakewood contest. In the third inning, with no outs and men on first and second, shortstop Dick Curtiss gloved a pop fly for the first out . . . whipped the ball to Dave Ewing at second for the second out and he in turn threw to Tom Morrison at first to complete the triple play.

The Columbus Chapter also took (all team competition) second in the state in rifle competition, third in bowling and fourth in swimming. Hope to have the names comprising these squads by next week.

John Radich's St. Mary Magdalene Babe Ruth team is having itself quite a season . . . undefeated for the year and operating in two different leagues — the city rec. dept. Knothole loop and the Southwestern Ohio Athletic league. They have won the Western Intermediate Knothole league and are now in the playoffs.

Recent scores have been St. M. M. over Georgian Hts., 13-6; over Bellis-Wetherholt, 6-2; over Sunshine, 5-1; over the Optimists, 12-3; over the Hilltop A. A., 4-2. Darkness halted a recent game with Bellis-Wetherholt with latter leading 2-0 after 4½ frames, so the game will be replayed.

Coach Radich is eager to obtain some practice [illegible] teams of 13-14 year olds so his younger boys may have some more game experience. If anyone is interested please call him at BR. 4-7461.

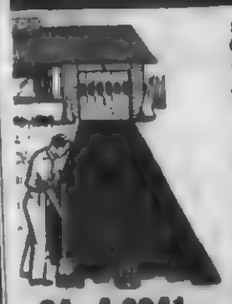
Results in last week's 'Y' Slo-Pitch leagues found in the Church division . . . Hillcrest Baptist 8, Glenwood Meth. 4; Westgate EUB 10, Westgate Meth. 8; Hoge Memorial 17, Burgess EUB 12; and West Park Meth., a bye. In Club loop play, Westway VFW 20, Westminister Presby. 8; Hilltop Lions 6, Lincoln Village Baptist 5; Columbia Hts. Meth. 11, Northway VFW 10 and Y's-Men had the bye.

Next week's schedule in the Church loop (their last) reads for Tues. Aug. 18 . . . Hillcrest Bapt., Westgate Meth.; Glenwood Meth., West Park; Westgate EUB, Hoge Memorial; and Burgess EUB the bye. Tonight's schedule, (Wednesday, Aug. 12) in the Club loop is Westway VFW, Lions; Y's Men, Lincoln Village; Westminister Presb., Columbia Hts; and Northway VFW the bye. The latter loop's last scheduled night, Wednesday, Aug. 19, reads Westway VFW, Westminister Presby.; Northway VFW, Columbia Hts.; Lions, Lincoln Village and Y's-Men the bye.



Boys and girls must be signed up on a playground by closing time 8 p.m., tomorrow (Thurs.) in order to compete in this Saturday's big Junior Olympic Field and Track Meet at OSU Stadium. It starts at noon.

There is a lot of fine sport entertainment on radio and TV and in the Ohio area in the next week to 10 days. Friday night of course is the big College All-Star vs. Baltimore Colts game; Saturday evening is the annual high school North-South All-Star tilt at Canton's Fawcett Stadium at 8:30 (DST or 7:30 our time) with the Hilltop's own representative slated to see lots of action . . . crushing fullback Dave Francis.

And a week from Saturday in Akron's Rubber Bowl the 1959 version of the Cleveland Browns will play an exhibition with the always-tough Detroit Lions and another hometown product of some merit . . . a lad by the name of Hopalong Cassidy. .

LIONS SHARPEN UP WESTGATE HAWKS

THE HOLE TRUTH—Battle worn uniforms of the state-champ Westgate Hawks football squad need to be replaced, so the Hilltop Lions have come to the rescue with a gift of $100. Lion George Blackmore, 2741 St. Patrick-rd (left, with check) is shown the ripped sleeve of Bob Eberhard, 2725 St. Josephav, by Coach Dennis McDonald, 812 Brixhamav, Mike Blackmore and Larry Cline, 2684 Vanderberg-av, look on. The Hawks won a two-state title last Thanksgiving. The pictured players made the Bearcat All-League team. The boys, all 15 years and under and weighing under 110 pounds, began fall practice at Westgate Park, Aug. 10. Two six-team divisions are anticipated this year.

West's Francis May Prove Standout At Canton, Aug. 15

By Bob Wilcox

Dave Francis, ("Mule" to his West High fellow students and teammates) is deep in practice with the South All-Stars for this Saturday evening's big tilt.

The annual Ohio high school North-South All-Star football game will be played this Saturday, Aug. 15, at Canton's extra-large Fawcett Stadium. Its seating capacity of about 20,000, is usually jammed.

Francis has been nothing short of a sensational fullback for the Cowboys in the last few [illegible] With his bull-like charges that almost without exception net sizable gains, he is up to his old tricks in Canton.

Playing both fullback and either linebacker or left half on defense, he has been, as usual, almost unstoppable. Shuttling back and forth between the first and second team, the South coaches (and other "expert" spectators) agree that he's the best fullback in camp.

Dave 'Mule' Francis

Rough On Shoes

He's already worn out one pair of football shoes and his folks are having to ship up another pair of lowcuts prior to game time. The South, possessor of the heavier of the two all-star lines, has the heavy line necessary to open up the holes for Francis' charges.

They are currently, since Aug. 4, on a two-a-day practice schedule . . . one in the morning and one in the afternoon. (Staying at the St. Francis Hotel, they normally arise about 6:30 a.m.) The North squad, whose personnel is mostly from within a 50-mile radius of Canton, went home over the past weekend, but the South maintained their two-a-day drills.

One team practices at Fawcett Stadium one day while the other team uses Leyman H.S. field, alternating daily. Off the field, they are shown a royal time regardless of their early rising hour and their strict training rules which include an early bedtime) as they are taken to [illegible] to Myers Lake (a large local amusement Park), etc. [illegible] they will, along with the North team, vote and select the game's beauty queen. They will pick from five finalists.

Joined By Schultz, Babbitt

Francis is joined on the South team by two other familiar names to Columbusites . . Schultz of Eastmoor and Babbitt of Bexley. Due to an injury to another starter, it now appears at press time that Schultz will be a starting South lineman. Babbitt is a quarterback candidate.

Francis will enter OSU this fall and in anticipation of this, has been receiving treatments for a bad toe that has bothered him for some time. It seems to have responded and has given him no trouble at Canton.

He should be in rare form come Saturday evening and any lucky localities present should see a lot of a Southern fullback by the name of Francis tearing up the Fawcett turf. Game time is 8:30 (DST); 7:30 our time.

BENEFITS BOATERS—Universal boat licensing is included in the new Ohio boating law. Effective Jan. 1, one license will take you on any waters in the state.

Boaters Welcome New Watercraft Regulation

Ohio's new boating law, also called the boat-numbering act, will be a boon to Buckeye boaters.

Starting Jan. 1, 1960, all boats, even rowboats, will have to be licensed, but the important feature is that one license will take you on any water in the state. Fees will range from $1 to $10, the lowest being for rowboats.

Sailboats and outboard motors with less than 25 cubic inches of piston displacement will be $3, and those with more than 25 cubic inches, $4; sailboats with outboard motors over 25 cubic inches, $7; and sailboats with inboard motors and inboard motor boats with less than 100 horsepower, $10. There is a $30 fee for boat dealers and 25 cents is added to each license as a vendor's fee.

You will be able to purchase the new licenses at places that presently license boats: Ohio Division of Parks' offices, Muskingum Conservancy District, and several cities, including Columbus. These offices will be designated as agents of the division of Watercraft, an administrative unit created to carry out the provisions of the new law.

For those boaters who have been keeping an eye on federal watercraft legislation, this bill in Ohio will implement the Bonner Act that was passed in 1958. This act encourages the states to do away with multiple boat licensing, and clears the way for the licenses of one state to be honored in all other states.

Safety Laws Enacted

Safety provisions were written into another new Ohio act. Specified are certain types of lights for boats at night, bans flashing lights except in an emergency to attract attention, forbids sirens on private boats, sets up rules for prevention of collisions, similar to rules of the road for automobiles, fixes minimum ages for boat operators, prohibits persons under the influence of alcoholic beverages, narcotics, drugs or opiates or those mentally or physically incapacitated from operating watercraft, lists penalties for killing a person while violating any law applying to the use or operation of watercraft, sets forth regulations for water skiing and types of life preservers.

This legislation was necessary, of course, because of the mushroom-like growth of boating as a family outdoor sport. Boat trailers make every garage or carport a possible dock, and the widespread interest that boating is now enjoying is almost unbelievable. As waterways became more crowded, enforced safety regulations were inevitable. And boaters will not mourn the passing of the old-fashioned, entangled mess of multiple licensing.

Safety Note Given

While on the subject of boat safety, we might pass on the item that came to our attention about kapok life preservers not floating in water that is mixed with gasoline or oil. When there is a boating accident, particularly in the case of a larger boat, there will often be a gasoline or oil slick on the water just when you need them most, is the time, reportedly, that kapok fibers float like a rock.

GRANDPA MAYOR—An extensive collection of glass paperweights, including antiques and rarities, are shown to his grandchildren by the mayor. Patti, 5, and three-year-old Doug are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sensenbenner.

MAYOR ON THE MOVE—A tight schedule of official appointments keeps Sensenbrenner on the go. He leaves his home at 335 Guernsey-av, at his usual rapid rate, with a farewell wave.

Career 'Rules Roost' In The Mayor's Home

COFFEE BREAK—Late news developments are always followed carefully in the mayor's household. Mrs. Sensenbrenner pours coffee during a relaxing moment, and the two catch up on the latest.

By Betty Deft

The home of the mayor, 335 Guernsey-av, is tailored to fit the needs of Columbus' first family, and the pattern of the Sensenbrenners' living determined entirely by its official and social obligations.

Remodeled and enlarged according to Mrs. Sensenbrenner's design and specifications, their home is one of quiet elegance and beauty, a fitting residence for the mayor of the All-American City.

Collects Glassware

The mayor's large collection of beautiful glassware is displayed to advantage throughout the house. Wall cupboards in the dining room and built-in cabinets, cupboards and drawers in his study are filled with prized pieces.

Some are of value as antiques, some as rarities and others are valued just as highly for sentiment.

Cut glassware is intricate and unusual design dominates the collection.

Always active in civic and church affairs, the couple has extended their activities to include the responsibilities they feel the office implies.

Calendar Crowded

Days start early at the Sensenbrenners, with a 7:30 a.m. radio broadcast, via telephone from his home, three mornings a week.

"A hurried breakfast," according to Mrs. Sensenbrenner, "is many times the only meal we have at home together during the day."

Official appointments and speaking engagements for the mayor, luncheons, teas and addresses to women's organizations for Mrs. Sensenbrenner, constantly crowd their calendar.

Believing that the people have every right to know them personally, each of them accepts "as many invitations as we possibly can."

They were guests of Chicago's mayor last month for the ceremonious opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, and a meeting with Queen Elizabeth of England.

From there, they traveled to the mayors' conference in California. Mayor Sensenbrenner was appointed to the advisory committee of the Mayors Association of the United States, and chairman of United States Mayors for the Columbus Day and Sister City programs.

Church Influences Lives

Deep religious convictions have played an important part in the lives of each family member.

The mayor has taught the Fidelis Sunday School Class at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church since it was organized in 1932. The class had grown to 300 members, and was believed to be the largest in the state, by 1948.

Membership continued to grow, and the group merged with the Married Couples class.

Sensenbrenner continues to teach every other month, and L. W. McAllister, principal of the new Westmoor Junior High School teaches on alternate months.

The mayor is also an elder at Hoge, and was president of the board of deacons for many years.

Mrs. Sensenbrenner, also active at Hoge, organized its junior church program many years ago.

One of their sons, Edward, will enter the Pittsburg-Xenia Seminary in preparation for the Presbyterian ministry in the fall. He was graduated from Ohio State University with a master's degree and a commission in the U. S. Army, and served two years with the Army in Alaska.

Another son, Richard, is a resident of Ogden-av. He attended Ohio University and is now associated with the personnel department of the State Highway Department.

Mayor Sensenbrenner speaks proudly of Columbus' growth and honors.

City's Great Growth

"The city grew more during the first four months of my administration than during its entire 120 years of history. And the annexations gave it one of the greatest potentials of any city in the nation.

"Without surrounding municipalities to smother its growth, Columbus has a truly great future.

"It's the greatest— a real All-American City."

Believing, "The greatest natural resource in America is the youth of the land," the mayor has been active in Scouting since 1914. He holds the Silver Beaver award, is vice-president of the Central Ohio Area Boy Scouts of America and general chairman of the area for the golden anniversary of Scouting to be observed next year.

He is a past Scoutmaster of Camp Chase Post troop, and formerly worked with Troop 1, at First Presbyterian Church.

He is also a member of Big Brothers Association and was formerly vice-president of Camp Fire Girls.

He is a past president of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Looking forward to the fall, and a quickening of tempo during the mayoralty campaign, Sensenbrenner said, "I don't quite see how I could be busier."

SCOUTS VISIT MAYOR — Mayor Sensenbrenner, holder of the Silver Beaver award for his years of service to scouting, plays host to visiting scouts at his office at City Hall.

County Home Overcrowding Investigated

Sixty-three youngsters in a 42 capacity receiving center, causing some children to sleep on mattresses on the floor, has county commissioners clamoring for investigation of overcrowding at Franklin Village's new $3000,000 building, admittedly known to be "not big enough" when built.

Within a few days Commission Chairman D. J. Kunz will make a visit to the center and investigate the situation, he announced Tuesday.

The center was criticised as a waste of money before it was opened, by Child Welfare Board member Helen Kauffman. She then cited its small capacity and the permitting of large playrooms when there was limited bed space. At the time she predicted the present overflow.

An additional 50 children are being housed in the village medical center, which was originally intended to release its occupants for medical care.

Child Welfare Board executive secretary James W. Grant stated that an adequate and competent staff would be better able to control the crowded conditions. Even with the recent addition of eight new caseworkers, the center is still handicapped because of their inexperience, he said.

Hilliard Man Installed As Redman Official

Herbert O. Riebel of Hilliard was installed as great prophet of the Great Council of Ohio, Improved Order of Red Men, Saturday at the Southern Hotel.

More than 500 members attended the two-day convention of the oldest patriotic fraternity of American origin.

Spectator—

we were met by Mr. R. W. Griffitts, the owner, and one of his young men employees. Each passenger was individually greeted and welcomed.

At the top of the hill after a steep climb, a most lovely sight greeted us . . . attractively set tables under the shade trees, flowers everywhere and the low tones coming from the "singing spring."

Here we had one of the finest meals of the entire trip . . . a country style chicken dinner, tasty salad, vegetables, hot biscuits, homemade wild blackberry jam, dessert and beverage . . . all for $2.

The constant attention to his less than 20 guests was well received by all. I asked Mr. Griffitts, "How can you afford to do so much and give such a good meal for so little?"

He replied; "My wife and I have traveled much all over the world. We were many times impressed with the things that were left undone for guests. We made up our minds we would like to retire to some place like this and live the rest of our lives enjoying the opportunity to do things for people."

The world needs more people like the R. W. Griffitts.

If you go up Oregon way ride the riffles and visit Mr. Griffitts. It is a unique experience.

Free Ice Water

Maybe you've read or heard of the famous Wall Drug Store out at Wall, S. D.

Seems that back in 1931 Ted and Dorothy Husted, just out of school, started their drug store. Business was at a new low in the depression.

Some hundreds of people were traveling through to the Black Hills though and Dorothy suggested to Ted that they place a sign along the highway and offer free ice water to people if they would drive an extra block off the route to their store.

The idea clicked. Druggists had been giving away free ice water for years but none had advertised it. By 1936 they were dispensing as many as 5000 glasses of free ice water each day, but merchandise was moving too.

Today the Wall Drug Store sign may be seen on any highway in the country, or even throughout the world. The store has expanded by leaps and bounds and is today unique in many respects. It too, is worth dropping into when you are in the Badlands.

now Simcas. They will climax their act with an aerial ramp-to-ramp leap.

Harness racing purses for the four day program total $15,000. Eight races have been set for each day of the fair.

Striving to see that no one will be disappointed during the entire period are the hard-working officers of the fair: Ray Dellinger, president; A. E. Bogen, vice-president; DeWolfe, secretary; and Zail Kemp, treasurer.

Kids Busy At Tournaments, Junior Olympics, Pageants

Three different classes of entertainment rate top attention at the local city-operated playgrounds this week.

Tournaments in softball, tennis and horseshoes are under way; the Junior Olympics will be run Sunday afternoon at OSU Stadium; and the City-wide Pageant is not far off (Aug. 20 at Central High School).

Following are reports from many Hilltop and West Side play centers:

At Sunshine . . .

Sunshine Recreation Center has seven nominations for the 'Hi-Fi Club Queen' eliminations to be held at Sunshine on Aug. 28 from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

The girls are all high school students in the Columbus area and are members of the Hi-Fi Club. They are: Stori Lewis Nancy Lewis, Diana Taylor, Linda Angelletti, Sandy Gunkle, Michele Ryan, Tamara Hesler and Sandra Bragg.

One girl will be selected as queen of Sunshine and will compete with five others from Beatty, Linden, Schiller, and Whetstone centers. Final queen will be selected by John Brown, Phyllis Nash, Byron Redman, and Ollie Oelgoetz.

Sunshine Senior Boys' softball team ran their record to 5-2 by knocking off previously-undefeated Glenwood, 7-4.

Tim Dunham blasted a home run and totaled four RBI's for the night. Pitcher Earl Glover held the Hilltoppers in check, backed by strong glove men Dick Whaley, Foe Cochenour, and Larry Driscoll. Other members of the team are: Terry Boyer, Dick Hand, Tom Montgomery, Don Seagle, John Lemley, and Jay Dunham.

Sunshine Braves Intermediate Knot hole Baseball team went down to defeat at the hands of Chuck's Gulf Service (6-3) and Northwest Mounties (3-1). The Braves hold a 4-4 record and one game remaining. On the team are: Tony Postal, Eddie Dietrick, Pat Durham, Don Lee, Woody Hakes, Butch Fleming, Joe Scowden, Brian Sally, Bill Frank, Dick Kettell, Bill Cochenour, Chuck Rains, Ralph Vincent, Dave Jones, and Ronnie Smith.

Steve Kettell knocked in the winning run as Sunshine Junior Boys' Softball team defeated highly-rated Hauntz 5-4, in eight innings. Sunshine thus ended their West League schedule with a 4-2 record, losing only to Sullivant Gardens (16-14) and Holton (10-5). Members of the team are: Jim White, Shorty Lewis, Roger Calhoun, Pat Lewis, Bob Thompson, Mike Mooney, Jim Elbin, Jim Cuckler, Steve Kettell, Mike Smith, Kuey Buck, Mike Cahill and Sam Wells.

Sunshine Ball Leagues Busy

Police AA sponsored Junior Jet League at Sunshine Park moves into its final week as 12 teams in two leagues battle it out for playoff berths.

In the American League (boys 8-9), the White Sox, coached by John Krause, tied for first with the Tigers in Round I, won Round II all alone, and lead in Round III.

The Reds, coached by Jack Lambert, Al Bettinger, and Mark Milligan, are out in front of the park in the National League's Round II with a 4-0 record. Close behind are the Pirates, coached by Lee Grey, with three victories and one defeat.

The two teams meet Wednesday, Aug. 12 in what could determine the Round II winner and a playoff berth. Stan Hasch's Dodgers won Round I but have slipped to sixth in Round II. The Dodgers will meet the winner of Round II for the National League (boys 10-11-12 years old) championship. A single-elimination tournament for the National League will be held at the season's close.

At Hauntz . . .

Twelve teenage girls from Hauntz playground will be in the pageant at Central High School, Aug. 20. Dancing to the music of the Can-Can will be Sue Hennick, Sue Poly, Sandy Weisenberger, Rachel Gallentine, Sandy Ruzicka, Barbara Hines, Penny Collins, Shirley Troutman, Karen Bishop, Brenda and Barbara McCatherine. They will be colorfully costumed.

Hauntz's Junior Girls' softball team No. 1 won the league championship by beating Sullivant Gardens 37-30. On the team are Sandy Ruzicka, Carol Diedrich, Pam Courter, Cynthia Echols, Donna Edwards, Nancy Friend, Mary Kay Wolfe, Connie Friend and Sandy Weisenberger.

Junior Jet league standings follow:

Team	W	L
Tigers	11	4
Cards	9	5
Indians	9	5
Yanks	8	6
Pirates	6	8
Braves	4	10
Terrors	4	10

Several more games were played this week. The Braves won a pitchers' duel over the Indians, 3 to 1. Indian pitcher Jack Logue, gave up only one hit. Mickey Pless of the Braves gave up only two. Indians' two costly errors caused their defeat.

All parents and friends are invited to come to the park and watch the boys play. There are two games nightly, Monday through Thursday, 5 and 6:30.

Junior Boys Softball league is finished. Hauntz had a good season. Some of the outstanding players were Carl Ruzicka, Bob Dawson, Jack Husch, Jack Logue, Ron Friend and Jim Case.

Intermediates won three and lost four games. A game with Sullivant Gardens this week will end the season.

Several boys and girls from Hauntz are now in the city horseshoe tournament. There are nice pits at the park. Parents are welcome to play any time.

On Saturday, Aug. 15, several boys and girls from Hauntz will take part in the Junior Olympic meet at OSU Stadium at noon. Parents are urged to attend. Admission is free.

At Glenwood . . .

Glenwood won three matches and lost three in the first round of the Citywide Playground Horseshoe Tournament. The winners were Jean Johnston, Intermediate Girls; Keith Creamer, Junior Boys; and Steve Fetherolf, Senior Boys.

By beating the Cards 12-2 and the Yanks 7-1, the Cubs have taken the lead in the Lions - Kiwanis Junior Jet League at Glenwood.

Donnie Wern and Jerry Frances provided the scoring punch for their team as the Aces beat the Cubs 10-2 and the Yanks 11-3.

Good hitting by Bill Smith and Jim Bell enabled the Yanks to beat the Cards 7-4 and the Reds 4-3.

Two home runs by Virgil Starks, with bases loaded, proved to be too much for the Aces as the Reds downed them 14-1. The Reds also beat the Cards 5-2.

League standings are:

	W	L
Cubs	9	6
Cards	9	7
Aces	8	7
Reds	9	8
Yanks	6	8

At Holton . . .

In softball at Holton last week the junior boys were defeated by Sullivant Gardens, the Intermediates by John Burroughs Intermediate girls beat Sunshine 20 to 8, and also won by forfeit from Glenwood.

Last Friday night Intermediate girls played two innings against Sullivant Gardens With Holton in the lead, 7 to 5, the game was called because of rain. It will be finished this Friday at 6:30 at Sullivant Gardens. Intermediate boys will play Westgate this week.

In the horseshoe tourney Holton won six matches from Westgate by forfeit. This week Holton will meet John Burroughs and West Mound.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the park for Junior Olympics, Saturday. Spectators are also invited to the free event.

Holton will begin to work on the city pageant this week. Each afternoon from 3 to 4, costumes will be made and the stage practice will begin. Those interested in participating should ask at the park. Holton will portray "circus freaks."

At McKinley . . .

This week McKinley playground children will be preparing for the city-wide pageant to be held Thursday evening, Aug. 20.

McKinley and Chicago Avenue are combining talents for this event. Their theme is built around the circus and they will do a dance to the record "I'm Going to be a Wheel."

A practice girls' softball game will be held this week with the Westgate One girls' team.

Coming up this week is the annual Junior Olympics, Saturday morning at OSU stadium. McKinley has several entries.

Now that day camp is over and the children from McKinley are back, many comments about the camp have been floating around. Some enjoyed the cook-outs, some the hikes, but it was agreed that the swimming was best. All are eager to go again next year.

At Burroughs . . .

John Burroughs intermediate softball team stretched its unbeaten record to seven games as they played and won three games this past week.

J.B. defeated Sullivant Gardens 23-6, Monday; Westgate, 14-13 Wednesday, and Holton, 14-6 Friday.

If the boys win their one remaining game with McKinley this week they will be sectional champs of the West Side. Supervisors offer hearty thanks to parents and friends who helped by umpiring and furnishing transportation.

Team statistics for games played so far are:

Burroughs Teen Club held "The Royal Rock" dance Friday evening and despite bad weather, had a large turnout. A queen and king elected by secret ballot were Linda Wallace and Jack Harrison.

A mothers' softball team is being organized, and any mother interested in playing should contact playground supervisors.

Burroughs has the following representatives going into Round B of the horseshoe tournament: junior boy, Kenny Drengas; intermediate girl, Cheryl Cline, and intermediate boy, Jack Harrison.

At Chicago . . .

Boys at Chicago playground enjoyed several interesting games of soccer last week. Almost every evening, a game is held on the volleyball court.

Only one game was played in the softball league last week. Intermediate girls, who played against Hauntz, were rained out in the third inning. The team has only one more game to play.

On Aug. 15, the annual Junior Olympics Track and Field Meet will be held at Ohio State Stadium. There are many different events that children all ages can enter. So far, Chicago has eight entries in the meet.

At Westgate . . .

Westgate Lassies (Junior team No. 1) took the West sectional Junior Girls' League crown in a 27-23 win from a very good Hauntz squad in a playoff game. They now go into the city championship tournament.

After being defeated by Sullivant Gardens, 18-15, and by Highland, 27-10, the Westgate intermediate girls finally bounced back to take a rough Hauntz crew, 33-9. The latter contest was marked by some very fine play by both teams. Westgate meets Glenwood some time this week.

Final day for signing up for the Junior Olympic Field and Track Meet at OSU this Saturday is before the park closes tomorrow (Thursday, Aug. 13) at 3 p.m. No registrations will be accepted after that—or at the meet.

Physical fitness examinations are still being run off by Mr. Fulton and Miss Gillan for boys and girls interested in obtaining their fitness certificates.

Marcia Richter Elaine Ragen and Tom Hoffman were the park's entries in the Junior Olympic Swim Meet last week.

The boys' intermediate softball squad had a very busy and fairly productive week. Tuesday they downed Highland, 16-15, were nipped on the last play of the game by John Burroughs, 14-13, on Wednesday and then traveled to Sullivant Gardens next day to take a 25-0 contest in an abbreviated five-inning affair. The latter game was highlighted by the fine pitching of Westgate's Ernie Cummings.

It was a no-hitter until he was nicked for a single with two away in the bottom of the fifth. They also had their hitting clothes on in the latter game as Westgate collected 16 hits, including homeruns by Dick Williamson, Cummings and two round circuit clouts by Gary Orr.

A week from today (Wednesday) the park's entry in the final pageant will rehearse at Central High auditorium at 1:40 p.m. The big annual wind-up pageant will be held the following evening, Aug. 20, at 7:30, in the same spot.

SHELTER'S FINISHED BUT WHERE ARE THE TABLES?

PICNICKERS' DILEMMA—Glenwood Park, 1925 W. Broad st, has a brand new permanent shelter house but no one can use it. "Not enough money for tables," said Ray S. Dietz, chief of the parks and forestry department. "We're building a lot of such shelters around the city," Dietz added, "and simply can't scrape up the finances to furnish them all at once." Glenwood's shelter, first of its type in the park, cost $2500. Nearby toilets are almost completed.

This is to tell you how much I appreciate the journalism scholarship that was presented to me by your organization this past June.

Even though I haven't definitely decided, I think I will go into the management curriculum of the school of journalism at Ohio State University. In this course of study I will be able to take business organization, photography, advertising layout, law, and various electronics which will enable me to obtain a broader knowledge of the journalism field.

Thank you again for the opportunity you have given me and the interest you show in young journalists.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits—Melons, peaches, apples, grapes.

Vegetables — Snap beans, potatoes, peppers, beets, summer squash, frozen Fordhook limas.

Meats and Poultry—Ham, bacon, lamb shoulder, fryers, eggs.

MELONS MAKE FINE DESSERTS

Do you have a "system" for picking out a good melon? You will find it interesting to watch shoppers as they try to find the best melon in a display. Some will study the coloring of the rind between the netting on a cantaloupe. Some will smell the stem scar. Some will "weigh" the melon in their hand.

Actually, choosing melons is somewhat like buying a "pig in a poke." You can't be sure of the sweetness and ripeness of a melon until it is cut and tasted. This is usually impossible. So, the outside appearance must serve as a guide to melon flavor and juiciness.

Selection of Cantaloupe — Some outside signs of quality are a light green color with a grey or yellowish cast, depending upon the variety; course, dry, well-defined netting over the surface, and a smooth, slightly sunken stem scar. The softness of the blossom end may or may not indicate ripeness. Too many "pinchers" when shopping can soften an unripe melon.

Watermelons when ripe are firm, velvety in appearance, and deep solid green to gray in color according to variety. A common test for ripeness is the hollow sound heard when the melon is thumped. This is a fairly good guide, but it is not an infallible one. The only sure way is to "plug" and taste it.

A variety of other delightfully tasty melons are also on the market. Honeydews, Casaba, Cranshaw, and Persian melons come to market through August and into September. If you are not familiar with these, now is a good time to try them for a dessert salad that's really different.

Care at Home — Melons that are not fully ripe when purchased, should be ripened at room temperatures. Fully ripe melons should be chilled several hours before serving for best flavor. The fragrant aroma of the melon mingles easily with other foods, so wrap in waxed paper or plastic bags before storing in the refrigerator.

* A minted fruit dressing can make a melon salad seem even cooler.
* Blueberries, cottage cheese, bananas, plums, and cherries make excellent salad companions.
* Combine melon balls and seedless grapes with a bit of lemon for an appetizer.
* A cantaloupe section filled with ice cream is a favorite dessert, but when topped with blueberries it's extra special.

Melons are low in calories, have vitamins and minerals and so are good additions a a meal when you want to make hot weather eating pleasant but easy on the cook.

Miss Priscilla Ann DeVol and Thomas Stephen Cox repeated their marriage vows Saturday, Aug. 8 at Westgate Friends Church. Dr. Everett Cattell, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. Leonard E. Wines, officiated at the 2:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride's parents are Dr and Mrs. William Ezra DeVol, missionaries in Chhatarpur, M P: India. Dr. DeVol is a former Hilltop physician. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Cox of 198 S. Brinker-av.

A crown of seed pearls and lace held her fingertip veil and she carried a crescent of white Fuji mums, amazonicas and yellow sweetheart roses.

Miss Patrica DeVol served as maid of honor for her twin sister, and Miss Sondra Leech as bridesmaid.

They were identically gowned in green taffeta ballerina-length frocks with matching bow bandeaus, and carried green and white croton leaves with yellow glamellias.

Mr. Peter Eimer served as best man and ushers were Mr. Robert Cox, Mr. Robert Amorine and Mr. Terrance Barnet.

Hostesses for the reception held at the church were Miss Lenora Shaver, Miss Mary Catherine Cattell, Mrs. Fred Bowser, Miss Brenda Strauss and Miss Donna Jaycox.

The new Mrs. Cox will be graduated from White Cross Hospital School of Nursing in September. Mr. Cox attended Bob Jones University and Grace College, Winona Lake, Ind.

Franklin County Fair Gets Underway Tuesday

New Yeast Award Will Be Offered

Home baked breads and rolls —traditionally the test of a good cook—will be in the spotlight at the Franklin County Fair.

There, local women will compete for a Best-of-Show Yeast Baking Award offered by Standard Brans Incorporated, makers of Fleischmann's Yeast. Any yeast-raised bread, sweet bread, or roll—in any class— is eligible for the award of $10.

These baked products, done beforehand by the contestants, will be judged according to prepared point system, with emphasis on flavor, shape, color, crust, and crumb. Contestants may enter yeast baking done from original or favorite recipes. The winning product will be chosen by the fair judges.

In these days of pre-cooked and hurry-up foods, it's interesting to make note that the past few years have seen an increase in home baking. According to a recent survey, there is a growing interest in baking, with more and more women trying their hand at yeast breads and rolls.

A tractor pulling contest will be held Friday afternoon in front of the grandstand. The contest will be divided into four classes with a $25 first prize in each division.

Women's work competition will be open in 14 categories. Among them are canning, jam and jelly, pickles, breadstuffs, cake and candy, clothing, household furnishings and ceramics.

Several of the buildings on the fairgrounds will furnish a new look as part of a "Fresh-up, Paint-up" campaign.

Admission to the fairgrounds is 50 cents. Exhibitor, family and membership tickets cost three dollars.

Men worry what the future will have in store, women worry over what the store will have in the future.

STARTS DAY EARLY

Rodeo To Open Annual Fair

Look up your ten gallon hats and boots, the McKinley Rodeo is coming to the Franklin County Fair.

Kick-off attraction for the big four-day fair, the Western Rodeo will start festivities rolling Wednesday night with an entertainment-packed program in front of the grandstand.

Rodeo is entertainment for all ages. There will be saddle bronc riding, bare back bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping and many other thrilling events to hold everyone interested and tense until the performer safely finishes this dangerous attempt.

The show is full of color with the grand entry featuring a magnificient wardrobe, banners, and beautiful saddle horses as all participants gallop past the grandstand.

Several acts are featured including fancy roping, big horse catches, roman riding, trick riding, educated horse and an educated mule act.

Highlight of the evening will be the Dance of the Rangeland, when four couples riding beautiful horses and wearing glittering costumes square dance on horseback.

Keeping things always on the move will be the clown, a trouble-maker from start to finish of the performance.

About 20 professional people travel with the McKinley Rodeo, showing at some of the larger fairs in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Michigan.

Parisian Hell Drivers To Roar Saturday Night

Those zany international merchants of death, the Parisian Hell Drivers, now on their first tour of the United States, will appear on the race track before the grandstand as the feature attraction of the Franklin County Fair at 8 p.m. Saturday night, Aug. 22.

The Parisian Hell Drivers will present a 28-event thrill program, topped off with an aerial ramp-to-ramp leap of a 1959 Simca convertible.

Thirteen 1959 Simca cars will be used by the daredevils and their use will make the first time these little foreign cars will be seen in action in this area. The Simca cars are a French importation and are smaller than the standard American auto.

Featured driver of the Parisian Hell Drives is "Dapper Dan Fleenor, a tall Texan, who is noted for his uncanny ability to balance a speeding car on two wheels for a long distance. Other stunt drivers have been able to hold a car in such a position but none as long as this Texas leadfoot.

Feature event of the 28-thrill program will be the ramp-to-ramp leap. The little sports car will be projected through the air a distance of 65 feet while another car passes beneath the flying convertible.

Other thrilling stunts listed on the program are precision driving over elevated rampways, deliberate crash roll contests, criss-cross daredevil driving, the T-bone crash, and the aerial divebomber crash of a stock passenger car into a car parked on the raceway.

Because of the size of the smaller Simca cars, many new stunts have been worked out and will be seen during the program.

With contests waging through the nation, the Parisian Hell Drivers have one of their own. The stuntmen are working for a $1,000 prize as well as their weekly salaries. This amount of money goes to the stunter who holds the most points at the end of the season earned by safely performing dangerous stunts.

This helps keep the program fresh, despite the daily grind of performing throughout the nation.

A big attraction at each year's fair is the Dunk Em machine sponsored by the Hilliard Junior Chamber of Commerce. An electronic machine which dunks without warning, it has been the hot seat for well-known county figures over the last two years. Among those sent to the drink have been County Commissioner D. J. Kunz and Sheriff Stacy Hall.

In addition to the many exhibits and activities, there will be a midway filled with rides and amusements. The ferris wheel, merry-go-round and other happy rides crowned with bright lights will add glamour to the fair.

Junior Fair Auction Has Top Animals

Some of the finest livestock that finds its way to the Franklin County Fair will be offered at public auction Friday, Aug. 21.

The Junior Fair Livestock Auction, open to any 4-H or FFA exhibitor, annually offers prize winning animals to anyone willing to bid the top price.

An idea of Canal Winchester's Clyde Herron several years ago, the Junior Fair Livestock Auction has grown by bounding strides over the past two years with more and more top quality livestock being consigned for sale.

Youngsters are finding that buyers and other people looking for good meat animals are likely to pay a top price at the fair auction and are becoming increasingly more eager to offer their animals for sale.

The auction is under the direction of a committee of 10 adults and four junior members selected by parents, advisors and members of the 4-H and FFA Clubs in Franklin County.

All persons consigning stock to the sale receive every cent of the bid price except one percent which is retained to defray costs.

All animals will be market graded before the sale. Steers will be sold individually. Hogs and sheep will be sold in groups at the discretion of the sale committee.

READY FOR SHOW

ROSES OF SHARON—Whether or not she will enter the Rose of Sharon in the Franklin County Flower Show has not been decided yet by Mrs. Robert Brush, of 125 S. Columbia st, Hilliard. Her husband is president of the local Garden Club. Theme of the County Fair event this year is "Our Favorite Pastime." Ten prizes, ranging from $5 to $20 will be awarded. All entries must be placed in position by 11 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 19.

Saturday Matinee Feature Of Fair Harness Race Bill

Blessed with one of the finest racing ovals in the nation, the Franklin County Fair raceway is kept in top condition by the Hilliard Raceway which holds an annual meeting on the site.

Purses for the four-day program, with eight races each day of the fair, total $15,000.

All the features of a modern raceway will be utilized during the fair. This will include the mobile starting gate, photo finish and pari-mutuel wagering.

Four of the top paying races are part of the state-subsidized Home Talent Stakes. Each of the four races offer a $1,200 purse and will be contested on the first two days of the fair.

With the exception of Saturday's special matinee program, all races will be under the lights with reserved seats on sale in the grandstand.

Besides the Home Talent races, there is a 17 pace and trot, 22 pace and trot, 19 pace and trot, 25 pace and trot, FFA pace and trot and a special pace and trot for non-winners in 1959.

Members of the speed committee for the Franklin County Fair are Robert Reece, co-chairman, H. F. Cunningham, co-chairman; Waldo Walker, George Hoeflinger, and Dave Wetterman, secretary.

Two top cattle shows will be held during the Franklin County Fair. They are the Jersey District Show and the South Central District Guernsey Show.

Rodeo Auto Thrill Show Added To Feature List

Franklin County's Annual Fair unfolds Aug. 19 for four big days of activities and fun at the fairgrounds located at Hilliard.

Promising to surpass peaks of entertainment and education of former years, this summer's event actually gets underway a day earlier with a Western Rodeo in front of the grandstand Tuesday night, Aug. 18.

Still maintaining the good old country atmosphere blended with the industrial influx, the fair will bring together thousands of Franklin Countians out to learn something and having a lot of fun doing it.

Three special days are on the program with Thursday designated "Franklin County Fair Day," Friday set aside for "Farm Machinery Day," and the traditional Saturday "Youth Day."

Included as always on the bill are four harness racing programs with all but Saturday afternoon's races slated under the lights. The Franklin County oval is regarded as one of the best fair tracks in the nation, used by the Hilliard Raceway each year for harness racing meets.

Replacing the races Saturday evening will be the Parisian Hell Drives, the original imported car thrill show. Thirteen 1959 Simca cars will be used by the daredevils, marking the first time that these little foreign cars will be seen in dangerous stunts in this area.

The fair is always the high point of the year for hundreds of Franklin County 4-H members who bring their projects for grading with hopes of continuing to the Ohio State Fair.

Directing activities of the Franklin County Agricultural Society is Ray Dellinger, Brown Township farmer, serving his first term as the organization's president.

Co-ordinating activities will be Fair Secretary Findley DeWolfe. Last year's president A. E. Bagen is the society's vice president, while Zell Kamp is treasurer.

Anyone Can Become Fair Society Member

Any resident of Franklin County over 21-years-of-age may become a part of the Franklin County Fair by purchasing a three dollar membership ticket.

The ticket gives the holder a right to vote at the annual election of members to the Franklin County Agricultural Society's 21-member Board of Directors.

The membership card also allows the bearer free access to the grounds during the fair and makes him eligible to seek election to the board of directors.

A new plan to elect members of the Franklin County Fair Board will go into effect at this year's fair.

Instead of waiting until November, members of the agricultural society will cast ballots at the fairgrounds on Friday of the fair. Voting booths will be open in the secretary's office from 4 to 8 p.m.

Members may declare their candidacy for board positions by filing a petition containing 10 or more signatures with the secretary seven days before the election. Those holding membership tickets prior to 12 noon on the election day will be eligible to vote.

Terms of seven of the directors expire this year. They are Bailey Bradley, Brown Twp.; Robert Reece, Norwich Township; E. O. Clime, Franklin Township; Robert King, Norwich Township; Charles High, Norwich Township; Jean Dill, Hamilton Township; and Art Price, Norwich Township.

Membership tickets are on sale now and may be obtained by calling the fair secretary at TR. 6-7235. They will also be on sale at the gate during the fair.

Proceeds from the auction is used to help children of West Franklin County in numerous ways in which assistance is required. New and used articles of merchandise, products of the farm and groceries, contributed by merchants and others of the area, are auctioned to the highest bidder.

Members of the West Franklin Kiwanis Club will also serve as gatemen at the Franklin County Fair Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of next week.

BUFFALO BOSS—Rancher J. B. Anderson checks over the condition of "Pawnee," a 1-ton bison and pride of the 12-head herd at the Kiousville pastures. According to Anderson, and contrary to the public image of the animals, the buffalo is an easy animal to deal with. The buffalo boss had the livestock freighted in from Oklahoma.

'GOTTA KEEP 'EM HAPPY'

Buffalo Find Home On Ohio Range At Kiousville Rancher's Grass Lands

By John Poeppelmeyer

Oklahoma buffalo are finding a home on the range at the Kiousville ranch of J. B. Anderson.

The gruff-talking, likeable Anderson rides herd, in a station-wagon, on a herd of 12 head of the critters.

"Main thing you gotta do is keep them happy," the Ohio cattle rancher observed. "They are really tame animals."

So tame, in fact, that Anderson drives his station-wagon over the open grasslands, hops out to pet and talk to the shaggy beasts.

When one views a buffalo from up close, they actually appear docile, much like a shaggy dog with an enlarged face.

Biggest buffalo on the lot is "Pawnee," a one-ton, five and a half feet high, animal, easily the favorite of the rancher.

Anderson began the herd eight years ago by bringing the magnificent animals back from Oklahoma. He says that they are sold for breeding purposes and barbecuing.

He states that they are easy to handle, but rough to doctor, especially in a pen. "Out in the open pastures, though, they are no trouble at all."

The Anderson ranch is comprised of some 800 acres, according to the owner. He states that he is basically a cattle rancher and owns about 250 head.

Over the past 20 odd years, Anderson has worked in and out of Texas and claims that, in his opinion, it is the greatest country in the world.

Range riders still cover the prairie in the southwestern state, he claims, on the look-out for cattle rustlers.

"The law enforcement boys don't mess around much with cattle thieves down there. Rustlers get thrown into jail mighty fast," he pointed out.

Anderson belongs to the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

He did admit that at times his buffalo do get out of their area and wander around the back yard of the house. "Seems they just kind of like it here," he smiled.

FRANKLIN COUNTY FAIR AT HILLIARD NEXT WEEK PROMISES TO INCLUDE SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

WELCOME ALL—A welcoming committee of two Fair ladies display a huge sign announcing the opening of the Franklin County Fair at Hilliard next week. Mrs. Charles Spring, left, and Mrs. Darrell Armstrong are both members of the Fair office staff.

SMILE PADNUH—Pigs and kids should be in abundance at the fair next week. Duane Hershiser, Groveport 4-H Club member, holds aloft one of his prize baby beauties.

SHEEP IN HOCK—Giving a final once over to the top ram on their pastures are, left to right, Jack and John Shenkwiler, of Dublin. Both boys aided in preparing the animal for the Franklin County Fair slated to get underway next week at Hilliard.

Guardsmen Shoot 1000 Pictures

GUARDSMEN SHARPEN SKILLS

A seven man team of Ohio National Guard photographers from Greater Columbus has been responsible during the past two weeks for over 1000 individual pictures released to newspapers and television stations all over Ohio.

For two weeks during the Guard's annual summer camp at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., the Photo Section, 37th Signal Company, 37th Infantry Division, has kept the folks at home informed, picture wise, with the goings on of local products from all over the state.

The Photo Section and the seven man team of photographers are, naturally, one-and-the-same, and consists of four still photographers, one motion picture cameraman, and two laboratory technicians.

Headed by Sfc. Raymond Hunter, 905 E. 12th-av, the seven have taken over 1200 feet of motion picture film and have made more than 4,000 negative enlargements besides taking nearly 1,000 pictures.

Still photographers in the section, Sp-5 Thomas Maxwell, 1467 N. Fourth-st; Pfc. Richard Pavlik, 3137 Westerville-rd; Pfc. Robert Bordner, 754 Franklin-av; and Sp-4 Charles Harrison, 2539 Swansea-rd.

All pictures taken by this quartet are processed and printed by laboratory specialists Sp-4 Jerry Kaltenbach, 5801 Hayden Run-rd, of suburban Hilliard; Pfc. Keith Repp, 384 Lawrence-av, New Rome. Sectional Leader Hunter doubles on the Speed Graphic, official army camera, and the 16 mm movie camera.

For every individual picture taken, Kaltenbach and Repp must make four prints. Three go to the Division Public Information Office for distribution to home town papers, with the remaining print kept for the Guard's permanent picture file.

The group, only one of its kind in the 37th Division, must carry .45 caliber automatics, and wear steel helmets, full field pack and all other combat equipment.

Upon their return home Sunday, all seven will again resume their place in Greater Columbus' civilian society.

Hunter, only member of the section employed by the Guard on a full time basis, will resume his position as 37th Division Photo Technician at Ft. Hayes.

Maxwell is a fire inspector with the Columbus Fire Department, Kaltenbach is a state examiner associated with the office of James A. Rhodes, state auditor; Bordner is with the advertising department of the Columbus Dispatch, and Repp is an Ohio Bell Telephone outside representative.

Pavlik is associated as an editor for the Hartley Printing and Publishing Company, and Harrison is associated with Harrison's Restaurant.

Four ingredients of a successful election campaign organization are "morale, men, means and management." So said President Eisenhower recently at a testimonial dinner for GOP members of Congress.

AT COUNTY FAIR

Youngsters To Compete For Honors

Competition in the multitude of judging contests at the Franklin County Fair next week is expected to be a wide-open affair.

Members of the 4-H Clubs and FFA groups will vie for honors as part of the Junior Fair program.

Women's work competition will be open in 14 different categories, ranging from canning to ceramics.

A Best of Show Yeast Baking Award will be claimed by the homemaker showing the best results in the home baked breads and rolls division.

Cattle Displayed

In addition, two top cattle show will be seen with the exhibition of the Jersey District Show and the South Central District Guernsey Show.

Entries in the swine, cattle and sheep divisions are expected to march off with most of the trophies. But poultry men will walk off with their share of the honors too.

The Franklin County Junior Livestock Sale will be held in connection with fair activities Friday, Aug. 22 at 6:30 p.m. Some 80 steer, 100 lambs and 70 barrows from production of 4-H and FFA projects in Franklin County in 1959 will be on display.

Youngsters Take Over

Saturday is traditionally Junior Fair Day. A tractor rodeo will be presented by area 4-H members. The FFA safe-driving contest is also a highlight.

Topping off their "Day," youngsters will engage in the Junior Fair Frolics, a float parade and a march of livestock.

Also scheduled during the four-day events are home demonstrations, dairy showmanship, safety speaking contest, farm machinery displays, clothing judging anad a livestock auction.

All in all, there's something for everyone at the Franklin County Fair.

Vegetation Control Makes Fishing Easier

Vegetation control makes it easier to fish at the Mt. Gilead State Lakes in Morrow County the Division of Wildlife reports.

Largemouth bass and bullheads, however, are not rising to the bait. Good populations of both have been reported.

Big Bluegills are showing up in the catch, according to district supervisor Darrell Allison.

QUEENS TO FOLLOW OLYMPIC TORCH

OH, FOR THE GOOD OLD DAYS!?

If you are one that has memories of the "good old days" you will be interested in the following item we are reprinting from the Shelby (Mo.) Sun:

Life may begin at 40.

If you are "some" past that mark you may remember—

When a small town could support two blacksmith shops.

Air conditioning in the bathroom was two small half moons in the little house at the end of the path.

It took six flat irons to do the family washing.

Dad brought milk home from the neighbors in an open bucket.

When "shorts" was something you fed a hog and not a covering for your posterior.

When you had to wind the Victrola after each record was played.

The name of the piano player that used to beat the "ivories" at the Hoot Gibson shows.

When Mamma stood bent over the washing board from 6 a.m. 'til noon each Monday.

When you were given a half-teaspoon of kerosene with sugar to knock a cold.

When you ran two miles to watch an airplane make a landing in a farmer's corn field.

When President Hoover started the first government give-away by giving flour and commodities to the needy.

When the gals wore spit curls and black bloomers.

When the Sears Roebuck catalog served a dual purpose.

When the grocer gave you kids a big sack of candy every time dad paid the bill.

When the baby diaper was always a three-corned affair.

Sleeping three in a bed and next morning arguing which one produced the wet spot.

When Happy Hooligan was your favorite comic strip.

When an old nag meant the farm plough horse.

When you had to crank the Model T and hold the choke at the same time—and when changing tires meant that—not just changing wheels.

When the school principal could and did "whop" the behinds on misbehaved kids—and still keep his job.

When a farmer could grow any crop of his choosing (and got whatever he could for it).

Remember? Those were the good ol' days!

25% of Voters Undecided

Poll Shows That Many Are Now Confused

By Bill Rush

As the Hartley Newspapers public opinion poll moved into the third week one thing seems certain . . . there are a lot of people in the city who have definitely not made up their minds about the election for mayor of Columbus comes Nov. 3.

A state of confusion and a genuine interest in "waiting to see what may develop" continues to be encountered by the poll takers as the poll this week extended to 20 of the 33 wards in the city.

Percentage remained very nearly the same as last week with a slight decline in the number of undecided voters, a resulting slight gain for both Mayor Sensenbrenner and Westlake.

The vote at this point now stands as follows:

Westlake	44.5%
Sensenbrenner	30 %
Undecided	25.5%

Persons interviewed in the above figures gave their party affiliation as follows:

Republicans	32.5%
Democrats	38.5%
Independent	29 %

Asked why they favor one or the other candidates the figures reveal that those voting for Sensenbrenner say:

Don't like Westlake	00.0%
Like Sensenbrenner's record best	76.6%
Other reasons	23.4%

Those supporting Westlake do so for these reasons:

Don't like Sensenbrenner	50.1%
Like Westlake's record best	14.5%
Time for a change	16 %
Other reasons	19.4%

Numerous persons who have been willing to talk about the poll have been high in their praise of the present city administration under Sensenbrenner. Of those who say they will vote against him few are willing to comment on any reason other than they just don't like him. The mayor continues to get most of his support from people who do like his record while a much smaller number say they prefer Westlake because of his record in city government.

The figures to date show that of those people who voted for Sensenbrenner in the last election 63.4% say they will definitely vote for him again. The mayor may be able to count on a good portion of the other 36.6% because about half of them say they aren't sure at this time.

The Sensenbrenner losses since the last election stack up like this:

Undecided	50 %
Don't like Sensenbrenner	14.2%
Time for a change	14.2%
Like Westlake's record	3 %
Other	9 %

Summing it up — While the vote favors Westlake there is every evidence that those who haven't committed themselves hold the answer to the election. Over one fourth of the voters appear to put a label of "politics" on a lot of things that are being thrown out for campaign consumption. It appears that these 25% are really looking for something on which to base their vote. What either candidate does in the next few weeks to remove some doubt will probably have a lot of influence on the outcome of the campaign. It is evident that neither candidate can become over confident.

Suburban Hotel Plans Expanded; Becomes Part Of National Chain

Nationwide Inn, to be opened at Lincoln Village in early 1960, will be operated by the Pick Hotels Corporation of Chicago, Ill., and already has been tagged "the largest suburban hotel in the Midwest."

Disclosure of the leasing of the inn to the Pick organization was made jointly today by Albert Pick, Jr., the firm's president, and Murray D. Lincoln, president of the Nationwide Development Co., builders of the facility.

It was also announced that the inn, now under construction at the southwest corner of W. Broad-st and Georgesville-rd, in Lincoln Village, South, will include 100 more rooms than originally planned. This raises the figure to 252 rooms.

Need Is Cited

A need for more business meeting and convention accommodations in the Columbus area, as well as increasing tourist trade, were given as the reasons for the expanded plan.

Link In Chain

Nationwide Inn will become a part of a chain encompassing 21 hotels and 13 motels across the nation, officials stated.

The completed installation will be fully air-conditioned and will contain a television set in every room, according to the announcement.

Exteriors will be Early American as seen elsewhere in Lincoln Village.

SUBURBAN SPA — Model of Nationwide Inn, being built at Georgesville-rd and W. Broad-st.

Some 200 employes will be required to operate the one and two story brick facility.

A spacious restaurant with meeting rooms will be able to accommodate 600 people, according to plans. A 500-seat convention hall will provide facilities for all meetings, including merchandise fairs.

A heated swimming pool, a circular wading pool for youngsters, and a kiddie play area will be available. A picnic and barbecue section will be provided.

Consider Winter

Officials are considering including a winter sports area that will include an ice skating rink.

Many guest rooms will include balconies overlooking a recreation area that includes a nine-hole "putting-type" golf course and shuffleboard courts.

There will be parking for 500 cars.

Gamble, Pownall and Gilroy, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., designed the inn. General contractors are Robert W. Setterlin and Sons, of Columbus.

Sm-o-o-other Broad-st Promised After 30 Days

Motorists on busy W. Broad-st will have to dodge barricades by day and flares by night for the next 30 days—but after that their drive will be sheer pleasure.

That is the word from City Engineer Robert Werner regarding the complete repaving of a three-mile stretch from Broad-st bridge west to Wheatland-av.

Contractors' crews began their cutouts late last week.

Traffic will be maintained with caution as the asphaltic mix is applied in 12-foot lanes. Posing a major task is the raising of 200 castings (connections to underground utilities) along the way. This must be done because the street is to be leveled three inches higher.

Clearances at three railroad overheads will be maintained, however. Werner said the contractor is removing all existing asphalt at those spots to make this possible. City crews are removing the abandoned rails and the accompanying "bump" at the base of Broad-st hill. Some humps in curb lanes will not disappear completely because of catch basins, Werner said.

The Max Zeller Co. has elected to do its share of the $150,000 job in two sections, completing the part east of Central-av first. Costs of the project are shared equally by the city and state.

New Gladden Man Product Of Harvard

Richard T. Cass

Final addition to the new professional staff at Gladden Community House was announced this week.

Richard T. Cass, Boston, who at 24, holds a degree from Harvard University and has a background as a naval officer, will begin work here next Monday.

Cass, as boys' group worker, will handle programming of all male activities at the West Side settlement, according to Al M. Wilder, director.

Married and the father of a 10-month-old son, the new staffer was educated at Mt. Hermon school, and received a Bachelor of Arts degree in social relations from Harvard University. For two years he worked part-time at Cambridge

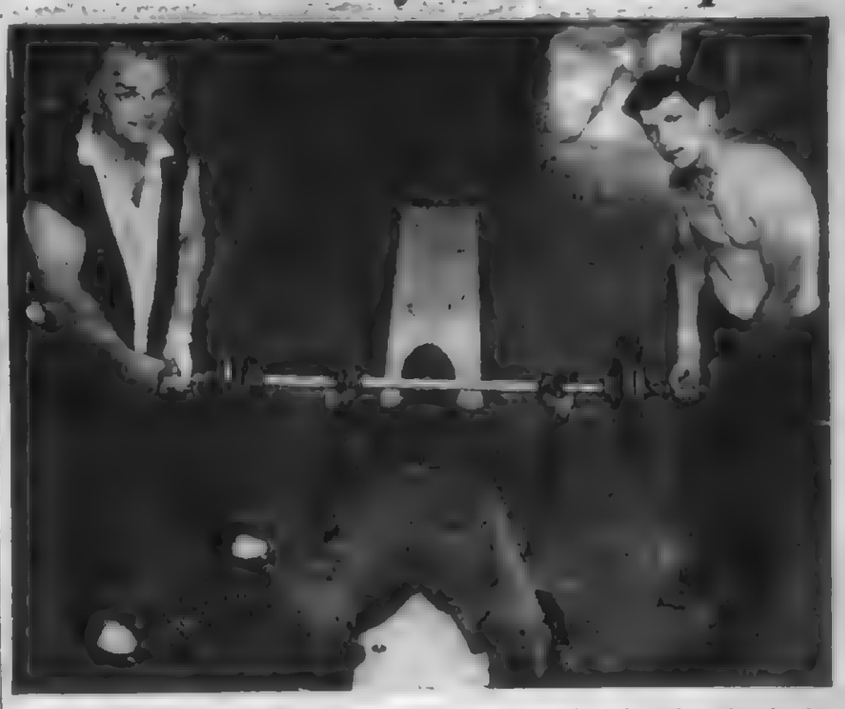
Three Firemen Are Promoted



Promotions of three Columbus firemen, two of them from the Hilltop, were announced Tuesday by Safety Director Leo L. Phillips.

William H. Boyer, 525 Clarendon-av, has been promoted to battalion fire chief, succeeding John Jordan, who resigned recently after 23 years' service.

Clarence F. Martin, Grove City, has been named captain and Herbert F. Barrett, 175 Binns-blvd, lieutenant.

Forty-four new firemen will be appointed Sept. 1, bringing the department total to its 500 limit.

Young Folks Find Judge Draper Wears Robe Of Friendship

WEIGHT LIFTERS—Judge Robert Draper, believing that "When boys improve their bodies, their minds and spirits follow," instructs a class in weight-lifting each week at Sullivant Gardens. An avid physical culturist himself, Judge Draper finds time to teach and encourage young people to help themselves by developing their bodies, minds and talents. With an assist from Paul Dewey, right, he demonstrates to Donald Mitchell the safe way to lift a weight.

By Betty Daft

"It isn't possible to teach or preach idealism without practicing its principles." Judge Robert M. Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av, fills his hours off the bench with application of his philosophy.

By giving generously of his time and talents to young people, he has helped countless ones find their way out of entangling webs of circumstances.

And the youngsters in turn, recognizing his council, guidance and interest in their welfare as genuine, have made him their friend and confidante.

He has symbolized "the law" as a trusted friend, rather than a frightening, robed orge behind an imposing bench to hundreds of youngsters.

"The Judge," means a sympathetic listener and helpful counselor to Explorer Scouts in the Sullivant Gardens post, students in his weight-lifting class there, and members of the Sunday School class he teaches at the Presbyterian Mission on Main-st.

And in return, he reaps a rich dividend of frendships for the efforts he sows in their behalf.

Time Is 'Plentiful'

"Time? There is always plenty of time," he insists. "Anyone can find the time if he just clears his mind of the unimportant.

"There is always an hour to go hunting with a boy or take him ice skating, teach kids a skill, or find a job for a young girl who badly wants to become a nurse."

Hoping to interest others in helping, the common pleas judge points to such an urgent need as the inadequate recreational facilities at Sullivant Gardens.

West Side Kiwanis Club has recently offered some support to the program at Sullivant.

"There are 1000 youngsters living in the project. Cut off as they are, by Mound-st and industry, the cloverleaf, farm lands and the cemetery, they are virtually dependent on the program offered there for all their leisure time activities."

STRIKE EXCEEDS MONTH

Steel Users Watching Inventories

West side industries, while not yet pulled down by the month-old steel strike, are nevertheless keeping an anxious eye on their stockpiles.

Some agree that another 30 days under these conditions could spell trouble . . . even layoffs.

Typical is the J. T. Edwards Co., 1241 McKinley-av, fabricator of bridges and buildings.

"We are only accepting orders now for delivery after the strike is over," said Edwards. "We have enough stock to go for two or three months, but already we are short of some items, particularly larger beams." Employing 95 workers, Edwards said he doesn't anticipate any layoffs in the next 30 days.

Foreign Steel Tempting

Edwards admitted that foreign steel can be purchased at Cleveland at less than the home-made product, "but we're not going into it unless absolutely forced. It's only proper that we think of our country's welfare first," he said.

Rumblings of a strike as early as January caused many local small-scale steel users to build stockpiles. Typical are Capital Elevator, Mid-State Nut and Bolt Co., and several trailer manufacturers, who could hold out three or four months.

Janitrol Aircraft uses stainless steel mainly from two suppliers not on strike. However, some purchased items such as valves and springs may get scarce, even if production resumes tomorrow.

"Plants often run heavy stuff following a strike to build up tonnage, leaving small stock in scarce supply," said a South Side distributor.

"Managers at the Westinghouse Appliance plant said the strike has not touched them," and probably won't for considerable time."

Ternstedt, maker of moldings and door hardware for General Motors cars, is down this week for model changeovers. Its production may depend on possible slowdown of heavier auto components in other plants.

Republican mayoralty candidate W. Ralston Westlake, his family and his home, are featured with story and pictures on page 6 this week.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits—Cantaloupe, apples, grapes, peaches, plums.

Vegetables—Beets, green beans, kale, peppers, sweet corn, tomatoes.

Protein Foods—Chuck roast, pork loin, fryers, eggs, dairy products.

WISE BUYER CAN SAVE

A homemaker who is trying to make pennies count in food purchases will fill her grocery bag with many fresh fruits and vegetables during the rest of August. Supply, quality and prices are in her favor.

A vegetable often overlooked is squash. It's at peak of season, economical and nutritious. You can choose from Zucchini, summer straightneck, white scallop, acorn and many more. Choose the fresh tender ones, free from blemishes and fairly heavy for size. It's a quick cooker. Cook only until fork tender (10-12 minutes) in a small amount of water. It combines well with sharp grated cheese.

Tomatoes remain in heavy supply. The quality still varies as the shift is made from early to the late crop. With a little shopping patience you can find good ones to use fresh or in quantities to can. Time, too, to can or freeze green beans and corn if you still want more for winter use.

Potato prices have leveled off after last week's drop. It's likely you will pay a little more for potatoes in the weeks ahead.

Ohio peaches available this week include Fair Haven, Halehaven, South Haven and White Cumberland varieties. Elbertas are here from other states.

Summer apples are more colorful now. You'll find such varieties as Duchess, Early McIntosh, Wealthy, Carmen and Rambo on fruit counters this week. Quality is excellent and prices lowered. These apples make delicious pies and sauce.

Cantaloupe from local sources are beginning to appear and prices will be lower as volume increases. Local farmers say the peak of cantaloupe harvest will come during the week of Aug. 17.

Pork Good Buy—More and more pork is being marketed and prices are reasonable. Note pork bargains on shoulder steaks and roasts, and some stores will feature that popular whole pork loin—ideal for chops or roasts.

Chuck roasts and chuck steaks of beef continue to be specialed as summertime puts biggest demand on the popular cuts that require less cooking. Variety meats give much in food value at low cost.

Eggs—The supply of small eggs is increasing weekly as young birds begin to lay. When available, the small size should be the better egg value. If large eggs are more than 18 cents higher than small sized eggs, the smaller size is the better value.

MORE PENNY SAVERS

In shopping for canned and frozen foods, a little background on supplies will help you make thrifty choices. Frozen vegetables in heaviest supply include spinach, broccoli, French fried potatoes, green beans, cauliflower and asparagus. With the 1959 packing season at hand, watch for "specials" on both frozen and canned items.

State Auditor Relates Highway 40 History

U. S. Route 40, referred to by many as Main Street, the United States, follows the same basic geographic path it did 150 years ago, according to Auditor of State, James A. Rhodes.

The National Road today spans the U.S.A. from Washington, D. C., to Oakland, Calif. It is a part of a system of highways that started in the mind of Albert Gallatin, U. S. Secretary of the Treasury at the start of the 19th century, Rhodes said.

This goes back to the period just before Ohio was admitted to the union as the 17th state.

Just A Youngster

Gallatin was a youngster in his teens when he came to this country from France. It wasn't long after his arrival before he decided he wanted a career in public life. Prior to serving in the cabinet of President Thomas Jefferson, he was a member of the U. S. Congress.

The European born Secretary of the Treasury suggested that one-tenth of the net proceeds of the sale of Ohio lands be set aside for the construction of the National Road.

Under the proposed plan it was stated that the road was "to run from the Atlantic Coast across Ohio and as western territory opened, it would be the duty of respective states to carry on the road."

Congress in 1802 reduced the reservation for highway construction to one-twentieth of the net proceeds from the sale of lands, Rhodes pointed out.

There were delays of one sort or another from time to time as the road threaded its way west, he said. "President Jefferson unsnarled some of the red tape in 1806 when he signed a bill that appropriated $30,000 for the preliminary survey."

With federal funds available, Rhodes commented, construction soon got underway. "But there were many obstacles and stoppages in the work of opening the Northwest Territory to settlers."

The War of 1812 brought construction to a near standstill, according to the auditor. By 1816, work again was under full steam.

The public was taking such an interest in the project that by the time the road reached Wheeling, W. Va., in 1820, Congress made another appropriation for a new survey which would carry the road on to St. Louis, he said. A specification under the new act called for a "straight line" 80 feet wide.

Public sentiment for expansion of the nation's highways ran high, Rhodes stated. "But it lagged with the coming of the railroad and the canal system. Interest wasn't revived until the advent of the motor age."

WESTGATE-AV SEGMENT GETS PAVEMENT, SIDEWALKS

SOLVES KNOTTY PROBLEM—Motorists, school children and even homeowners stand to benefit from new improvements in the long two-block area north of Westgate school. The city hired the Condy Co. to install gutters and first permanent pavement between Wicklow-rd and Palmetto-st, and build a sidewalk for the school. This was the cue to eight homeowners who have contracted privately and are building a sidewalk along the west side of the street. Similar action on the east side is doubtful at this time, although Lloyd Brown, 3102 Fremont-st, said he may build walks on his property.

THIS IS TIGHT MONEY

Recalling political hysterics of a short while back, it is well to take a look at some current figures from the Commerce Department:

—Personal income in the U. S. A. soared to record sums in April — $3.2 billion above the month before.

—Most of the increase — $2.7 billion — was in wages and salaries largely because jobs increased by more than a million. There were 65 million at work.

—Total personal income for 1958 was $354.4 billion. The estimate for this year is $374 billion. At the present rate of increase, it will be considerably larger than that.

—These are hard dollar increases since the cost of living index has held stable now for nearly a year.

The generally favorable trend has dampened political ardor for "recession busting" measures which would spend more billions, just to get the money in circulation, and thus would cause more deficits and more inflation.

We are witnessing an example of the strong recuperative powers of the free American economy, when given a chance free of additional government interference.

A principal reason for the upward trend in jobs and business is the relative stability of prices, inspiring new confidence in the future. The continuing fight against inflation is the thing to watch. Upon its success largely depends the prosperity of the country.

BIBLE COMMENT:

Being Christian More Than Just Church Member

A generation or so ago one often used to hear a distinction made between churchianity and Christianity. It is a distinction that one seldom, if ever, hears made today.

The reason is probably that churches in general have approached more nearly to the Christian ideal. Sects and sectionalism are less emphasized.

In the wide range of Protestantism the so-called "ecumenical' movement, effective in the organization of National and World Councils, has done much to ease, or obliterate, harsh boundary lines in emphasizing a common source and elements of a common faith.

Denominational labels are less significant. Methodists, Presbyterians, Congregationalists, Anglican and Episcopalians are emphasizing to the world that they are Christians first of all.

That is as it ought to be. But there is still a need of a distinction between churchianity and Christianity. In the wide range of religious movements one may observe a tendency for movements to become much diverted from the principles and convictions with which they began.

Churches need testing against the basic essential truths that they profess. There is a real sense in which churchianity may not be Christianity; and there is a possible actual discrepancy in the fact that church membership is not always the accompaniment, or evidence, of Christian life and character.

Individuals, as well as churches, need to check themselves against the life and teaching of the Master.

For maximum durability and service, select a knife of good quality. The blade should be made of a material that will hold a sharp edge and not discolor. Plain high-carbon steel will not stain or rust, but it does not hold a good cutting edge.

First major league baseball team to use airplane transportation was the Boston Red Sox. Its members flew from St. Louis to Chicago on July 30, 1936.

State Fair Lines Up Top Displays

Fireworks, exhibits, horse shows and style displays will all beckon fair-goers to the Ohio State Fair.

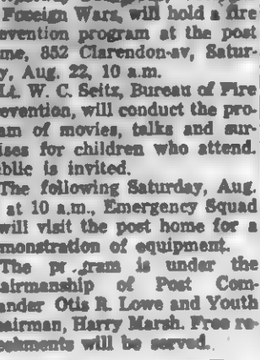
Racing fans will have five days of harness racing the afternoons of Aug. 29, 31 and Sept. 1, 2 and 3.



The Ohio State Fair horse show is scheduled to be conducted every day. An old-fashioned horse show featuring draft horse hitch classes will take place the evening of Aug. 29.

General Motors' international style show, featuring creations of ten designers, is a special feature line up for ladies.

The Cochran Majorettes, a squad of 70 young ladies, ranging in ages from eight to 16, will stage a precision show as part of the grandstand attraction.

Candidate's Home Is Heart Of Business, Political Careers

BRAINS AND BRAWN — It takes artistic skill to trace the intricate etched patterns, back-breaking work to fire the glass and a lot of know-how through every step, to produce ruby glass. Westlake is shown loading a tray of pieces into the kiln.

WESTLAKES AT HOME—W. Ralston Westlake, president of city council and Republican candidate for mayor, poses with his wife and daughter, Marilyn, in the family living room. Their dachshund, Heidi, joins the group.

COUNCILMAN AT WORK—Preparations for Monday night council sessions and all the other paper work included in council president's duties, are carried out in Westlake's bedroom. The downstairs room will soon be converted into a study.

By Betty Daft
Photos by Brown

Life at the home of W. Ralston Westlake, Republican candidate for mayor, has as many facets as the pattern in his ruby glassware . . . family living is fused as closely to business affairs as the glowing color to crystal.

Home is the heart of his business and political careers, as the base of operations for the glassware factory behind the house, motel next door, the conduct of council president's duties and his mayoralty campaign.

Everybody Helps

Each member of the family has a hand in every step of the glassware production from the time the blanks arrive from the factory until the ruby red pieces are sold at a state fair.

The motel is operated the same way with the bell signaling the arrival of a guest, answered by the person nearest the door.

And now, each has made the concession and adjustments needed to free Westlake's time for attention to council affairs and his campaign, and to make house-room for his office.

A downstairs bedroom, converted into an office with the addition of a card-table desk, typewriter and tape recorder, will soon be remodeled into a conventional study.

Member cooperation and concern with the family's economic welfare has welded them into a compact, united group, each concerned with the others' problems, all working for the common cause.

Active membership in St. John's Lutheran Church and interest in church affairs is a second strong, common bond.

Takes Wares to Fairs

Westlake, his wife, Helen, and daughter, Marilyn, left Aug. 12 for Illinois State Fair, to display and sell their glass products.

The family group, familiar figures at fairs throughout the country for many years, is reduced now by two. A daughter, Diane, is now Mrs. Fred Corcoran of 880 Wedgewood-dr. A son, Dave, is recently married and lives at 45 W. Ninth-av.

The number of fairs they visit is also sharply reduced. This year, because of Westlake's political duties, they will visit only the Illinois, Indiana and Ohio State Fairs.

The family cherishes the close contact they have with hundreds of families, regular fair visitors. Many visit their booth year after year to purchase the little red mugs, and have their newest babies' names engraved on them.

Westlake's father, the late Milton Westlake, councilman for 10 years and county commissioner for eight, also operated fair booths, selling the ruby ware.

He purchased the glassware from a Bohemian manufacturer and then engraved the pieces.

Young Ralston worked fairs with his father during the summer season while he was still in high school. Imperfections in the pieces and high cost of the ware decided him to search for the secret process.

Develops Secret Formula

He experimented for a year and a half, using his mother's oven and his father's garage as a laboratory and workshop. "I finally found the combination of chemicals that changes the glass to the glowing ruby-red," he said.

"The secret process involves many intricate steps, with room for error at every turn. Each piece, painted by hand with the chemical combination, is baked at intense, 1300 degree heat, cooled for a full day, washed separately in a chemical bath and then sealed again in ovens for fusing.

"To my knowledge, I am now the only man in the country able to produce genuine ruby glass."

Westlake explains that factories cannot turn out the ware economically enough to justify its production because, "Each step is a hand process; it doesn't lend itself to mass production.

"Much depends on experience with the work. The ovens have no temperature controls; I judge by the kiln's color when the heat has reached the needed point."

Follows Father's Footsteps

Fitting his footsteps closely into those of his father, Westlake has followed his lead in ruby glassware interest, as well as in the political picture.

Milton Westlake is still remembered 20 years after his death, for his record during 10 years as a councilman and eight as county commissioner.

Ralston Westlake is now serving his fourth year in city council. He was elected president of the group after the death of Wesley Llewelyn.

The Republican party endorsed him as candidate for mayor in January.

Discussing his decision to try for the office of Columbus' mayor, Westlake said. "Many people have asked me to run. Their mounting requests were matched by my increasing desire to do something about a number of situations."

CENTER OF OPERATIONS—Westlake's business operations of his ruby glass factory behind his home, and the motel next door, as well as his political duties are carried on from the Westlake home, 3294 W. Broad-st.

Volunteers Need Seven Items Most

Volunteers of America, national social welfare organization with local headquarters at 379 W. Broad-st lists the following seven items most needed to aid the needy of the community: 1. old newspapers, 2. magazines, 3. clothing, 4. shoes, especially men's, 5. lamps and appliances, 6. stoves and refrigerators, 7. furniture.

"Every day four or five families apply to our agency for furniture and clothing," said Lt. Col. Harriet McDonald, executive officer." You can help us to help others, as the efficient housewife goes through attic and closet, garage and cellar, she comes across many things that have been put away for another day. Old clothes, chairs, tables, beds, suits, dresses, children's clothes. Do you need these items? Are they a fire hazard? Do they collect dust?

She continued: "Why not get rid of these castoffs and accomplish two things; help your home become tidy and clean, and, at the same time, help the less fortunate of our community."

A call to CA. 4-5650 or CA. 4-5665 will bring a Volunteers of America driver.

The annual big All-Star game will be played at 2 this Sunday afternoon, Aug. 23, at the schoolground's Diamond No. 1. Each league champion will face a squad of the all-stars from the rest of the league. The minor loop contest will open proceedings up with a six-inning affair, followed by the majors' nine innings. INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

[illegible]—Record-Herald Hartley Wednesday, Aug. 19, 1959

As the Hartley Newspapers Fishing Derby goes into its final weeks, some nice fish are being entered.

To name a few: William Hughes, 3565 Roswell-dr, largemouth bass; John P. Devore, 383 S. Ohio-av, largemouth and walleye; Herb Kroninger, Rt. 1, Sunbury, largemouth and smallmouth bass; Kenney Geyes, Galloway, largemouth; Jim Schneider, 240 Maplewood, largemouth; Jim McComas, West Jefferson, smallmouth; Percy Harbage, West Jefferson, smallmouth.

Ed Murray, West Jefferson, catfish; Robert Wiley, 753 E. Mound-st, catfish; Bill Foelcher, 3154 Watkins-rd, catfish; Elmer Crabtree, 148 E. Welch-av, catfish; Merrill McKee, London, catfish; Don Partsch, 884 Col-to understand. Bass and walleyes get temperamental when the weather gets hot and sultry, but bluegills keep chompin' up the calories right on through the summer. Particularly during early morning and evening periods it is not hard to catch these scrappers on either red worms or small, floating artificials. Farm ponds are especially good places to try for bluegills right now.

A word to the wise should be sufficient! Some good bluegill entries might well take the top prizes in this category. Look for the list of official weighing stations elsewhere on this page.

O'Shaugnessy Fishing Drops

two weeks for the water level to climb back to normal.

Fishermen claim that the sudden drop of the water disrupted the fish, and bass fishing, at least, has been miserable the last few days. Phil McGinnis, 640 S. 18th-st, who was fishing O'Shaughnessy when part of the drop occurred, believes it will take some time before the fish will re-establish themselves in holes, rock crannies, etc. About the time fishing should be improving, the rising water will start the shift all over again.

Even though fishing is probably not up to par above the 200 these days, it is a good time to investigate the area to find the good fishing spots. Rock ledges will be exposed that are completely hidden in normal times. Brushpiles and stumps will also be visible. Making a rough sketch or map of these will enable you to find good fishing in the future.

Sizes of pans and cookie sheets must be such that hot air is allowed to circulate evenly on all sides. Pans that touch one another or the sides of the oven will cause uneven browning of the baked product.

glassware factory behind the house, motel next door, the conduct of council president's duties and his mayoralty campaign.

Everybody Helps

Each member of the family has a hand in every step of the glassware production from the time the blanks arrive from the factory until the ruby red pieces are sold at a state fair.

The motel is operated the same way with the bell signalling the arrival of a guest, answered by the person nearest the door.

And now, each has made the concession and adjustments needed to free Westlake's time for attention to council affairs and his campaign, and to make house-room for his office.

A downstairs bedroom, converted into an office with the addition of a card-table desk, typewriter and tape recorder, will soon be remodeled into a conventional study.

Member cooperation and concern with the family's economic welfare has welded them into a compact, united group, each concerned with the others' problems, all working for the common cause.

Active membership in St. John's Lutheran Church and interest in church affairs is a second strong, common bond.

economically enough to justify its production because, "Each step is a hand process; it doesn't lend itself to mass production.

"Much depends on experience with the work. The ovens have no temperature controls; I judge by the kiln's color when the heat has reached the needed point."

Follows Father's Footsteps

Fitting his footsteps closely into those of his father, Westlake has followed his lead in ruby glassware interest, as well as in the political picture.

Milton Westlake is still remembered 20 years after his death, for his record during 10 years as a councilman and eight as county commissioner.

Ralston Westlake is now serving his fourth year in city council. He was elected president of the group after the death of Wesley Llewelyn.

The Republican party endorsed him as candidate for mayor in January.

Discussing his decision to try for the office of Columbus' mayor, Westlake said. "Many people have asked me to run. Their mounting requests were matched by my increasing desire to do something about a number of situations."
